OCE Summer Activities Program Promises Outstanding Speakers

This summer the OCE activities program is able to offer speakers of high-calibre for the summer session.

The first assembly of the summer will be on Tuesday, June 23, at 11:00 a.m., in Campbell Hall Auditorium. This assembly will be a welcome from the Director of Summer Session, Dr. Walter Snyder. Important services and people who will be of interest to the students and help to them too, will be introduced.

OCE Receives Funds Under Defense Act

Oregon College of Education received more than $20,000 for student loans under the new National Defense Act. The U.S. Office of Education, which distributes the loan money, has indicated that OCE may receive up to about $20,000 for loans next year.

Loans made during the past school year and to full-time students who are attending the current summer session have averaged less than the $1000 maximum allowed under the act.

Applicants are selected on the basis of financial need and ability.

Under terms of the defense act students are not required to begin repayment until after graduation. For those who teach in elementary or secondary public schools the government will cancel 10 percent of the loan and interest for each year of teaching up to five years.

The loan becomes in effect a half loan and half scholarship for persons who go into teaching.

Commuter Lunch Area Set Up Near Library

Tables will be placed under the trees in the area immediately east of the Library building this summer to serve as an eating place for commuters who bring their lunch.

Students or faculty who bring their lunches during the summer are invited to use the facilities.

students and help to them too, will be introduced.

This assembly will also feature Dr. Halvorsen, here on the campus from Berkeley, Calif., leading students in group singing.

Such well known and featured speakers as Dr. Harold Benjamin, author of the "Sabre-Toothed Curriculum" and Dr. Dreikurs, noted psychiatrist from Chicago and author of many books on counselling and psychology, are only two of the men who will be discussing various phases of education.

Dr. Lauwerys, from the University of London, England, will be here as a feature of the summer assembly program to speak on the comparison of the educational systems of England, USSR, Red China, and the United States. He says he will "draw upon my personal first hand knowledge."

Dr. Willard B. Spalding, Chairman of the Division of Education, at Portland State college, will discuss the problem of integration in the South. Dr. Spalding has done study and served on education committees in this area.

Most of the assemblies are scheduled for 11:00 a.m. on Tuesdays, in Campbell Hall, but due to conflict in schedule of some of the speakers, the day (not the hour) might have to be changed. However, these will be announced early enough so everyone will be able to attend.

The social calendar, shown elsewhere in this issue, will keep you posted on the highlights of the week for the summer. Assembly speakers will be noted on this calendar each week.

Named Representative

DEAN BROWN

Dean Brown of Amity will be student body representative during the 1959 summer session at OCE. His position entails taking over the duties of student government during the summer session and acting as coordinator between students and faculty.

Brown will be financial secretary of the Associated Students during the coming regular school year. He is a junior majoring in elementary education.

Campus Building Expected To Start During Summer

Summer session students will be in on the start of nearly $1,200,000 worth of building construction that is expected to get underway on the OCE campus this summer.

Contracts have been awarded for construction of a student center and dining commons and a heating plant and warehouse. The student center will be located across Church street from Todd hall and the heating plant and warehouse will be north of Maaske hall.

The two-story student center will include a lounge, committee rooms, administrative offices for student government, snack bar and leisure time room, student post office and offices for the yearbook and newspaper staffs.

The dining commons will provide eating facilities for all dormitory students except those residing in Maaske hall. It will have a capacity of 600 students.

The heating plant will be in a building 62' by 211'. The building will include space for storage, a carpenter shop, equipment repair facilities, a pipe shop and a paint room. The heating facilities will burn oil.

In conjunction with construction of the heating plant, new steam lines will be installed to the major campus buildings.

Ellis Stebbins, director of business affairs, said a major steam line will be installed on the west side of Monmouth avenue from a point near Maaske hall south to the Grove. This will involve digging a trench that will be as deep as nine feet.

Another major trench will be dug between the administration building and Campbell hall. A tunnel will be constructed be-

Welcome to OCE

DR. WALTER E. SNYDER

The summer session of 1959 opens at a time when OCE is alive with optimism and renewed energy. Never before has the campus presented such an attractive and prosperous appearance, thanks to the efforts of President Lieuallen and the members of the maintenance staff. The "face lifting" which has been done, and which will be carried on throughout the next year will continue to reflect the progress which is being made in all areas of the college program. There is a new spirit abroad at OCE.

