Religion To Be Given Emphasis

By Jeanine Seeglit

All the weeks of work and planning by Marilyn Nell, president of the Campus Christian Council, and the other members of this organization were finally set into full motion this morning when Rev. Roy Campbell of the First Baptist church in Monmouth gave the invocation in Campus hall auditorium. This action swung the doors open for the 6th annual Religious Emphasis week on the OCE campus.

Rev. Campbell was followed by Pat Holman, ASOCE president, who extended greetings and, in turn, introduced Marilyn Nell, student chairman for R.E. week. The CCC adviser, Dr. Daniel Wendell, preceded the main question and to relate the student's battle cry is "of necessity, Galley proofs for the Wolf----

In the 6th annual Religious Emphasis week, the OCE campus this year, October 17-21. Dr. Robert Livingston of the PE department, as a member of the board of directors for the campus drive, will handle the solicitations.

Students, staff and faculty members are reminded that the United Midwest Agencies will conduct the former multiple year-round fund drives into a once-a-year opportunity to help the OCE. Organizations giving should be based on the ability to give, remembering that the contribution goes to aid 21 organizations. Organizations included in the drive are Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Arthritis and Rheumatism, and the Oklahoma Chest which includes 15 other agencies.

To meet the Folk county quota of $3,975, more than one dollar for every man, woman and child in the county, past experience, in terms of non-participants, indicates that generosity on the part of donors is vitally needed. The UF motto or battle cry is, of necessity, "One dollar won't do the job." This gift covers 81 agencies. Give to help—help to give. The fair share giving plan, worked out with the student body, that at a person earning 75 cents per hour or $30 weekly might contribute on the average of 3 cents per week; that for person earning $3.25 an hour or $130 weekly, a suggested amount is at the rate of $1 per week.

The United Fund has been approved for payroll deductions for state of Oregon employees.

Faculty and staff members will be sent pledge cards and payroll deduction forms through the mail. The United Fund will give an opportunity to contribute during classes on Wednesday, October 19, through the assistance of instructors and a student helper. If you contribute, no matter how small the amount, then we shall have 100 percent participation on the campus and consequently an even more enthusiastic spirit and feeling of warm fondness in our college community.

To Honor Officers

GROW UP!!

It seems to this editor that a certain number of freshman boys had better grow up to the fact that they are now considered adults, not children. The college policy is to treat the students as adults. But while all the time they are just belittling themselves wanting to fight to show someone how big they are, they are now considered adults, not children. The responsibility of adults as they, not only belittle themselves but place a bad name on the school. It seems to this editor that a certain number of people disagree but in the final analysis it seems to be always true. Social activities play a great part in helping us enjoy our college life.

Nelson Hall Elects

At a recent Nelson hall house meeting, two officers were elected and are as follows: Lynn Huston, president and latin chairman; Joe Higginson, vice-president and social chairman; Dave Mobley, house clerk and tax collector; and Bob Krehb, master at arms, official correspondent, and assistant tax collector.

The OCE LAMRON

Monday, October 17, 1955

The visitation for beginner’s follow-up, which is being done by Mrs. McBee and her staff, was joint degree people from Oregon State college.

In most of the sports and social events around the campus and seem to enjoy themselves, but if they should be beaten in sports or if someone does something that hurts their feelings, then watch these little boys shine just like grade school children. They want to fight to show someone how big they are, while all the time they are just belittling themselves in front of the other students in the school. Those people should realize and take upon themselves the responsibility of adults as they not only belittle themselves but place a bad name on the school.

So, to these few, I put out this urgent plea. —"Grow up and help the rest of the students in making this the best college known." —S.L.M.

There is a new student on campus this year. He is an exchange student from the Netherlands. As you might guess, he is very much interested in American culture and is hoping to get a good education here. He is very much interested in football and has been attending the games regularly. He is also beginning to study the language and seems to be doing very well.

Oregon College slipped across a touchdown with less than three minutes left in the contest to edge the Eastern Oregon College of Education Mountains 20-19 to Saturday night in memorial stadium to jump into first place in the Oregon college conference race.

