Dogpatch Dance Has Big Crowd

Dogpatchers came out with their "Sunday Best" on for the annual Sadie Hawkins' day dance Saturday night in Maple hall. Both young men and oldies, including Daisy Mae, Mammy, Lil Abner, and various other "out of this world" characters, danced and performed during this laughter-packed on fest.

The cutoffs shed their shoes, Julia Schauer, Jew- lly, Leslie and Georgia Thomas sang three separate songs tonight at eight o'clock. Miss Oaks comes from triumphs at the Second Na- tion in Oregon colleges, won many awards. She has sung the lead in Taumanna. Cavalleria rusticana is a drama of the "Three Isaacs," and gives Miss Oaks a very pleasing stage appearance.

Glade School Group Prepares Photo Project for Education Week Display

Thirty-eight grade pupils in the campus elementary school have a working knowledge of photographic techniques earned the hard way.

The whole group has been planning and working for the past three weeks on a large-scale hand-colored photographic display to greet parents visiting the school for Education Week. The exhibit, set up in the entrance of the school, span an area of about eight feet and is about that high. It consisted of three huge enlargements of sections of the school, artistically joined to give a perspective view of the building. A series of other en- larged prints are placed on a screen to form a background showing scien- tific scenic views which are the real background for the school in its natural setting.

Other photos, arranged on each side of the shots of the school, show a rough-tough playground football and soccer battle, and the school band.

The whole project was handled by the pupils themselves, under the direction of Willis Keithley, a practice teacher, and Everett Van- derpool, a famous bal- lioner of the "Three Isaacs," and gives Miss Oaks a very pleasing stage appearance.

Sophomores Plan Smoker

At a meeting Tuesday evening, November 8, the sophomores class voted to open a smoke smoker this term, the first such event held at OCE for several years. The event was asked to be opened as tentatives dates.

The promotion committee for this event consists of Art Spier,AspectRatio, George Priebe, and Georgia Priebe. They have asked the cooperation of all sophomores for ideas and planning in order to make the event a suc-

The committee's study will determine the degree to which the four colleges listed are meeting state standards for teacher education, curriculum, faculty and physical plant will be factors in the final decision.

Dr. Henry M. Gunn, president of OCE, and Mrs. Hofstetter, OCE secre- tary, are taking part in the evalua- tion of elementary teacher educa- tion in the four Oregon colleges this month. The group began its work at a meeting in Salem Wednesday, November 9.

Working with a special committee of the State Education department headed by Miss Helen J. Smith, state di- rector of teacher education and certifi­ cation, and Mrs. Isabell Mar, assistant superintendent of public instruc- tion, Dr. Gunn and Mrs. Hofstetter will interview faculty members at Lewis and Clark and beach, prior to the assembly's concert tonight at eight o'clock. Miss Oaks comes from triumphs at the Second Na- tion in Oregon colleges, won many awards. She has sung the lead in Taumanna. Cavalleria rusticana is a drama of the "Three Isaacs," and gives Miss Oaks a very pleasing stage appearance.

The assembly will be open to the public to present the program, as Miss Oaks played for Elmo Pinn last year at the Hood River muck festival. Miss Oaks' program will include selections by Brahms, Schubert, Ma- xart, Grieg and Tchaikovsky. The second half of the program will in- clude works of Halter, Charles, Hun- garian Presse, and Custumevo Tarabas.

The whole project was handled by the pupils themselves, under the direction of Willis Keithley, a practice teacher, and Everett Van-
School Gets New Audio-Visual Aids

The Audio Visual Department recently received some new equipment and films. This new purchase includes a 70 by 70 inch glass beaded screen, which is used for the Independence Day program. We also have a second screen for use here in Monmouth. One of the screens has been used to show the results of the Olympics. One slide screen which gives interesting and informative results. TYPING CLASS ADDED
Through petition by students on this campus we now have typing classes. Action on this issue was decided on last year after a joint student council meeting of the 1948-49 and the 1949-50 councils.

Mr. Forsberg Speaks Of Teacher Service
An appreciative audience of 50 students gathered around Mr. Simon Forsberg last Monday evening when he addressed the Inter-Faculty Christian fellowship, for the evening's message was "The Doing of Service." He pointed out that a teacher is primarily a servant, a servant who shall serve diligently and cheerfully. "Don't ever think your duty," he declared, "is 'for no one else can satisfactorily substitute for you.' He also mentioned the importance and value of cooperation and modesty. "To think too highly of yourself is a form of insolvency," he said. In closing, Mr. Forsberg emphasized the necessity of correct motivation in our service. Mr. Forsberg is a prominent Bible teacher in the Portland area. For several years he conducted Bible classes weekly in five different cities. He also organized the religious department of Salem Academy. His visit to the OCE campus was greatly appreciated by those who heard him.

Interesting Changes Made at Todd Hall

Some interesting changes have come about at Todd Hall as a result of the many remodeling activities. One of the most important changes is the new fire-resistant playground equipment that will connect all rooms from basement to third floor. The fire hazard of the former stairway will be greatly reduced since this new one is being constructed of metal and will have fire-doors in each landing.

Of interest to girls who like to take sunbaths is the door which will be put in on the landing between the second and third floor. Opening onto the sun porch, it will be a door from the stair-well into the sunroom, so girls may use the side doors or go to the music room without having to go down the front stairs.

So many remodeling activities have been under way in Todd Hall that many students will be surprised to see the changes. Big Gus, Oregon’s greatest defensive end, is one of the finest defensive ends in the country, and is one of the best on the coast. The Oregon line is one of the best on the coast, offensively and defensively, and the backs, led by Lee, are as good as you’ll find in the Pacific Northwest. Jack “Buck” Langille, is one of the greatest backs on the coast, and while he may not have the height of the All-American candidates, he is as good as you’ll find.

Says Al Lightner of Langille, “he’s just like a father to those boys out on the field. I get along with all of them, and they all respect and heed his advice on the field. Dick Decker is another biggie in the OCE backfield; he’s explosive, as the announcer in the radio booth at Ashland put it. When the burly Wolf forward wall breaks through the secondary, you can just about count on him being gone to pay dirt!”

Robin Lee would be the same guy if he were chosen overnight to an All-American team. He is usually quiet and conscientious, but he’s not hard to get along with. His rates as tops in our book and should be named All-American sooner, we’ll be the least surprised of Lee’s followers.

OCE Best in Years

Bill McAuliffe has whipped together one of the greatest teams in the country. He has brought five halfbacks off the coast, and the OCE is looking good. McAuliffe’s team is off to a great start, and he can count on his team being big boys this year.

Major Norm Hays, Oklahoma A & M, ‘40

-Aviation Executive, U. S. Air Force!

A native of Grove, Oklahoma, Norman Hays graduated from Grove High School in 1935. The following year he entered Oklahoma A&M, where he majored in engineering; also took public speaking.

Active in national 4-H Club work while in college, he helped organize its statewide activities, won a national 4-H championship in Public Speaking. In 1940 he received his BS degree in engineering.

A month later he began navigator training as an Aviation Cadet. In 1941, he received his navigator’s wings and a commission as Second Lieutenant... married his college sweetheart.

Typical of college graduates who have found their place in the U. S. Air Force, Major Hays is Chief, Navigation Section, at Headquarters in Washington, D. C., with a secure career... a promising future.
