We live in a three dimensional world that is bound by a fourth dimension; the dimension of time.

We build our world relative to the existence of that dimension.

We learn from the past how to live the present and how to plan the future.

Time soars by, gaining momentum with each passing second, carrying us on and up and out.

There is no holding it back, no standing still.

Even as we take a side step through our memory into the past, time is carrying us on into the future.

You are taking a side step now, looking through this memory book--this pictured summary of one year, its people, events and emotions.

As you glance through, you think not only of the events pictured, but of other happenings related to them, and of the joys and sorrows you shared with your friends.

AS TIME GOES BY...
Editor's Note

This yearbook has been compiled as a graphic record of a school year, inviting individualized interpretation by each reader. A picture of the gymnasium may recall to one person a stirring basketball game; to another, an enjoyable concert. One student seeing a picture of the dining commons will see the beautiful decorations of the prom while another will think of the conversations shared with friends during dinner.

As editor, I have not chosen to label every picture or to editorialize about events or people. I leave this to you, the reader, to remember the year as you saw it then, as you think of it now, and as you will want to remember it "AS TIME GOES BY..."
Happiness is meeting old friends.
The campus pulsates with the sounds of happiness
As all partake of pastimes and pleasures
But the hands of the clock muffle the sound
And all that remains is the echo
As the hour grows late and the doors begin to close
AS TIME GOES BY...
Is that what a "dry town" means—I thought it meant it didn't rain here...

Maaske had what kind of a fashion show?

I'd like to see them try to get me up at three a.m...

Well, on weekends we get the overflow from OSU...

I heard the ratio was three to one...

Three feet on the floor—but I've only got two...

Do we have to stand in it while they pour the cement?

You mean that funny little man with the smelly pipe is the Dean of Students?!
Maaske boys kiss the senior bench and vow not to sit on it.

Frosh week -- two words that strike terror into the hearts of many wary freshmen. But the week's events -- the meetings, the initiations and long lines -- are somehow overshadowed by the many friendships that arise out of the need for strong freshmen unity against the "mean" and "heartless" upperclassmen.

Arnold Arms girls are put through -- and over -- the paces.

Frosh Week

September 19-25
The Freshman Walk has been a tradition at O.C.E. since its inception with the signing of the walk by the class of '62. Each year the new arrivals scratch their names in the freshly poured cement, thus committing themselves to their school in spirit and tradition. Located on the south side of the football field outside the chain link fence, the walk will eventually extend the entire length of the playing field.

...but first, someone has to dig the walk and pour the cement.
As you think back over the freshmen week activities consider some aspects of it that you might not have seen before and then ask yourself—was it worth it? It is our hope that through these six pages of frosh week pictures that you will unhesitatingly answer "yes!"

Freshmen week was originally planned as a get-acquainted week for incoming students. Members of the faculty and student body officers were on hand to help get the freshmen introduced to college and its various aspects. The candle lighted formal initiation originally took place in the old grove.
Freshman week 1965 started on Sunday, Sept. 18 and ran until Saturday, Sept. 24. During this event-filled week, the incoming Freshmen got their first look and taste of college life. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights were devoted to acquainting the Freshmen with games (leap-frog, ring-around-the-rosie, and London bridges) social outings (street dances) and just plain fun (digging the Freshmen walk). Thursday night, the Freshmen formally became part of O.C.E. as President Rice welcomed them and installed them as the class of 1969. With the conclusion of registration and the end of Freshmen week, the campus settled down to the routine of classes.
Freshmen week draws to a close as the upperclassman return to the campus and begin registration.
The Junior Class Carnival was held on October 8 in the Campus Elementary School gym. Engineered under the leadership of the Junior Class President and Vice President, the Carnival featured a pie throwing contest which offered such targets as Gib Jones, the class president, Mike Smith, the class vice president, and Bob Opperman, Butler Hall vice president, and a jail where people could be put in the pokey for a designated time for a small payment by the arrester of ten cents.
On October 28, the Sophomore Class Council planned an evening of entertainment and association for their fellow classmates with a Class Banquet. With the theme of "Getting To Know You", the banquet featured the installation of Class officers and entertainment by the Centones, a girls trio comprised of Marilyn McCasland, Darlene Bruns, and Lea Martin, and the Trumpet Trio, made up of Jerry Pratton, Phil Galvin, and Larry Van Wyngarden.