The team was victorious over the powerful and speedy Eastern Oregon team in that play. The Mountains all the way, with the fastest backs in the conference eating up the field.

At one time in the third canto the Easteaters led over the locals 19-7. Then the Wolverines caught fire and by the end of that period brought the count up to 19 to 14. Chamberlain's charges held the visitors in the fourth quarter until Riley rambled over for the game deciding tally.

Mountains Score

With five minutes done in the first quarter, Mountain right half back, taken out from Arlen Smith and rambling 33 yards and left end for the invaders first touch, Dick Quinn converted. The visitors were in the close of the first period when Charlie Harris connected with an assistant to the right, took the 29 yard pass on the Wolf eight and scampered into the end zone for the first score, Harris again passed to Zitek for the extra point.

The Northern scored its second touchdown just before intermission. The Mountains

OCE Student Is Platter Spinner

By Jean Stormont

A student here at OCE, Ernie Drapelka, has his own radio program. Ernie plays only jazz, everythingfrom Dixieland to modern jazz, although he concentrates on the latter. At least 200 records he uses on his program, “Journey into Jazz,” is from personal collection or those of his friends. His program is heard every Saturday from 4 to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Ernie tries to keep his audi- ence informed of musical events in Portland and Salem prior to the regular advertisement of the WRA. He scheduled several major musical attraction centers in the Portland area, Portland Public Auditorium, McHow’s Ballroom and Golden Canopy Ballroom at Jantzen Beach Park, keep Ernie informed of coming events.

“Jazz at the Philharmonic” will be at the Portland Auditor- ium on October 21. It is a stage show featuring Ella Fitzgerald, George Shearing, Oscar Peterson and many others.

In the near future the bands of WRA, Portland, Beaverton, Billy May (Sam Donahoe), Leo- nel Hamilton and Earl Bostic will be at the Oregon State College and Salem in order to date.

If anyone would like to con- tact John Drapelka, write to Port- land, his SBO number is 446.

If you enjoy jazz be sure to tune in “Journey Into Jazz” for the finest in recorded jazz.
Off-Campus Students Start Organization

Besides being the spot for the usual card-playing groups, TV viewers and in-between men voters, Maple hall was also the scene of a meeting for all off-campus students last week.

If they would like to bring in the Independent Student Organizational reactivated, officers were elected, time of roomings designated, and projects were decided upon.

The Independent Student Organization was started last year for the purpose of providing off-campus students with the opportunity to cooperate and to take part in their own activities. Because only one officer remained from last year, it was necessary for a complete reconstruction before the group could function.

Miss Jean Suecoy, dean of women, presided at the temporary chairman until George Magrier was elected president, at which time he took over the remaining parliamentary proceedings.

Upon the meeting which was seconded and passed, Willie Phillips stepped into the office of vice-president. The secretary-treasurer position was filled by Clara Lee Dougall, and Stan Miles was selected reporter.

The group decided to meet at least once each month with the meetings to be followed by dance or other social functions open to all OCE students.

To start the activity ball rolling, the standing committee of representatives from each off-campus housing group was asked to serve as the planning committee for working out details involving Homcoming signs— which will be contributed by all OCE housing units.

Offer Child Help

Nurses from the Polk county Health Department assisted by local volunteers will be attending the physician. There is no charge for this service.

Student Teachers Work at Central

For the first time in OCE history there are student teachers in the secondary field of education. Rita and Don McCracken have the distinction of being the first student teachers in this area.

Rita and Don are teaching at Central High school, District 282, under the supervision of John Chamberlain and Lorraine Lofte, social science instructors, and Frank Marzoe, humanities instructor.

Rita teaches World Geography, U.S. History, English IV and World History, while Don teaches World Geography, U.S. History, English IV, and American Problems. They both are working with the extra-curricular activity program under their three supervising teachers.

Secondary student teachers are assigned to Howard Hall, Central High principal, who in turn assigns them to supervising teachers in the students' intro and 2nd teaching areas.

There are now around 20 students in secondary education at OCE who will be eligible for student teaching this year. There are three students who have science-mathematics as their first teaching area, two who have humanities as their first teaching area, and the remainder have social science as their first teaching area.
