STUDENT BODY IN A MILITANT MOOD

Organization Has Aggressive Program Under Way Past Achievements

Once more we are gathered at Oregon Normal School, eager to take up our work. The uncertainty and bustle of registration week will soon be over and a memory only. Our whole mind and efforts will be diverted to the tasks before us.

Tho' many students have passed from our ranks and we miss them greatly, there are others here who we hope will successfully carry on the work left for us to do—and numerous are the tasks.

"The Student Body Association" of the Oregon Normal School has been organized for the purpose of arranging the various departments of student enterprise under a centralized head; to secure united action upon all questions of general student concern, to advance the social and intellectual welfare of the student body, and to cooperate with the faculty and the alumni of the Oregon Normal School in furthering its vital interests.

The officers of the organization consist of a president, a vice president, secretary and song leader. The officers for the term are:

President—Effie L. Wagner

Vice president—Bernice Schroeder

Secretary—Priscilla Chatten

Song Leader—Katharine Starr.

The power to legislate, govern and control the affairs of this association is vested in a representative body, known as "Student Body Council of Oregon Normal School."

Without such an organization the individual effort of each student would probably be of minor value. Great deeds are accomplished thru the organized, systematized and unified work of many.

The influence of the work of the Student Body has been far reaching, but one of the most recent pieces of work accomplished was the construction of the new tennis courts and the enlarging of the two already built to regulation size. This work is being paid for by the student body. Tho there is still some to be paid on the courts it is sincerely hoped that the present student body will finish paying the debt.

One of the finest pieces of work thus far started at the Oregon Normal School is the movement for standardized and higher professional requirements for teachers. This movement was launched during the summer session under the direction of George Lusby, student body presi-

Largest of Student Bodies Greeted Formally by Faculty

The reception given by the members of the faculty for all the students of the Oregon Normal School will long be remembered by the latter for the friendly atmosphere and the cordiality of the faculty. Old students were welcomed back and new students were made to feel that they were a part of the O. N. S. and could expect friendly helpfulness from each member of the faculty. Students were received into the chapel from the two main entrances where the receiving lines met and welcomed each one. Music as well as happiness was in the air. New acquaintances were made among the students as they gradually formed an audience before the stage.

Hallways, stage, reception rooms and the chapel, were gorgeous with autumn foliage. Everywhere the warm colors of vine maple, zenias and other autumn flowers, made bright spots against the lovely wall tones. The reception lines were against a background that spoke of dent. The teachers all over the state have been organized into an effective working group. We have the active support of the state superintendent of schools, J. A. Churchill, the Alumni of the Oregon Normal School and the teachers of the schools of Portland.

If each student here will only feel that this is my school, and have a vital interest in all student activities and give to the school their necessary support, this year is destined to be the finest and biggest that the school has yet known.

Hark, All Ye Juniors A Call To Organize

You are registered and school has begun in earnest but you will not be able to feel settled until you have made up your mind what club you are going to join.

In our Normal school there are five clubs:

1. The Sacajawea
2. Alpha Delta Gama
3. Oregon Curtain and Quill
4. The Delphians
5. The Vespertines

It is a ruling of the school that everyone must belong to some one of these clubs. You are permitted to choose for yourself the one you desire to join. If, however, in a reasonable length of time, you have not chosen one, the committee will decide for you.

You will next want to know the fee and what we do in these clubs.

The dues are the small sum of 25 and 50 cents a year and are repaid threefold by the rousing good times derived from belonging to them. Each club presents a program, either the artistic ability of Miss Brenton and her Art department.

The bright costuming of eight hundred charming young ladies added much to the attractiveness of the room.

President Landers' words of greeting were appropriate and impressive. They were followed by a group of vocal solos charmingly rendered by Miss Woodruff. Miss Goehring's dialect readings were received with much enthusiasm as were the violin selections by Miss Mitchell. The graceful dancer was greatly enjoyed by the audience. Miss Hahn, a former student, entertained with whistling solos. Mrs. Savage gave delightful readings also. Mrs. Landers sang a closing group of songs. Her voice has always been enjoyed by her hearers.

