Walters Elected ASOCE President for ’58

Student Council Executive Board Named for Year of 1957-1958

At the counting of the ballots of the ASOCE executive council election, it was revealed that H. T. Walters was elected student body president.

There was much excitement as Lionel Miller, Sherry Ripple, Kay LeFranq, Bill Benner and Phyllis Seid tallied the 504 ballots indicating the winners. The 504 ballots represented 72% of the student body.

The closest of the races was that of first vice-president in which Jim Beck won by a margin of eight votes. The widest margin was found in the presidential race with a safe surpluse of 51 votes in favor of H. T. Walters.

The results of the "Joe College" and "Betty Coed" votes will be announced at the Talent Show next Saturday.

The following is the official record of the election:

Vocational Interest Tests Offered

The dean's office now be­gins Vocational Interest In­ventory Tests which any student may take. The test must be scored at a centralized testing service, and the cost of this service is $1.50 per test. Any student desiring further information about his vocational in­terests and aptitudes is invited to stop in and avail himself of the opportunity to take the test. Each individual student will be responsible for furnishing the $1.50 testing fee. Scores will be returned to the campus­ and to the individual student within approximately 10 days from the time the test is taken.

OCE To Present Television Show

On May 12, at 5 p.m., OCE will present a television program, tentatively titled "Individual Dif­ferences," over channel 13, Eu­rone. OCE's program is one of a series called "Now You Know," others of which have been pro­duced by Oregon State college and the University of Oregon.

Dr. Jack Y. Editing is chairman of the group including Dr. Mar­garet Hiest, Dr. David Brody, Dr. Harry Van Tosti, and Dr. "Jack" Belamy, who are re­sponsible for writing the produc­tion. Dr. Bellamy will narrate the program. The focus of the program will be on Dr. Hiest's third-grade class at the Mon­mouth elementary school.

Much work went into the making of posters for the election last week as Jim Beck, Beverly Huphard, Deanne Bauman, Ar­lene Bush, Sumi Kobayashi, and Ron Rainbury well know.

PLAY CAST MAKES PREPARATIONS FOR "NIGHT MUST FALL"

DEAR AGGIE:

I have a problem. One man has told me to go see a psychiatrist and another has told me that all I need is a spanking and he'd be glad to correct the deficiency. What should I do? I leave the choice up to you and will follow as you advise.

DEAR MIDDLED:

A conference with a psychiatrist probably wouldn't be as understanding hand of your second friend.

"Night Must Fall" To Be Given May 16, 17

The OCE drama department has announced the spring term all-college play. "Night Must Fall" is the title of the play which will be presented May 16 and 17. The play will be presented at the OCE auditorium at 8 p.m.

Greta Garbo and Charles Boyer starred in the London and Broadway productions. The author of the play is J.B. Priestley. The play is a psychological drama with a surprise ending. The play has been called "One of the most exciting thrillers of the year in the theatre today."

Girls, it won't be long until we will see the faces of some of the OCE cast who have been hiding behind brushes the past few weeks. With the close of "Razor's Holiday" the beard men will soon be coming off. It is safe to say that most of them didn't want to have them taken off, and that they're glad to have them back again!

Sports of Sorts

It will come as no surprise if Dwaine Brandt, OCE's stylish southpaw hurler, signs a contract with the Salem Senators of the Northwest League after the Wolves complete their diamond season in late May. I have it on good authority that Senator Manager Bill Brenner is more than casually interested in Brandt, and will doubt be over to give him the once-over when the Senators return from spring training this week. Brandt, naturally, looks for a crack at pro ball. Although not too big, as pitchers go, Brandt has enough on his fast ball to go with a good curve and crafty control to make a go of it in the pro circuit. Brandt himself says he's interested in pro baseball, so, here's hoping he gets a chance to find out if he can make the grade.

Brandt would be a natural for the Senators if he can win in the Northwest League. Along with providing the Senators with a capable hurler, Brandt could also prove to be good for the Capitol city mins, gatewise. Undoubtedly, Brandt would bring in some heretofore untapped fans from the Monmouth area, which would please the financially troubled Senators no end.

In the last four seasons, Oregon College of Education football has always been a losing proposition, but the annual spring game on Saturday, April 26, will come as no surprise if Marv Heater Central track ed Oregon College of Education and Wolf Racket Swingers that Senator Manager Bill Brenner is more than increasingly larger field each year. There seems to be a general agreement between the speakers that religion is a vital force in our society, that recent Supreme Court decisions have made evident that the traditional separation of church and state is not as absolute as it was once accepted to be, and that the public school may play an important role in teaching about religion for the purpose of greater understanding and less prejudice among all groups.

Nearly 20 teams are expected to compete for the OCE relay titles, which will be held Friday, April 26, on the OCE field starting at 4:30 p.m. This event, which is sponsored annually by Central high school, has attracted an increasingly larger field each year.

Hearty, Central track coach and director, will be in charge of the meet which will be started by Jim Bell during his tenure at the school. The affair is invitational with the entry list being restricted to class A2 schools.

Trophies donated by merchants of the community are given in each event to the winning school and a large trophy is presented to the overall winner of the meet. Newport is the defending champion, in fact has won for the past two years.
