Extends Greetings

Summer sessions provide opportunities for renewing stimulating professional contacts, for participation in social and other recreational activities, and for meeting degree and certification requirements; but more especially it is a time for contemplative analysis of educational issues and principles for expansion of one's intellectual horizons.

It is my hope for each of you that your summer's study and play bring you all of these satisfactions. I know that I speak for our entire staff in extending you a cordial and friendly welcome to OCE's summer session.

R. E. LIEUALLEN,
President, OCE

NOTICE!

All students planning to complete requirements for a degree at the close of the summer session should call at the Registrar's office during the first week

Miss Virginia Kempston, New Dean Of Women at Ore. College of Ed.

Miss Virginia Kempston, Eugene, has been selected as new dean of women at Oregon College of Education, subject to approval by the State Board of Higher Education.

Miss Kempston will replace Miss Joan Seavey who will be taking a similar position at Foothills junior college at Palo Alto, California. A graduate of University of Oregon, Miss Kempston will be returning to OCE where, in 1953-55 she was director of dormitories.

She comes to the Monmouth campus from Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, where she was also dean of women. Prior to that she was assistant dean of women at the University of Oregon, Eugene.

Miss Kempston holds a Master of Arts degree (1950) from the U. of O., and also received her Bachelor of Arts at that institution.

Dr. Arthur Glogau, dean of men at OCE the past five years, will be acting director of student affairs, according to Dr. R. E. Lieuallen, president of OCE.

State Board Gives Approval To New OCE Heating Plant

At a meeting in Portland early last week the state board of higher education approved preliminary plans for a combination heating plant and maintenance shop at OCE to cost approximately $375,000. This amount will include purchase of property north of the campus.

The recommendation by the board will be placed before the State Legislature during its coming session for approval. Projects totalling twenty million dollars have been approved for legislative action by the state board of higher education and, significantly, the heating plant at OCE has been placed No. 3 on the state system's priority list.

Dr. R. E. Lieuallen reports that bids will probably be let in the summer of 1959 with the new plant ready to operate in the fall of 1960. At this time the old heating plant will be razed.

Pentacle Announces Summer Schedule

Among the entertainment attractions available to both student and faculty at the OCE summer session, is the Pentacle theatre program. Located east of Rickreall near the Oak Knoll golf course, the first Pentacle production is "Bus Stop," playing June 22 through June 28.

Other plays to be presented include: "The Little Foxes," July 13-19, in which Mr. George Harding of the OCE humanities department will play the role of "Oscar"; "I Am a Camera," Aug. 3-9; and "The Matchmaker," Aug. 24-30.

Attendance last year was excellent and with a limited seating capacity it will again be (Continued on page four)

CHANCELLOR RICHARDS AND ETV

We note with interest Chancellor John R. Richards' report that "college classroom use of educational television channel 7 at Corvallis has been very successful and will be expanded."

Oregon College of Education has been among the four pioneering ETV schools in Oregon this year and justly deserves commendation for a "far-sighted" administration and faculty that have so tirelessly endeavored to make this medium of teaching a success.

ETV, however, is still in its infancy, and many growing pains have yet to be experienced. We will watch with interest the experiment in teaching freshman English composition by a member of the OCE humanities staff, Dr. John Bellamy.

A LOOK AT THE RECORD

Oregon College of Education can justly look with pride at the past decade of progress. Many of those returning this summer session can doubtless remember OCE as it was during and prior to the Korean war.

If you attended this institution in 1948-49 you were among the 485 enrolled. Last fall, 10 years later, 884 students were on our campus. Twenty-six seniors were graduated in 1948. Last spring 113 seniors received diplomas. This increase comes despite an overall drop in veterans enrolled.

An outstanding area of growth is centered in the curricular offerings. OCE has added:

1. A Secondary Education teaching program.
2. A degree in General Studies.
3. Master of Science degrees for:
  - a. Elementary teachers and administrators
  - b. Secondary teachers
4. Many pre-professional programs ranging in length from one to four years
5. Various changes within the teacher education program
6. An expanded liberal arts program

The academic faculty has increased from 48 members in 1948-49 to 78 in 1958-59. Moreover, 1948 saw only four faculty members holding earned doctorates, while this year our faculty staff has 26 persons with doctors degrees.

But this is only the beginning. Come back in 10 years and you'll see the continued progress OCE will undoubtedly make. Our college is growing just as Oregon and the West is growing.