The reception was very successful and afforded a splendid opportunity for the forming of friendships which are the basis of co-operation.

er a play or a feature of some kind for student body attraction and entertainment. These are put in at different intervals during the year, just at the time most suited, keeping the school year from seeming a drag.

The clubs compete against one another in basket-ball, baseball and volleyball, altogether making the school year one of delight, loyalty and cheerfulness.

Now is the time to discuss it with your pals and decide upon the club you desire to join. My final word is:

Choose as you please,

Pay your small fees

And then feel at your ease.

Our Library—Its Hours And Some Regulations

The Library rooms are for quiet study. Those using them are expected to refrain from all unnecessary conversation. Person wishing to converse are expected to go outside to do so. Those disregarding the silence rule will be deprived of library privileges.

Books, other than Reference and Reserve books, may be drawn for a period of two weeks. Fine for failure to return these books on time is one cent a day.

Books put on reserve by instructors are for use in reading rooms only. They will be loaned for one period. Each reserve book must be charged at the loan desk when taken. They should not be left on tables or loaned to another person.

Students failing to return reserve books to the loan desk are subject to a fine of five cents on each book for each period kept overtime.

Reference books and magazines are

Recreation Time of Normal Teachers Finds Them In Widely Scattered Places

President Landers was here during the summer, working hard as he always does, for the Normal. The Oregon Normal School is fortunate in having such a man for its president.

Miss Arbuthnot and Miss Brenton had a wonderful trip through various parts of Europe. Here is just a bare outline of the interesting places they visited: The Azores; Lisbon, Portugal; in Italy, Naples, Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, Strada; in Switzerland—Montreux, Prison of Chillon, Geneva; in France; Paris, Versailles, Verdun, Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood, Rheims, Amiens, Rouen; in Belgium, Brussels and Antwerp; in Holland; Amsterdam, The Hague, Delft and the Isle of Marken; and in England; London, Canterbury, Oxford, Sulgrave Manor (Washington's ancestral home) Stratford-on-Avon, and Liverpool.

Mr. Beattie went to Stanford during the first part of the summer and then toured Oregon and California.

Mrs. Bell went to the beach on her honeymoon, and then spent some busy days getting her home in order.

Mr. Butler had a busy vacation. For a week he enjoyed Coos bay with his headquarters in North Bend. With friends he took the gloriously western Mount Hood loop trip. Then by way of The Dalles through Wasco and Madras he went to Bend and Prineville, stopping on the return trip over the McKenzie pass, at Belknap springs. The rest of the time he spent in doing odds and ends at home such as a little agriculture and a little horticulture.

Mr. Dodds was at home most of the time, but spent four days at the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Odd Fellows in Portland.

Miss Erickson visited in Portland for a time, and spent the rest of her vacation at her home in Colorado, hiking and riding horseback.

Mr. Franseen spent his vacation in Monmouth building a new garage.

Mr. Gentle remained at his farm and roamed the field and hunted

INTRODUCING THE LAMRON TO NEW STUDENTS

The Lamron is the newspaper organ of the Oregon Normal School Student Body and is published once a week, on Monday morning.

In 1923 the Commercial Club started a paper and called it the O. N. S. Breeze. Afterward the Student Body took this paper over and changed its name to Lamron, which is N-o-r-m-a-l spelled backward. The subscription price, 35 cents a term, is covered by the tuition fees and each registered student is entitled to a copy.

The Lamron is a Student Body publication and it is only with the co-operation of the students that it can succeed. Contributions are always welcome and may be left at the Lamron office. The members of the staff are working hard and hope to make this year even more successful than the others have been.