We are proud to present to our summer session students not only an improved campus and an improved curriculum but also a distinguished staff including visiting lecturers of note from various sections of the United States. It is our hope that students will, through acquaintance with our regular staff and with these visitors from other campuses, sharpen their thinking and broaden their horizons. The social program for the summer as planned by Miss Kempston includes a wide variety of events among which each student should find something of interest and value.

We hope you will enter into your summer activities with zest and enthusiasm and that you find here the friendships and the intellectual stimulation that you seek. We welcome you to OCE!

OCE Health Service Open for Students

The Oregon College of Education health service will operate during the regular summer session for students registered during the eight-week session.

Miss Edith Olson, director of the health service, said any student is entitled to general medical attention and advice during regular office hours. The health service is located on the main floor of Campbell hall.

Miss Olson explained that the service is not available to members of the faculty or members of students' families.

A physician and a registered nurse are in charge of the service.

If students require hospital care for general medical attention they are entitled to hospitalization at a designated hospital under care of the college physician for a limited period of four days. After the four-day period the off-campus medical expenses are borne by the student.

Deadline Near for Vets

Oregon's World War II veterans have been warned that they must be enrolled in a course of training under the state veterans' educational benefits act by June 30 or lose their entitlement to the benefit forever.

Franklin G. Reynolds, educational officer for the Oregon Department of Veterans' Affairs, which administers the program, says these veterans must be enrolled and actually attending school on or before the June 30 deadline.

Veterans enrolled on that date, or who have previously used the state benefit and plan to resume their present courses of study now or at a later date, may continue under the program until their entitlement runs out or until they complete their educational objectives.

There is no deadline for Korean veterans to enter the program.

To qualify, the veteran must have been an Oregon resident for one year immediately prior to his World War II or Korean service, and he must be an Oregon resident when he applies for the benefit.

OCE Staff Members Get Promotions

Seven OCE staff members have received promotions in rank for the coming year, according to President Roy E. Lieuallen.

Three persons were advanced from instructor to assistant professor; two from assistant professor to associate professor; and two from associate to full professor.

Dr. Robert C. Livingston, director of athletics and head of the physical education department, was promoted to professor and Dr. Matthew R. Thompson was named professor of science.

Dr. Arthur Glogau, who has been acting director of student affairs the past year, was promoted to associate professor and named director of student affairs. He is also dean of men. Dr. Robert Mulder was promoted to associate professor of speech pathology.

Miss Helen Redbird and Mrs. May B. Lucas were advanced to assistant professors of education. Both are supervisors of teaching.

Alan R. Robb was named assistant professor of humanities.

OCE Housemothers Attend Workshop

Two Oregon College of Education housemothers are going to college this summer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Workman, Todd Hall housemother during regular session, and Mrs. Miriam Hughes, Arnold Arms housemother, are attending the conference scheduled at Oregon State college. This workshop is especially designed for housemothers and is put on by the personnel area at OSC.

Mrs. Workman will return at the end of the two-weeks session to take over her duties as housemother at Todd Hall for the rest of the summer session. Mrs. Hughes will vacation with relatives and friends until September.

Mrs. Workman will also be hostess for the regular all-college social tea hours scheduled for every Thursday in the Library Lounge from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m.

In Michigan there was this sign spotted on the back of a pickup: "Don't follow me, — I'm lost!"

Teacher Program Called Outstanding

The undergraduate teacher education program, at OCE—judged one of the best in the nation—will be described this week at a conference of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards at University of Kansas.

OCE President Roy E. Lieualen and Dr. Jane Dale, head of the humanities department, will represent OCE. They will describe the undergraduate program for preparation of elementary and secondary teachers.

The NCTEPS chose the OCE program as one of 30 outstanding in the nation. The invitation came from T. M. Stinnett, executive secretary of the organization.

OCE will also be represented at the conference by Mrs. Gertrude Patterson, assistant professor of education and supervisor of teaching. She will attend as a member of the executive board of the National Association for Student Teaching.

The Kansas meeting will be the second in a series of three national conferences devoted to a cooperative attack upon the problems of strengthening teacher education. Some 900 educators and administrators are expected to attend.

Educational Previews Scheduled Tuesdays

Looking for interesting ways to present material to your classes?

Why not drop in on the Tuesday educational previews featured this summer and sponsored by the audio visual aids department? Every Tuesday previews are featured in the Music Hall auditorium from 1 to 2 and from 2 to 3 p.m.