HOMECOMING

November 6-7
HAPPINESS WAS A HOMECOMING 1965 EVENT...

Homecoming 1965 was a memorable event. Under the leadership of chairman Ron Theissen, the final three days, November 4, 5, and 6, elevated O.C.E. into the spotlight of society as Queen Jan accepted her throne before a television camera. The highlight of the weekend was the concert by Gale Garnett.
On Friday night, November 5, Janice Cline, a blue-eyed blonde from Gold Beach, became the Homecoming Queen for the 1965 Festivities. Queen Jan represented the women of Arbuthnot Hall. In the Coronation festivities Janice was selected from an original field of eight. Her court consisted of Pat Benton, the Maaske princess, Maralee Copeland, representing the women of Cottage, Pam Farmen, princess from Todd Hall, Marci Mann, the Butler Hall princess, Claudia Morrow, Arnold Arms princess, Linda Slate, representing the Off-Campus students, and Barbara Steele, the Commuters princess.

Princess Barbara and her escort Craig Kozak.
In the lawn display competition, Butler defeated the other campus dorms for first place with Maaske second and Arnold Arms third.

Homecoming 1965 presented the challenge of cooperation and the dorms ably accepted and conquered it.

Homecoming 1965 stimulated the campus with the activities of dorm competition. Under the careful surveillance of guards from the dorms, the Homecoming bonfire grew into a mountain of dried leaves, splintered boards, broken tree limbs and bald tires.
Following the theme of the weeks events, the Homecoming Dance, "Happiness is..." was held in the dining commons amidst drawings and models of the "Peanuts" cartoon strip characters. Couples danced around a large paper-mache "Snoopy" as he lounged drowsily on top the roof of his dog house.

Homecoming 1965 was truly a memorable event.
Gale Garnett, whose recording of "We'll Sing in the Sunshine" became one of the biggest releases of the year, entertained a capacity crowd at the Homecoming concert on Nov. 6 in the gym. Miss Garnett's lively personality captured the hearts of the audience and won many new fans.
Bernardine, a comedy about teenage boys and their search for the perfect girl, was presented under the direction of Mr. Douglas McKenzie on November 11-14 in the Campus Elementary School Gym.

An added attraction during the intermission was the showing of a short film which depicted the home town of the imaginary Bernardine Crud, Sneaky Falls, Idaho on the banks of the Itching River.

The scene changes were made by the cast members before the eyes of the audience. To set the mood during the scene changes, the cast interwove musical numbers of their own arrangement.

Although Bernardine seemed lighthearted and gay, it presented a counter-plot of a more serious nature, that of the relationship of parents and their teenage children.

CHRISTMAS ACTIVITIES

The Student Council members gather to serenade the school's administrators and faculty members and to hang wreaths on their doors.

Dr. Rice joins the Student Council members in the serenades.
The O.C.E. choir presented Handel's Messiah on December 5, 6, 7, under the direction of Dr. Edgar Smith, Chairman of the music department.
WASSAIL PARTY

December 5

Hot Wassail and banana bread was served as parents, students and faculty members joined in the singing of Christmas carols at the Wassail Party after the Messiah performances. Chairman for the Wassail Party was Marilyn McCasland.
Scott Fischer was named Mr. All American at the annual winter formal, "Silver Thaw," sponsored by Staff and Key. Scott, besides being a member of the Varsity Golf team, also holds the office of Senior Class Vice President. He was also named one of five most popular senior boys at the Senior Shindig.