GET ACQUAINTED

There are over nine hundred students at the Normal this fall. Over nine hundred people working together for the same purpose. At other schools students enter for many purposes. Some expect to become doctors, some lawyers, some engineers, and so on. But here at the Normal we all expect to be teachers. What a democratic place this should be.

One of the best way to make a school democratic is for every student to try to know as many of the other students as he can and for every student to know all the teachers. However, we can not wait for formal introductions so it has become a precedent in this school for the student to speak to the teachers and to one another.

It makes one feel very much more a part of an institution if, as he goes from class to class or across the campus, he greets his fellow students with a cheerful "Hello."

Do not worry about the other person. Just do your part and say "Hello."

TAKE YOUR TIME

Welcome, new students, welcome to our old halls of learning which will soon grow as dear to you as they have grown in the past to the alumni of the O. N. S.

Just be patient till your schedule is finally settled after the twelfth alteration. Haven't you found Daddy Butler's pleasant greeting and smile always welcoming you and your troubles? His helping hand is always ready to assist.

Today we've found ourselves lost in a surging crowd of eager learners in the corridors of the administration building. Over nine hundred students the majority of whom are new, are besieging O. N. S. for further instruction so that they may become efficient school teachers.

New Members of Faculty

Miss LaVelle Barger, of Eugene, Oregon, is a new member of the Physical Education department. She has been teaching in Cottage Grove. Two years ago she taught here so the school and faculty are not new to her.

Miss Dora A. Berg who is teaching in the Art Department, is from Des Moines, Iowa. Miss Berg has a diploma in Art from Cornell college, she has had work in the University of Iowa, and has a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the University of Nebraska. She has also done post graduate work at that university. Miss Berg has been teaching in the Kansas State College, Emporia. This summer she taught in the Normal at Springfield, South Dakota.

Mr. Christiansen is a new member of our History department. His home is in California. He has been just loafing, so he says, for the past two years. Mr. Christiansen is a graduate of the Kansas State Teachers' College.

Mrs. Culver, who is teaching in the English department has an A. B. degree from the University of Denver and has begun work on a Master's degree. Formerly she attended the University of Nebraska. Mrs. Culver has taught in the Denver Public schools, in the Kearney state normal and in the state agricultural college of Colorado.

Miss Henkle, assistant in the English department is new. She was critic teacher in primary work in Independence for three years. She taught here in the Normal during the last five weeks of summer school.

Inez Miller, who is a new member of our Rural department, has been for five years critic at Mountain View. She has spent the last two years at the University of Oregon.

Miss Alice Peterson who graduated from here in 1923 is filling Miss Jennie Peterson's place until she returns which will be in three weeks.

Boost the Norm

The Norm, our annual, is published by all the students and for all the students. It is but natural that we want this year's Norm to be better than ever before. This cannot be accomplished by one or two but takes the co-operation of every student. "But how can I help?" you ask. There is some way for each and every one of us to help. Perhaps you have some clever snaps, or jokes. Perhaps you are also an artist, or a cartoonist. Perhaps a typist? Everyone can co-operate by having his picture taken on time and early.

Find your particular way to help and then give your most loyal and efficient aid. In this way a bigger and better Norm will be possible and you will feel that you have helped make it so.

Norm Manager Resigns

At the chapel exercises on Friday the resignation of Roland Johnson from the office of business manager of the Norm was accepted. Mr.

Johnson is attending the O. A. C. this fall and so can not continue with the duties of this office to which he was elected. Wilbur Rowe was nominated to succeed him and will be declared business manager by unanimous ballot to be cast by the secretary on Wednesday unless further nominations are made.

Fine Music Year Promised If Eyes Center On Baton

Students who have been here before have noticed several changes in the Music Department this fall. Miss Lorence has a year's leave of absence and is attending Columbia university. In her place is Miss Grace Maurie Mitchell who comes to us from Urbana, Illinois, where she was music supervisor.