Spring Term Honor Roll Lists 24 at OCE

Jack D. Morton, registrar at Oregon College of Education, recently announced the names of 25 students who have been named to the honor roll for Spring term.

Brain Waste Found Among HS Graduates

"There's brains in them thar hills!" might well be the theme of views expressed by Dr Floyd B Albin, director of general education at OCE and chairman of a committee on the superior student. Dr Albin views as "a tragic loss to Oregon and to the individuals" the fact that one-half of the top 25% of this year's high school graduating class will not go on to college. This means that 3200 of Oregon's best - qualified young people will not benefit from further training.

Dr Albin bases his estimate on figures released by the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School. However, he feels the number of "wasted brains" in Oregon may actually run higher: a good many of the 3200 come from small communities where pressures and finances to go to college are low and pressures to go to work are high.

One result, according to Dr Albin, is that many potential teachers are lost to the communities that have produced them. He suggests a solution similar to that used by many towns in getting doctors—the community locates a student with potential and pays his way through school, with the stipulation that he return to serve a specified term of years.

Next September OCE will initiate a special program for superior students. One facet of the program will be a course for freshmen combining honors sections of World Literature and History of Western Civilization, with participation restricted to the top 8 to 10% of the entering freshmen as determined by past records and a battery of tests administered during freshman week. "But we cannot test and teach the people who won't be here," Dr Albin said. "The next move seems to be up to the parents and communities of the bright young people whose talents are now going to waste."

Greetings, Students

The opening of the Summer Session this year occurs during the celebration of Oregon College of Education's 75th year. During the summer appropriate recognition of this event will be made in assemblies and classrooms.

All of us at OCE are proud of the fine record which our school has made down through the years. A record which is written largely by the success which our students have achieved in the field of education. You, as returning students, are a part of this tradition. You, who are new to the campus, will share in this tradition.

Our plans for the summer session include a well balanced offering of courses, an outstanding staff, and a variety of recreational activities catering to a variety of tastes. Each of you is invited to avail himself of the opportunities available and to enter into the warm friendly atmosphere of campus life at OCE. A hearty welcome to you all.

WALTER E. SNYDER,
Director of Summer Session

Attends Convention

Dr. R. E. Lieuallen, president of Oregon College of Education, will attend the convention of the National Education Association June 28, in Cleveland, Ohio.

As co-chairman of the joint NEA-NCPT (National Congress of Parents and Teachers), Dr. Lieuallen will present a special report of this committee to the convention.

800 Students Anticipated as Summer Session Opens Today

A full array of regular academic courses, workshops and conferences will be offered at Oregon College of Education to an anticipated 800 students, with the opening of summer session this week, according to an announcement by Dr. Walter E. Snyder, director of the summer session.

The session, which runs thru August 15, will begin with registration today, beginning at 9 a.m. in the OCE gymnasium. Classes are scheduled to start on Tuesday, June 24.

Courses leading to the M.S. degree in secondary education will be offered for the first time, initiating a degree program approved by the state board of higher education last February.

Among the "specials" is a work conference June 23 to July 3 sponsored by the Oregon Elementary Principals' association. The conference will have as its theme "Human Relations in Elementary School Administration" and will be conducted by Dr. Donald Patterson, president of Eastern Washington College of Education. Among the other participants are two nationally-known figures, Dr. Bess Goodykoontz, Washington, D.C., director of international education relations, U.S. Office of Education, and Dr. William H. Burton, former director of teacher education at Harvard university.

Nearly a dozen two-week workshops have been scheduled for various times throughout the regular summer session and the August 18-29 post-session. Topics covered will include art education, science, social science, gifted children, reading, school law and organization, and preparation of teaching materials.

In addition to regular OCE staff members, 18 visiting instructors have been added to the faculty list. They include Joy Hills Gubser, Verna Hogg, John Jones, Fay Mort, Dr. A. Weston Niemela, Glen A. Purdom, Norman M. Reynolds, John E. Taylor, and Lloyd T. Thomas. All are of Salem.

Others are: Prudence Bostwick, Northridge, California; Donald S. Bryant, Monmouth; Marie Ring Erickson, Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Mary Fullington, Seattle; Mary M. Petrusich, Corvallis; Patricia Staats, San Jose, California; John E. Wenrick, Bowling Green, Ohio; Dr. Donald S. Tope, Eugene; and Chester Ullin, Bremerton, Washington.

Welcome to OCE

I am sincerely happy to extend a cordial welcome to you the summer school student body.