Other nominees for Mr. All American were Dave Pappin, Terry Spahr, and Stu Merchant.
Staff and Kay prepare the decorations for "Silver Thaw".
The 1966 Sweethearts Ball, 'Stairway of Roses,' was co-sponsored by Collecto Coeds and Intercollegiate Knights. This year, the decorations were built around a large staircase ascending to the roof with a railing of artificial roses and chandeliers with sparkling ornaments dangling from their cardboard buttresses. The committee for the Ball, a semi-formal affair, was headed by Andrea Slack. The Roundtable Five provided the dance music.
Lyle Kuboyama
Collecto Coeds Sweetheart

Collecto Coed girls chose Lyle Kuboyama as their Sweetheart at the annual Sweethearts Ball. Lyle, a senior from Kapaa, Hawaii, is active in campus life, serving as treasurer of Maaske Hall and a member of the Publicity Committee.

Louise Yamase
Intercollegiate Knights

Louise Yamase, a senior from Hawaii and the President of the Hawaiian Club, was chosen IK Sweetheart at the Sweethearts Ball. Louise was crowned at the Intercollegiate Knights—Collecto Coeds sponsored semi-formal, “Stairway of Roses.”
Entertainment, dancing, and the selection of the friendliest senior boy and girl highlighted the evenings events at the Senior Shindig. Linda Slate and Ron Theissen were selected the most congenial seniors at an election held at the Shindig.
One day each year, the campus opens its doors to the seniors from the high schools around the state who are contemplating entrance to O.C.E. The visitation day brought an estimated 400 to the campus this year for campus tours, meetings with the faculty, departmental visitations, and a chance to sample college activities in the form of an evening sockhop.

Throng of high school students fill the student center.

Mr. Miles talks to prospective O.C.E. students.
This year the Freshman Class introduced the O.C.E. campus to a new type of basketball, one in which the players ride donkeys up and down the floor and attempt to sink baskets while straddling the backs of these stubborn animals. The game pitted the men of Maaske against the men of Butler and in an exciting 49 minute spectacular, Maaske triumphed by a score of 16 to 8.

VALENTINE DINNER

February 14

"Cupid's Carrousel", the Valentines Dinner, was presented this year by the Inter-dorm Council, under the Chairmanship of Sandy Commerford. Decorations for the dinner were made by the women of Todd and the decorating done by the Maaske men.

An archway of hearts covers the door as the dinner guests arrive.
Folk’s Festival, the winter term formal invitation for parents of O.C.E. students to visit the campus, used the theme "Working for Tomorrow" to introduce future programs for O.C.E. to the visitors. Under the direction of Mike Smith, junior, the days activities included a basketball game and the annual All Campus Sing.
First floor Arby won the All Campus Sing first place award with a skit based around the idea that if you didn't keep your grades up, you might end up in Vietnam. Butler Hall won the second place trophy with a patriotic theme.
"I don't know how they expect me to do anything right with this God damn toy shovel." This line and many others will remain memorable to those who viewed Edward Albee's "The Sandbox" under the direction of Vicki Priem. A satiric strike at the American way of life and death, the play centers around an elderly woman whose family has taken her to the beach to wait for her to die.

In "The American Dream," Albee took a swing at the American family and all the false concepts and ideals that it surrounds itself with. The supposedly happy family life of the husband and wife in this satire can be seen in lines like "Was I masculine? Was I really masculine?" and "Isn't that what I said? Isn't that what I just said?"
Fine Arts Week, a new dimension of exploration into the world of music, drama, art, and literature, exited from the campus February 26, after a successful 7 day stay. During this time, students and faculty enjoyed lectures, recitals, readings, and numerous plays.

All in all, Fine Arts Week proved a worthwhile addition to campus activities with its varied program of arts.

Fine Arts Week began with a fireworks display set up by the Assemblies Commissioner, Marlene Geer, and ended with a new innovation in activities, the Kappa Pi sponsored 'Garrett' dance. Filling in the schedule between times was the presentation of the Edward Albee plays 'The Sandbox' and 'The American Dream,' a vocal concert by Mrs. Ewan Mitton, Dr. Rice's reading of contemporary poetry, and the viewing of the highly acclaimed movie 'David and Lisa.'