We are sorry to know of Miss Jennie Peterson's illness which will probably keep her in her home in Idaho for a month yet. But we are fortunate in having her sister, Miss Alice Peterson, to take charge of the work in her absence. The many friends of Miss Peterson are wishing for her a speedy recovery and are looking forward to her return to the campus.

Students who are musically inclined should know about the special course offered. By doing special practice teaching in music one may obtain a certificate to teach music in the grades or junior high schools. Many schools are asking for grade teachers who can do special work in music. This course prepares you especially for such work and it requires only one term of work in addition to the two year standard course. Students interested should see Miss Woodruff, head of the Music Department, early in your course so as to schedule correctly for it.

Miss Woodruff reports that the Glee Club and Orchestra will be conducted much the same as in the past. Anyone who sings is invited to join the Glee Club. It is hoped that there will be a large number so that we may have a smaller select chorus also. If there are enough men desiring it Miss Woodruff will be glad to organize a club for them too.

It is enjoyable work and also affords you the opportunity of earning a little extra credit.

The Orchestra will not begin practicing until Miss Peterson returns.

Incidentally, let's all do our best to help make chapel singing good and enjoyable. Miss Woodruff says she knows of only one reason why our singing chapel can't be the best assembly singing in the state. Perhaps you have noticed it. There seems to be stronger attraction on the opposite side of the stage in the faces of Mr. Gentle and Dr. Schutte. We hate to have to move them to the other side. So please learn to watch Miss Woodruff instead of them and try to follow her baton.

Smile! Open your mouths! Sing! You'll like it.

Cross-eyed judge to first prisoner:—What have you got to say?

Second prisoner:—I didn't do anything.

Judge:—I was not talking to you.

Third prisoner:—I didn't say anything.

Warren:—Why do you wear such a loud hat?

Mel:—To keep me awake in my classes.

"Talents" Is The Theme Of First Chapel Address

"Talents" was the theme of President Landers' opening address to the students at the first chapel of the new year.

"We are now entering a new world, heart, body and soul, and it is under these circumstances that we may show our talents."

"Strauss's newest picture portrays this incident clearly and his suggestions as to mastering it might well be suited to us all."

"This one thing I do," was suggested by President Landers as an excellent aim for every Normal student.

"This one thing I do—forget those things which are behind and reach forward to those which are before."

The incident of the Dayton bank robbery was used as an instance of men who neglected to use the rule.

On the other hand Thomas A. Edison is a fine example of a man with an aim in life. Only recently Mrs. Edison and physicians suggested to him that through an operation his hearing might be restored. But Mr. Edison has become so accustomed to the seclusion offered by his condition and relied on it so much for concentration, that he felt it would be an injustice to his work to break down the barrier.

The famous Illinois half-back, Harold Grange, is another example of a man with an aim. His ambition is to become a lawyer or a physician and not even an offer of a $300,000 contract with a motion picture concern could swerve him from his purpose.

Both of these men appreciate the value of concentrating on a definite aim and both have succeeded. Could finer examples be found?

STUDENT OPINION

Students are invited to express their opinions on matters related to the Normal school through this column. The editor will not be responsible for things published here. The articles must be signed to insure the good intentions of the writer but the name of the writer need not be published.

How many are interested in the Juniors? I am because I am one of them. Of course the seniors are important but not nearly so much so as we Juniors. However we are not yet organized and almost the first week has slipped by. Are we going to lose more time? Are we, Juniors? Nay! just as soon as we may we want to select our officers, choose our colors, and show school what a peppy bunch belongs to Oregon Normal.

There have been almost nine hundred registered and of that number six hundred are Juniors. Mr. Franseen was right when he said one striking fact about the Juniors was their quantity. Let's show him and the others that we have quality also.

Watch for announcement telling when and where to meet to organize.

Yes! You Seniors are a dandy bunch and have been most lovely to us. We appreciate you and couldn't get along without you. Still don't you wish you were a Junior?