Our campus activities for the summer session will be many and varied and, we hope, enjoyable to all.

Because I am certain that all of us intend to make of this session one that will be pleasurable and memorable, I am taking this opportunity to urge your participation in student activities to the fullest. I hope that you will not hesitate to express any new, novel or exciting ideas any of you may have for adding to the enjoyment of this summer session.

Too often we regard summer school as a tedious labor. It need not be. It certainly will not be if you take advantage of the many activities planned for your enjoyment this summer. Why shouldn't we make this a part of our vacation instead of just a monotonous task?

As I said, it is my pleasure to serve you; so let me do that to the best of my ability with your help.

LEN TABOR,
ASOCE Summer Representative

Curriculum.

July 29:

Robert Myers To Attend SOEA Conv.

Robert Myers of Salem a junior at OCE, will travel to Bowling Green, Ohio, to attend the Student Education Association council for state presidents. Mr. Myers, president of SOEA, will meet with the other state and territorial president June 21-28.

Late in June he will be joined by SOEA vice-president, Miss Pat Kolanowski, junior from Marylhurst college, Portland, at the National Education Association convention in Cleveland, Ohio, June 29 to July 5.

Myers will be one of 31 official Oregon delegates among the anticipated 6000 persons in attendance at he annual NEA convention. He has been chosen to be a platform guest at the closing assembly and will represent the various student organizations in attendance.

Claude Smith Given First Assistantship

Claude E. Smith, Cottage Grove, has been granted a two-year graduate assistantship in the department of education and psychology at OCE, according to an announcement by Dr. Roy E. Lieuallen, college president.

Under the terms of the assistantship, the first of its type at OCE, Smith will work toward his master's degree and instruct laboratory classes in audio-visual techniques.

Smith, whose parents, Mr and Mrs Thomas L Smith, live at 841 First, Cottage Grove, was graduated from OCE on June 13. His appointment will begin in September.

346 Receive Degrees At Spring Graduation

Degrees were conferred this spring on 346 persons during Oregon College of Education's 75th annual commencement exercises on June 13.

Included in the list are five honor graduates who maintained cumulative grade point averages of 3.5 or above. They are: Aura Lee Deaver, Monmouth, 3.91; Marcia Jane Yoder, Hubbard, 3.66; Richard Thomas Tanner, Cornelius, 3.62; Carolyn Verda White, Lebanon, 3.62; and Charlotte Sumako Sakamoto, Lahaina, Hawaii, 3.5.

OCE Library Features Children's Book Exhibit

An exhibit of 600 new and recent children's books by America's foremost authors and illustrators, is currently on display at the OCE library, according to Mrs. Dessa Hofstetter, librarian.

The books fall into 32 subject categories and cover all grades from kindergarten through high school. Both fiction and non-fiction are represented. A complete graded and annotated catalog of the exhibit is available for free distribution to teachers, librarians and other school personnel.

"Books on Exhibit," a cooperative enterprise of the country's leading publishers, has sent the exhibit here. The purpose of this service is to make available to schools and libraries a completely representative collection of Junior Library Books in organized exhibit form and thus aid teachers and librarians, in book selection.

The exhibit will be open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.—Mondays to Thursdays — and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.—Fridays and Saturdays—through June 28.

Humanities Chairman At Univ. of Colorado

A Monmouth educator will be featured as a guest lecturer at the University of Colorado 1958 summer session. Dr. Jane Dale will be one of 64 visiting lecturers in the college of education. She will teach courses during the second of two five-week terms to be held this summer.

Dr. Dale will teach classes in language arts in the elementary school and children's literature. She is chairman of the OCE humanities department.

Elementary Principal's Conference Opens This Week on OCE Campus

Oregon Elementary School Principal's Association Work Conference, to be held on the OCE campus June 23 to July 3, will explore the theme "Human Relations in Elementary School Administration."

Participants will include: Dr. Don Patterson, president, Eastern Oregon College of Education, conference leader; Dr. William H. Burton, formerly director of teacher education, Harvard university; Dr. Prudence Bostwick, professor of education, Los Angeles State college; and Dr. Bess Goodykoontz, director, International Education Relations, United States Office of Education, Washington, D.C.

The conference will feature certain selected case studies of actual situations in school administration in Oregon, and these case studies will be analyzed under the leadership of experienced school administrators in an attempt to determine the elements of practice in human relations which contribute to or detract from a satisfactory solution to the problem.

Approximately 70 elementary principals are expected for the two-week conference.