The first group being shown this summer is to be previewed June 23, and will deal with the science field. Other fields will include music, art, humanities, guidance, health and physical education, social sciences, and mathematics.

The films are for the convenience of the busy teacher to let them know the scoop on the latest in these various areas.

Need help? Go see the movies!

Workshops at OCE Listed for Summer Term

A group of outstanding visiting faculty persons will conduct nearly a dozen workshops on the OCE campus during the summer session. The first two workshops, each running two weeks, began today.

Fay Mort of the Salem public schools will conduct a workshop in science in the elementary school to run daily through July 3. Howard Halvorsen, music consultant from Palo Alto, Calif., will conduct a workshop in music in the grades during the same two weeks.

Mary Fullington, art supervisor in the Seattle public schools, and Helen Schaper, director of curriculum in the Portland public schools, will each conduct two-week workshops starting July 6 and continuing through July 17. Miss Fullington will handle a course in material and techniques in art education and Miss Schaper will conduct a workshop in teaching the core curriculum.

A second art workshop will begin July 20.

Other two-week workshops will include teaching the gifted student, Henry Bertness, director of the Tacoma-Pierce county study for exceptional children, July 20 to 31, and methods and materials in social science by Henrietta Wolfert of the OCE staff, August 3 to 14.

A one-week workshop—Workshop in Primary Arithmetic—will run from June 22 to June 27 and be conducted by Mrs. Alta Fosback. Dr. Mildred Kane of the OCE staff will handle a one-week session in kindergarten education from June 29 to July 3.

A special three-day PTA leaders conference will be held on campus July 15, 16 and 17 under the leadership of Mrs. Ellen Dell Beiler, field staff member of the National Conference of Parents and Teachers.

"Let us develop the resources of our land, call forth its powers, build up its institutions, promote all its great interests, and see whether we also, in our day and generation may not perform something worthy to be remembered."—Daniel Webster.

OCE Granted $50,000 For Motivation Study

Oregon College of Education has received a $50,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education to study the relationship between a student's motivations and how well he learns from instructional materials designed to appeal to these motivations.

The project will be directed by Dr. Walter Snyder, director of teacher education at OCE. The research will be conducted by Dr. Jack V. Edling, associate professor of education and psychology and director of the audio-visual materials center at OCE.

The project will begin in September and is expected to take about 18 months to complete. Edling says that it will include a study of the motivational patterns of about 4000 students in public high schools in the Willamette valley.

Edling hopes to determine whether students learn better when visual materials are designed to match the motivational pattern of the learner.

Recent studies of the motivational patterns of consumers have been used successfully by businesses in improving their effectiveness, Edling explains, but these principles have not been investigated in relation to the educational process.

The study will provide a significant body of information on the goals and interests of a large group of high school students. If the results of the project are successful, Edling predicts it could modify the basic pattern of education.

Dr. Curtis Reid, head of the department of visual instruction of the Oregon General Extension Division, will serve as film consultant. Dr. Robert C. Wilson, associate professor of psychology and statistics at Portland State college, will serve as evaluation consultant.

tween the two buildings to carry steam lines and other utilities.

Both the heating plant and student center are expected to be in operation by next summer.

The present heating plant behind Todd hall will be razed. The area is planned as the site of a new women's dormitory.

Elementary School To Operate Program Daily from 9 to 12

A summer program in the Monmouth elementary school on the OCE campus will open June 29 for children of summer session students and faculty. The summer school for children will run daily from 9 a.m. to 12 noon until August 12.

Ralph Farrow, principal, said the summer grade school is planned to present a complete and interesting program from kindergarten through the eighth grade. The physical education department at OCE will operate a recreation program from 1 to 3 p.m. for all children of elementary school age.

Emphasis in the grades will be placed upon work which will enrich but not repeat the work of the preceding grade, according to Farrow. Swimming instruction will be provided as part of the regular elementary program. Four one-half hour periods of instruction will be offered each week for children in the second through the eighth grades with a fee of $5 to cover the cost.

No charge is made for children in grades one through eight in the regular program. A fee of $5 is charged for the six-week kindergarten program.

Aldwell Recital Open To Students, Faculty

Edward Aldwell will play in a piano recital at the OCE Music building July 2. The recital will start at 8 p.m. and is open to all summer session students and faculty.