The Faculty has been watchful. We like you now but hope to know you better and hope you will learn to like us, too.

A Junior

WELCOME

When our last farewells are whispered
And we aboard are gone,

To some far distant corner
Where all is strange and alone;
When slowly our jerking train
Twists its way through the winding path,

And all that is homey and lovely
Are things that belong to the past.
'Tis then that a feeling of sadness
O'er fills our hearts with pain,
And oh, how we long for a quiet spot
Just to rest and to think again.

But come! no time for mournful thots,
Welcome, dear ones, once more;
Friend's faces and embraces
Greet us, one and all.
It is Normal, our dear old Normal,
That extends a helping hand;
And 'tis then the feeling of sadness
Creeps away and hides once again.

Miss Gohring was at her home in Tacoma. From there she went to that loveliest of lakes, Crescent, and climbed a mountain near it.

Mrs. Hall went to Seattle during her vacation. There she saw the government locks which are said to be the second in size only to those in the Panama canal, although the man who operated the locks told her they were only one third as large. Mrs. Hall saw the machinery that operates the locks and was shown how to work the lever which opens the locks. She visited several commercial schools and the University of Washington.

Miss Macpherson went east with Miss Todd over the Canadian Pacific, stopping at Lake Louise and motoring from there to Banff. Miss Macpherson visited at her home in Ottawa, Canada.

Mr. Meador was in Eastern Oregon, Prairie City, to be exact. There he fished and enjoyed himself.

Miss Mingus visited her sister in Iowa, and was also in Omaha and Cheyenne

Miss Mylne spent ten days at Newport enjoying the ocean.

Dr. Schutte visited friends in Marshfield, fished at Lakeside and camped at several beaches. Mr. Miller, father of Jeanette Miller, a Normal student of last year, and Josephine Savage, a Senior at this school, and Mrs. Schutte were in the lower Rogue river valley hunting deer.

Mr. Stanbrough spent a week on a farm, and two weeks at the Tillamook beaches, mainly at Pacific City.

Miss Taylor and Miss Criswell went to Tacoma during their vacation. Miss Criswell visited the Tacoma libraries and took a three day cruise on the sound.

Miss Wood spent her vacation at her home in Corvallis.

Miss Woodruff was in Torchlight, North Michigan, a part of her vacation. For a week she studied in Chicago, and spent the rest of her time in Iowa, visiting her family. Miss Woodruff had a six-hundred mile ride across Nebraska and returned to Monmouth by way of Denver, Salt Lake and San Francisco. She visited normals in three different states.

Dormitory Vacation

Miss Todd, our Dean of Women, accompanied by Miss Macpherson, this summer went East over the Canadian Pacific. They separated in Chicago and from there Miss Todd went to her brother's home in Kokomo, Indiana. They then drove over the Lincoln and Harding highways to their old home in Pennsylvania, in the vicinity of Pittsburg. Miss Todd returned from Kokomo on the Great Northern.

Mrs. Parker spent her vacation in Seattle. She visited her sister at Three Tree Point which is on the Sound.

Miss Zipple visited at her home in Portland.

Improvements About the Buildings and Campus

Have you noticed anything new around school? There is a new office for Mr. Butler and a new enclosure for the reserve book desk in the model library. It will help the new students in knowing where to stand, by having one window for returned books and one from which books may be taken.

The roof has been newly shingled. It looks better than a plain bob. This will save the Juniors the trouble of carrying their umbrellas to class for fear of spoiling their new slickers.

There has been plenty of paint used all over town to brighten up things for the students. Miss Todd has been hard at work on all the living places in town to try and make them more homelike to students. The arcades and the music room in the dormitory were always inviting rooms, but the new finish of walls and woodwork has added to their loveliness, under the artistic guidance of Miss Todd.

To Miss Todd, President Landers and the helping faculty we give a hearty thanks for their thoughtfulness and hard labor in getting the school ready for the students.