“The Trial,” Frank Kafka’s novel about a man put on trial by his society, was presented as the Winter Term play. The drama, an unusual production that left many of its viewers with unanswered questions, was centered around the idea that man is guilty until he proves himself innocent.

Steve Taylor and Jim Blackwell
Marlene Geer, Assemblies Commissioner, provided a varied program for the interested campus students who wanted to enrich their lives through lectures and recitals. Among the visitors to the campus during the year were Tom McCall, Republican nominee for Governor, Linda Woodell, a young, attractive Peace Corps Volunteer recently returned from a two year assignment in Peru, and Marc Ellington, a folk singer. Marlene also presented a fine selection of Friday night movies for the viewing of campus students and organized the "Friday at Four" assemblies.

The U.S.S. A Go Go, under the direction of Commander Gib Jones and his crew, docked in Monmouth March 5. Opening up the gambling room to the thousands of curious on-lookers, she proceeded to throw a wingding of entertainment, enjoyment, and excitement for all who boarded her. Those who came aboard that night won't soon forget her arrival and all too sudden departure.
Powderpuff Basketball

March 12

The athletic Sophomores struck again this winter term with a Powderpuff Basketball game. The battle between Arby and Todd seemed well over in the first quarter, with Arby leading at one time by eight points. But Todd continually fought back, and at the end of the first half, had gained the lead. Todd, paced by Polly Melugin's jump shots, pulled ahead to stay and won the contest 31–28, giving that a 2–0 record in Powderpuff games.
The race against time is emphasized

And the pounding of hearts keeping rhythm
With the ticking of the clocks
And the seconds steal away the game

1965-66 Wolfpack under the coaching guise of Coach McCullough snared the Oregon Collegiate Conference Cross-Country Championship trophy. At the Nov. 6th meet in La Grand, the wolves defeated Southern Oregon College and Eastern Oregon College for the league title. One week later, in Salem on Willamette’s cross-country course the team garnered the 2nd place trophy at the NAIA District II Meet to complete the most successful season in the school’s history.

The OCE Wrestling Team battled their way to an eight win–six loss dual season record. The Wolves were led by Oregon Collegiate Conference Champions Chuck Nortness (152 wt.), La Mont Simons (137 wt.) and Steve Guthu (heavyweight). OCE grapplers finished third in the Oregon Collegiate Conference with 62 points in the conference meet. Guthu went on to place second in the N.A.I.A. District 1 & 2 wrestling meet while Nortness and Hal Dyol finished fourth in the same meet. The Wolves finished sixth with 17 points in the District 1&2 N.A.I.A. meet. This year’s wrestling team is fairly young and should prove to be tough in next year’s competition.
The Oregon College of Education roundballers fought to a 13-13 won loss season record and a second place finish in the tough Oregon Collegiate Conference race. The Wolfpack was right in contention for the title until a disastrous trip to Ashland in which they lost a pair, 74-72, and 87-74 to Southern Oregon College. This knocked O.C.E. out of contention for the title. However, the Wolves went on to an impressive 10 win 6 loss league record. O.C.E. basketballers were led by individual standouts Dave Pappin, Phil Davis, and Dave Sturgis with 15.4, 14.1, and 13.5 averages respectively. As a team the Wolves captured two Oregon Collegiate Conference records. O.C.E. set a field goal accuracy record by shooting .486 and wiped out the free throw percentage mark by shooting .741. With only one graduating senior, the Wolves should be in contention for the O.C.C. title next year.

The OCE Junior Varsity Basketball Team compiled a fine 11 win–8 loss season record. The squad was fairly well balanced in the scoring department receiving 20 point nights from each of the starters, Hal Smith, Keith Morrison, Dennis Parker, Larry Samples, and Bill Hanson. The high points of the season came in a pair of victories over the tough Willamette JV’s, 82–80 and 79–73! This JV Team has several fine varsity prospects and should form a strong nucleus for next year’s JV team.
The Freshman Basketballers finished their tough schedule with a 11 win-11 loss record. In the scoring category the frosh were led by Gary Rudolph, Larry Kessel, and Jack Burrell. The freshmen came up with impressive wins over Cascade J.V., Judson Baptist, and Southwestern Oregon College.

