Your cooperation in effecting this evacuation necessitated by military reasons due to the conflict of the forces of both against those that know no law but that of Might has brought everyone in your community by those in Authority.

You, as well as those in other relocation centers, are placed in a peculiar position of having to make a community composed wholly of those of Japanese extraction. The situation is one of us who know of no alli- enance except to the USA, whereas we were born, and whereas we have been schooled in the principles of Democracy and the equality of men, the situation seems to bespeak of nothing but contradictions.

It gave a statement reportedly of a San Francisco nisei girl, who said the "Mission to be good Americans if only the white Americans would treat us as equals and allow us to do our part. But it is discouraging, after a college education, to be denied jobs in white concerns and forced to do manual labor. Sometimes we feel we are not wanted."

The following excerpts emanated from the messages and greetings of the speakers delivered at the formal inaugural ceremonies of the Tepoz Protestant Church, last Sunday.

REV. TAKIK: "All of God's children are united here in one great Church. All of us are united in cause of truth, love and brotherood. Grow spiritually, all of you, in faith and courage that we may not fail in the great mission of our lives, to live for Him."

LOUISE W. BELL: "This church has been made with considerable sacrifice, labor and toil. It is up to the young people here to initiate the fight to modernize and rebuild the city, for on their hands will rest the future progress and development of the church and Tepoz."

REV. TAKIKOTO: "We have a Protestant Church because we are fundamentally one in the living faith, we must be one in faith, in action and in service. We are not here to neglect ourselves, but to dedicate ourselves to our Master, Prince of Peace."
