Residents holding California professional licenses are required to pay annual renewal fees if they intend to retain their status, announced Fred A. Taylor, assistant director of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards in a statement to the Project Attorney.

In most cases, these residents may seek reinstatement by paying a certain fee. However, in the case of optometrists, they must undergo a re-examination if reinstatement is not sought within 3 years, he added.

These regulations do not apply to Japanese American men serving in the U.S. Army, who may retain their licenses without renewal fees during their period of service. Reinstatement must be sought within 90 days after discharge from service.

FRIDAY TO BE A HIGH SCHOOL PARENT'S DAY

Parents' Day will take the place of a regular school day this Friday, Jan. 8, declared Leonard Noble, principal of the Topaz City High School.

"Students will stay at home on that day while their parents will attend classes, following the schedule of their respective children," Noble asserted.

Starting at 9 AM, the teachers in all classes will call the roll, and parents will answer to their children's names.

The 6 regular periods will be held during the morning hours. A lunch for the parents and an afternoon program are planned.

A resident member of the Education Department will assist each Caucasian teacher by translating in Japanese for the benefit of non-English speaking parents.