Women's Intramurals

Under the leadership of Terri Fries, Women's Athletic Commissioner, and Miss Miller, advisor, the women's intramural program included a variety of activities. Among these activities were basketball, volleyball, badminton, and swimming. During the year, W.R.A. sponsored the “Porpoise Party”, an inter-collegiate swimming meet which the O.C.E. girls won, and extramural participation in basketball, volleyball, field hockey, and softball. Intramural champions are: Basketball—Arby 2, Volleyball—off campus, Tennis—Mary Boyer, and Badminton—Louise Ault, Singles, Louise Ault and Karen Ellis, doubles.
MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Led by Men's Athletic Commissioner, Bud Earl, the men's intramural program was successfully organized during the school year. This program gave students of O.C.E. not participating in varsity competition a chance to become involved in athletics. TKB took the overall intramural championship by compiling 293½ pts. Included in this program are football, basketball, swimming, cross country, mushball, tennis, and volleyball championships. Butler C. took second with 181 pts. and Maaske won third with 154.
With dedication and determination
Educators fight time to bring knowledge
But they can do no more than instill the thirst
For the bells ring
And the students move on

Mrs. Hofstetter's role at O.C.E. began in 1941, when she accepted the position of Librarian. During this span of 24 years of service, she made solid and constructive contributions to the growth of our library.

Mrs. Hofstetter was a tall, friendly, outgoing woman whose quiet poise and common sense won her the affection of her colleagues and associates. A dedicated Librarian, she wanted to see the Library grow to reach the soaring heights that the college students around her were delving into. She helped plan the new building addition whose construction should supplement this rising need. Her hope for education will rise in the form of this new complex and a more timely monument could never be constructed. . . As Time Goes By. . .
IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Harding was a member of the O.C.E. faculty for 19 years. In that time he served as an Assistant Professor of Speech and Drama. Through his careful planning and skillful directing, his many contributions to the theater at O.C.E. were enjoyed by countless numbers.

When Mr. Harding died during the summer of 1965, he left a vacancy on the faculty which will be hard to fill. But as every man enthralled with the world of art and speech, he yielded his state to those who are set to follow and vanished from the circle of the spotlight. But those who viewed his plays, worked under his direction, or had him as an instructor, will remember this man and his work. . .As Time Goes By. . .
Not only concerned with paperwork, Dr. Leonard Rice, OCE President takes a personal interest in students and their activities. Last October he served as Chairman of a group of Educators which visited Israel and studied education there.

The Mosser Plan is a bill proposed by the state legislature to encourage undergraduate teachers of high quality to remain in the teaching profession by awarding those chosen $1000.

At OCE, the task of selecting the seven teachers to receive the awards was handled by students and faculty members. Nominations were accepted from the student body and considered by first a student committee headed by Dick Withycomb and then finally screened by another committee consisting mainly of faculty members.

This year's Senior Class, led by Commissioner Jim Sterup, held a Senior Class Dance in late October and their Senior Shindig, a combination talent show, dance, and program for the presentation of the friendliest Senior Boy and Senior Girl. Ron Theissen and Linda Slate were named to the top Senior honors at the Shindig. The Seniors also kept busy with their usual whirl of final year activities, including Graduation and Student teaching.
The Juniors this year, as is usual for all Junior Classes faced with the overwhelming prospect of putting on a Prom, raced through their school year planning and succeeding with various money-making projects.

In October, the Juniors presented their Class Carnival, complete with pie-throwing booth and a self-service jail where you could have anyone you wanted put in jail for ten minutes for the price of a small dime. Then in early March, their Dry Night Club saw another successful year. The Juniors ended their year with the presentation of the Junior-Senior Prom.

