

6-6-2020

Walk for George Floyd protest in Salem, Oregon, June 6, 2020.

Max Laine
Western Oregon University, mlaine17@mail.wou.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.wou.edu/covidwou_stories

Recommended Citation

Laine, Max, "Walk for George Floyd protest in Salem, Oregon, June 6, 2020." (2020). Personal Stories. 5.
https://digitalcommons.wou.edu/covidwou_stories/5

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Documenting the COVID Experience at Western Oregon University at Digital Commons@WOU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Personal Stories by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@WOU. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@wou.edu, kundas@mail.wou.edu, bakersc@mail.wou.edu.

Walk for George Floyd protest in Salem, Oregon, June 6, 2020. Photographer Max Laine

Corporal Andrew Connolly watches as a protester holds a sign that says, “Dark Skin Is not a Crime.” At the Salem Capital Building June 6th, 2020.

Protester holds sign that says, “Am I Next?” June 6th, 2020.

Protesters listen to speeches being given at the capitol steps. June 6th, 2020.

Police officers Matt Gill and a fellow officer walk alongside protesters. June 6th, 2020.

A protester holds a sign up in front of the Salem Capital Building that reads “Black Lives Matter.” June 6th, 2020.

“Witches Against Trump.” June 6, 2020.