Aldwell has studied piano in Sonora, Tex., at Oregon State college and at the college-conservatory of music in Cincinnati, Ohio. At present he is a student of Adele Marcus at the Julliard school of music in New York.

The July 2 program will include Prelude and Fugue in F minor, Bach; Sonata in one movement, opus 1, Berg; Sonata, opus 53, "Waldstein," Allegro con brio, Introduzione-Adagio molto, Allegretto, Beethoven; Etude in F major, opus 10, Fantaisie in F minor, opus 49, Chopin; Etude, "LaChasse," Paganini-Liszt; Rigaudon, Minuet, Tocata, Ravel.

Swim Program To Start Tuesday

A swimming program involving recreation and instruction will be available during the summer session for students and faculty and children of both groups, according to Dr. Bill McArthur of the physical education department.

The summer schedule will start Tuesday and run to August 15.

McArthur will instruct an adult swim class each Monday night for beginning, intermediate and advanced swimmers. Lessons for men will be from 7 to 8 and for women, from 8 to 9. Cost of the six one-hour lessons will be $3.

Children between the ages of 7 and 14 will be eligible to register for any of three daily instructional sessions. They will run from June 24 to July 8; July 13 to July 24; and July 27 to August 7. The series of 10 lessons will cost $5.

Instruction will be by college seniors or graduate students who have received water safety instructor certificates at OCE.

The Wolverton memorial pool at OCE will also be open Wednesday and Thursday nights for public family night swims.

OCE Grad Club To Meet Weekly

A roster of interesting speakers has been selected for the weekly graduate club meetings scheduled each Wednesday noon, starting July 1, according to Dale Harp, club vice president.

The luncheons will be held in Todd hall and are scheduled to be over in time for students to attend 1 o'clock classes. Harp said that persons planning to attend the luncheons must register by Tuesday noons on a list posted in the student post office. All graduate students are invited to attend, whether members or not.

The graduate club will also sponsor jointly with the faculty club weekly Wednesday evening teas in the library lounge. Speakers are scheduled for each of the sessions with a discussion period to follow.

Faculty members and graduate students are invited to attend.

Harp said that persons eligible

The Central high school American Field Service scholarship committee has received word that Miss Ursula Wilke of Stuttgart, Germany, will arrive here in August to attend school as an AFS exchange student.

This will be the first time Central high school has had a foreign student under the American Field Service exchange program.

Tour Promises News

Weekly airmail dispatches during the summer will bring special news reports for Lamron readers from OCE's traveling campus in Europe. The eighth annual college tour: Geography and General Cultures, will leave Portland June 26 for two months in seven European countries. The trip carries five hours of undergraduate credit and is directed by Charles J. Noxon, assistant professor of social science at OCE.

"Kelly and Me" First On Movie Program

Movies this summer are varied and interesting. A movie is scheduled each Monday at 8 p.m. in the Music Hall auditorium.

Tonight's movie features "Kelly and Me," a full length feature in color. This film is a nostalgic peek into the last great days of vaudeville as a song and dance man finds success by teaming up with a talented dog named Kelly.

It features Van Johnson, Piper Laurie and Martha Hyer. Their trip to Hollywood for a fling at screen stardom lets you in on some hilariously funny scenes.

Many other movies are scheduled for these Monday night showings, including "Man of a Thousand Faces," dealing with the life and personal secrets of Lon Chaney and starring James Cagney, to be shown June 29. Watch the Summer Lamron for future titles.

The Friday movie program will feature cartoons one week and travelogues on alternate weeks. The cartoons will be kicked off Friday, June 26 and will be shown in the Music Hall auditorium at 7:00 p.m.

This program features family groups and it is hoped that parents will accompany children who come to these programs. The travelogues will begin on Friday, July 3. Travel to Britain, Vikingland and France will be the topic of the first film in this series.

A collection will be taken at the movies to help defray the expense.

Purchase of Land Ordered for Campus

Purchase of about 11 acres of land to add to the Oregon College of Education campus was approved this week by the state board of higher education. The land is in the northwest part of the campus.

Nearly 5½ acres of farm land will be purchased from Clifford Hassler north of North street, plus two lots on the west side of C street. Nearly 3½ lots will be purchased from Mrs. Verdia B Rambo and one lot from Guy O Thornbrue.

The college earlier obtained options on the property.
