Oh, all that we left of Eastern was their skin and bones,
And, all that we left of Southern was their cries and moans,
And, all that we left of O.T.I. was sadder yet,
Just an echo of a hoot in the air.

CHORUS
But tell me why do the foe-men
All shake and stare tonight?
And tell me why do the foe-men
Seem to gasp for air tonight?
For Holy Cow, How we vow
That we will not chew so hard!
And that we'll take them after game time
Back safe to their own back yard.

We are the fighting Wolves
Wherever we may be
Well do our best to sink the foe
And gain the Victory
Our team is strong! Our team is tough!
They'll win for O.C.E.

FIGHT!
O. C. E.

GROVE

Dr. Lieuallen installed by R. E. Kleinsorge.

President Lieuallen leaves the inauguration.

OREGON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION
Monmouth, Oregon
I believe in Oregon College of Education, the home of those who prepare our youth for tomorrow, the staff of enlightenment for our posterity, and the memorial to those who have helped us come thus far.

I believe in the traditions in her unwritten book of standards, in her close-knit band of brotherhood and her helping hand extended for the multitude that grasps for it. Her high ideals for scholastic ability and sportsmanship shall be an incentive and example to help make our world a better place in which to live.

I pledge my unwavering loyalty and devotion to her as does the tawny wolf that bears her name; I shall proclaim her to all as a symbol of protection for today, security for tomorrow, and a better world for all in the future.

It is the object of the administration and the student body to work together in a well coordinated manner. This fact was proven throughout the year and resulted in a well established Student Council.

The Student Council, has proven itself a necessity in our college. Through their efforts and constant improvements, OCE has progressed rapidly.

The traditional freshman week was observed October 5-7 this year. It was very successful because of the wonderful attendance at each function.

Registration was first on the agenda and it was a day of smiling faces. The picnic at Silver Creek Falls impressed the students of the outdoor life of college. Eating an outdoor lunch was well accepted and fun was had by all. Dancing in the gym was the best atmosphere for making new friends. Talents were revealed by the students at the talent show and laughs were plentiful. Initiation bewildered all freshmen but everyone was very cooperative. Kangaroo Kourt was very well presented and will never be forgotten by all who attended. The penalties were numerous and the acceptance of them had the audience laughing throughout the entire program.

Such a successful week made everyone realize that college traditions would never fade away. The freshmen eagerly awaited the beginning of classes and a start of their new way of life at OCE.
HOME COMING WEEK
OKIE STOMP

A highlight of the school year was the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance; the costumes seemed to appeal to everyone and the worst attire was worn.

It was very colorful and the acceptance of this traditional dance was shown by all. The environment blended to the music and it seemed as though everyone was captivated.

The annual award for the best dressed was won by Pat Lewis and Don Lumgair. Their intriguing costumes were an outstanding feature of a gala night.

The annual All-Campus Drive proved to be a great success this year. The Drive started with an assembly and the activities included a Penny Carnival, Pipe-Smoking contest, Whiskerino, and a very good dance.

"Tomorrow Land" was the theme of this year's Folk's Festival. The day started with registration in the Faculty Lounge. A luncheon for the parents was held in Todd Hall; following the Dad's and Mother's Clubs met for a short meeting.
In the afternoon the students presented a very entertaining talent show carrying out the theme, "Tomorrow Land". After a coffee hour in Maple Hall the parents saw various athletic events in the Physical Education Building. That evening the parents saw the OCE basketball team play EOCE; half time entertainment was a marching drill by the Wolvettes. The highlight of the after-game dance were the special dances for mothers and fathers, sons and mothers, and daughters and fathers. Music was supplied by the Pacific University Dance Band.

ANTIGONE

The Winter term play was "Antigone" by Sophocles. The part of Antigone was portrayed by Deanne Bauman and Creon by Darrel Lunda.

FOOTBALL

Under the guidance of John Chamberlain the fighting Wolves came through gallantly to finish in a three-way tie for the first place.

They played inspired ball and the "hustle" necessary to win games was shown throughout the entire season. The wolves never gave up until the final quarter was ended.

Coach John Chamberlain, has lost the services of Captain, Paul Riley, who will be sorely missed in the front wall. He proved himself a vital asset in the Wolves line-up.

The rest of the team will be returning again next year and they are surely not to be forgotten. Until football starts again, the players will never forget the motto of this past season: "There is no substitute for hard blocking and tackling."

RUNNER UP

The fighting wolves proved themselves a team that never quit until the game was ended. This great possession of spirit made them a dangerous foe.

Captain Daryl Girod, Larry Buss, Von Summers, Kelly Hoy, were valuable playmakers. A great share of the rebounding was handled by stalwarts Wayne Young, Doug Rogers, Doug Zitek, Dale Andrich, and "Pepper" Baker. Getting the vital points were Cecil Miller, Ron Jones, Gary Milton, and Barry Adams.

Coach Dr. Livingston, drilled his team in every phase of the game. Under his guidance the team played inspired ball. With the team remaining intact for next year, he looks forward to a great season.

OCE Participates in Monmouth Centennial

The Grand Sweepstakes Winner
Senior weekend was a gala event. Life in college was shown to the visiting high school seniors. Activities were numerous and well attended. The talent show drew a lot of laughs and the dance was a good place for making friends. The fashion show had many highlights. It was a swell weekend and the visiting seniors had a very good preview of our school.
