Staff & Key Will Name All-American At Formal Dance

The traditional All-American Formal, given by Staff & Key for the first time, will be held on the evening of December 3, a Friday. The event is being sponsored by the OCE student council.

PREPARATIONS ARE BEING MADE for the OCE student council's December 6th annual All-American "Father of the Bride," a stage version of the popular movie about the doting father who is almost equally harassed but who really enjoys having a big wedding for her child. Keith Selma makes a likeable groom, and Jack Little and Coleen Pedersen turn in fine performances in lesser roles.

The play is directed with taste, and is under the guidance of Mr. Harding.

Students who have had the first injection of vaccine given at a later date in November should make an appointment at the health service office. The same schedule used previously will be used to cover those given the first injection of vaccine. Students who have not received the first injection of vaccine by Tuesday, December 11 should return for the second dose on December 17. The office will need three business days to order the vaccines and to receive them. Those who have had the first dose of vaccines given at a later date in November should make an appointment at the health service office. The same schedule used previously will be used to cover those given the first injection of vaccine. Students who have not received the first injection of vaccine by Wednesday, December 11 should return for the second dose on December 17. Attention, Drama Fans!

From the examination finale by sending the students "Hamltn," starring Laurence Olivier and Jean Simmons at 8 p.m. in Cieve auditorium, to the ball hall's auditorium, Shakespeare's immortal classic, the tragedy of Hamlet, a man of thought who failed as a man of action, dominates the screen. A widely acclaimed performance by one of the finest actors of today, the two hour showing is free to the students and faculty.

HOME CURED HAMS
by Lynn Huston

The number of hams—and other aspiring entertainers—who recently auditioned for the high school variations troupe were very few. Of all the freshmen in school, we had exactly four who showed up at Campbell hall and gave it a try. But at least the beef covers the ham... Fortunately, we have back from last year much of our home cured ham. Standbys such as Bob Barnos, whose stomach Steinway with 3-D flexibility has gained him much note in the state and Dolly Billings, whose hips have the same endowment, has institutionalized the hula as an all-schools throughout Oregon.

Finding nostalgia for a while and getting hungry I wish to advertise that the high school variations troupe is not completely new. We still need a couple of MC’s and will take volunteers in the end of this term. Let’s us know what you have or would like to do. It’s easy to show up in 6:30 O’clock or have a chat with Lynn Huston at Maple hall or with Mickey Rogers at Todd hall.

NOTICE:
Seniors are reminded that credential papers should be completed and returned to the place ment office before the end of this term.

IRC ACTIVITIES
Our club will be stressed at tonight’s International Relations club meeting to be held in room 206 of the Ad. building. Miss Mary Donaldson will address the group and present her views on “My Impressions of the Land of the First Christmas.” Miss Donaldson is a teaching supervisor at Henry Hill grade school in Independence. Slides will be shown depicting scenes from the Holy Land. This is to be the last meeting of the fall term.

Mr. Charles Naxon, advisor for the IRC, presented last week’s topic to the group. The topic concerned next summer’s foreign study tour which will include the British Isles and all of the Scandinavian countries.

Two weeks ago the club participated in a Northwest Regional Conference which included IRC delegations from many colleges in the Northwest. The theme of the conference was “Allies or Neutral.” The Future of the American and Russian Alliance. Speeches to the groups for the event was held college of York, where the main guest speakers were a featured part of the program and round-table discussion groups and panels completed the curriculum for the conference. Last Friday’s OCE pep assembly showed considerable talent and some clever routines that outdid OCE’s rival squad. The game that followed outdid some clever routines that are sure to catch the fancy of OCE basketball crowds.

Drink Coca-Cola

There’s where the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coke began.

Whoever quarterbacks the Oregon eleven in 1957 would do well to keep Morris in mind as a receiver. He catches anything he gets his hands on and he has a nasty habit (nasty for opponents) of outrun- ning the safety man.

What can you ask of a football player than Jack Morris gives? He was Oregon’s leading ground gainer, passer, kickoff artist, and extra point specialist. (Held the PCC records for consecutive extra points with 20)

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Lead in Intramural

The OCE intramural volleyball league is ending in a tight race despite many forfeitures. The Hound Dogs are keeping up with the pace set by the Pie Eyes, last year’s volleyball champions. As the two teams go into the final games of this year’s contests they will be part of the top quartet of teams. One week’s action saw Fred’s Plumbers winning over the Wolves and the Bathers. The Hound Dogs dropped the East house boys in a close one.