With the thoughts of a sound treasury for their Junior year and the prom, the Sophomore Class Council, under President Bob Vogel, employed a variety of activities to enthuse and enlist the support of their fellow students as well as their classmates.

Beginning in October, the Sophomores gathered for an evening of entertainment and socializing at the first class Banquet, "Getting To Know You." The evenings ceremonies include formal installation of officers by the Class President. Then, in November, the sports scene at O.C.E. was enhanced by the annual Powder-Puff Football game, pitting the girls of Arby-Commuters-Off Campus against the Arnold Arms-Cottage-Todd girls. During February, the Donut sales sponsored in the dorms proved equally successful. Then to finish out their school year, the Sophomores chose a Powder-Puff Basketball game between the Arby and Todd girls.

This year's Freshman Class, under the leadership of Don Mast, made the adjustment to college life with a year of activities. The Frosh started the year off with a sockhop featuring the Beethoven 5. Then, during winter term, the Frosh sponsored the Donkey Basketball game between the men of Maaske and the men of Butler. Maaske triumphed 16-8 in the forty minute free-for-all.

Don and his council, faced with the big task of weaving the many loose ends of the incoming class together, worked the Frosh into a well-functioning and closely united body.

The campus's weekly paper, the Lamron, saw a great deal of change in presentation during the year as each term produced a different editor. During Fall term, John Svecarovich directed the publishing of the paper. Then Winter term, Craig Anderson, Lamron editor the past year, took over the reigns of the office when John vacated the post to devote full time to student teaching. Finally, as follows tradition, the new editor for the paper during the coming year, Karen Laudahl, a sophomore from Monmouth, was selected Editor for the Spring editions of the paper.

Co-Weds is an organization of student wives and married women students who meet and participate in social and educational activities of interest to young married women. It is designed to promote friendship among wives and to bring about a closer relationship between the college and the home. The group sponsors many civic projects.
The newly revamped Organization for Spirit and Tradition was formed generally for the purpose of unifying the spirit of O.C.E., and to let people, both students and residents across the nation, know that O.C.E. is a friendly and worthy school. The members are dedicated to supporting all athletic events and the participants of those sports, to spread the friendly feeling of our campus to the incoming freshmen and to establish the traditions of our college. Their activities have varied greatly: the establishment of a dance and drill team (the Woof-ettes) and to sell ribbons in hope of raising enough money to buy a new outfit for Waldo Wolf. At the present time there are more than fifty person working on the eleven committees.
The purpose of Inter-Clubs Council is to promote better communications among clubs, establish a working activities schedule through the Social Commissioner, approve club constitutions, guide clubs and organizations when organizing or when having difficulty, sponsor the All-Campus Drive, perform all other duties pertaining to the interests of clubs and organizations, and now trying to set up a charter.

The Band was organized as a club so that it could operate more efficiently and use to advantage the limited amount of rehearsal time that it has. Membership is open to all who are interested in extending their musical skills. The functions of O.C.E.'s Band are to provide pep music and entertainment at all home football and basketball games; and to represent O.C.E. by taking an annual tour to various junior and senior high schools throughout the State of Oregon, taking part in various parades sponsored by nearby communities, and working with other colleges to co-sponsor exchange concerts. A very successful marching band with twirlers has been added this past year for the first time.
The piercing scream of "WHOOPEE!"...
The snappy dance steps to the Beatle tunes...
The dismay of a bulky, white leg cast...
The sparkling wit of its leader...
These are some of the memories we share with our Varsity Rally Girls.

This year's Varsity Rally showed real enthusiasm and leadership in uniting the students in support of the Wolf teams. During the year, these six girls led the cheering section through many close and exciting games and entertained with tension-relaxing dances. With the help of the Rally Queen, Phyllis McIntosh, the Rally took on a totally new concept and originality seemed to be the key word in their yells and dance routines.
The Junior Varsity Rally usually performed before the arriving crowd waiting for the start of the Varsity game. But they successfully generated these spectators' enthusiasm during their game and for the upcoming Varsity contest. The Rally showed the desire and ability to stimulate their team and onlookers.
