Willamette Trims Wolves By 29-28

Bearcats Win in Overtime Period Before Big Crowd In Independence Gym.

Oregon Normal school suffered its first defeat of the season last Wednesday night at Independence when the Willamette university Bearcats nosed out the Wolves 28-29 in the last few seconds of an overtime period. Pettys and Burdette, with one field goal each as against Kitchen's field goal and Benjamin's foul throw decided the contest.

Willamette led off with a free-throw and a field goal before the Wolves got going; both teams missing many "set-ups." Benjamin soon logged a long one to start the Wolves scoring. Lemon scoring the next field goal for Willamette. Benjamin took a nice pass from Averill and got away for another goal. "Herbie" Ystad entered the game at this time and immediately looped a field goal right off the reel. In a mix-up under the Wolves' basket, Averill picked up a counter. Frantz then tied up the score by dropping one from mid-court. Benjamin fouled Burdette and the flashy Bearcat forward calmly dropped it in just as the first half ended with the scoreboard reading Willamette 9, ONS 8.

At the beginning of the second period Kloostera plucked a nice one-handed shot, and Hartley came right back with another one to take a four point lead over the Teachers. Benjamin came back with a sweeping field goal; Kitchen and Ashby each converted a free throw to tie up the score, but Ystad fouled Kloostera and the lanky Bearcat pivot man calmly converted both throws. "Skipper" Averill, playing a "bang-up" game of ball for the Wolves, came through with two beautiful shots to put the Wolves in the lead. Pettys and Connors again dropped in two uncanny shots to put the Bearcats into the lead again, and Averill came through with another beautiful shot, but a field goal and a foul throw by Connors, mammoth Bearcat guard, again put his team in the lead. Ashby dropped in a free throw, and

Julia Glenn Sings In Assembly on January 15

The chapel program on Monday, January 15, provided singular entertainment for ONS when Miss Juliet Glen sang. Miss Glen comes from Seattle where she has done extensive work. In the state of Washington as a whole and in Oregon, she has done much concert singing. At present, Miss Glenn is appearing in Dallas, from where she will go to California to continue her concert tour.

The numbers presented by Miss Glen were: Morning, by Speaks; Do Not Go, My Love, by Hageman; A Spirit Flower, Campbell-Tipton; There Are Fairies in the Bottom of our Garden, Lehman; Aurette, Je Veux Vivre Dane Ce Reve (from Romeo and Juliet), by Gounod; Tristesse, by Chopin; Ein Schwan, Greig; Im Kahne, Greig; Zwiengnung, Strauss; Black Roses, by Sibelius; and Come Out in the Sweet, Spring Night, by Gilberte.

Miss Glen was accompanied by Mrs. Florence W. Hutchinson.

New Books In Library Of Interest To Students

The library has been fortunate in securing a number of new books to supplement the courses offered. The new psychology books are: "Mental Defective," by Berry, and "Seven Psychologies," by Heidebreder. The geography books are: "History of Geography," by Dickinson, "Green Hell," by Duguid, "Textbook of Oceanography," by Jenkins, and "Northwest Nature Trails," by Lampman. Several new biology books are: "Biology of the Protozoa," by Calkins, "Great Men in Science," by Lenard, and "Applied Eugenics," by Popenoe. Other new books are: "History of English Literature," by Cambridge, "Problems of Education in the United States," by Judd, "Best Short Stories of 1933," by O'Brien, "Earth History," by Snider, and "World's Resources and Industries," by Zimmerman.

Each month the library intends to add new books both for practice teaching reference and for the courses in the curriculum.

Book Nook

Would you like to meet your favorite authors face to face and become intimate with them and all the phases of their lives? Then you should acquaint yourself with Authors Today and Yesterday, a new and entirely different volume of biography which not only presents the lives of 320 modern authors, but also tells such delightful details as their convictions, pet prejudices, idiosyncrasies, and tastes in society, literature, entertainment and dress.

Authors Today and Yesterday is unquestionably the most important recent contribution to literary history. Published by the H. W. Wilson company as a companion book to Living Authors, it exceeds even this outstanding reference work in usefulness and readability. The range of its contents is world-wide and, in cases where the subjects of the sketches are still living, the facts are autobiographical in form. In this way, the volume provides not only biographies but living personalities. Autobiographical sketches written in the inimitable style of individual authors give the book a charming color and make it as entertaining as any volume of fiction.

The editor of this volume is Stanley J. Kanitz, who was assisted by Howard Haycraft and Wilbur C. Hadden. The volume includes only those authors whose books have appeared wholly or in part since 1900. All the writers already included in the other book are excluded from this work.

Besides being a very convenient and worthwhile reference book this publication provides much fascinating random reading material. But idly thumbing through the pages one is able to form such interesting conclusions as these: "Most authors seem to prefer quiet living and avoid social gatherings, literary teas, and interviews. In general they would rather live in the country than the city; they like animals and the outdoors, music and the theater. They dislike bigotry and seem to prefer the company of peasants and even fools to that of sophisticated people. Almost all authors say they hate and give detailed descriptions of the agony that writing involves, yet they all seem to prefer being authors to anything else in the world."

House Points Of Fall Term Listed

Dormitory Second Floor Garners Most Credits; Arnold Arms Second

For the fall 1933 term, girls of various houses earned a grand total of 5,940 house points. The group of second floor dormitory girls leads with a total of 1,880, with Arnold Arms and Wallulah Hall second and third. Arnold Arms had a total of 1,045 points and Wallulah Hall had a total of 1,010. The other houses ranked as follows: First and third floor dormitory, 885; Omigas, 390; Arbor Lodge House, 360; Loan Carl Van, 280; White Hall, 115; and Merrimac Hall, 75.

Individual girls who helped to swell the totals for their houses by gaining a large number of points were: Second floor dormitory, Mary Louise Kistler, Nancy Hudson and Evelyn Smith, each 110 points. In Arnold Arms, Adelaide de Freitas obtained high score with 160 points. Louise Tufts gained a total of 125 for Arbor Lodge House, and Lucille Berney made a total of 245 for first and third floor dormitory.

In compiling the list of house points the three divisions in which more points were gained were scholarship, cooperation and athletics. The other points were sparsely scattered under the various other classifications.

Principal of Independence Training School Weds

Those we are working at the Independence training school are finding it necessary to adjust themselves in the use of a new name which is often used about the building.

At Battle Ground, Washington, on Christmas eve, Miss Oma Belle Emmons was married to Mr. William Fredrick McBee of Eugene. Only the immediate families witnessed the ceremony. Little Jeanne Emmons, a niece of the bride, was the only attendant. She carried the pillow on which the two rings were hidden in flowers for the double ring ceremony, which was used. Rev. James of the First Methodist church of Battle Ground performed the ceremony.

Mrs. McBee has been working with the Normal school for a number of years. She was at the Rickreall center when it was first established as a training school, remaining there for seven years. Since that time she spent a year at the Monmouth training school, from there going to Independence where she has been principal for three years.

Mr. McBee is with the Booth Kelley Lumber company, where he has been employed for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. McBee are making their home in Independence and are greeting their many friends who are wishing them joy and happiness.

La Danza Tryouts Slated For Tonight, Recital Next

La Danza will meet tonight at seven o'clock in the gymnasium. Try-outs will be held and each girl trying-out should bring her music and musician. The club members are starting rehearsals for a recital which will be given this winter term. Miss Parker, adviser, has not yet set the date.

Seventy-Five Organize Into Camp Fire Group

Seventy-five girls have enrolled for the Camp Fire guardianship training class to be held every Monday evening under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Barnum, Camp Fire instructor.

Four divisions of the class have been made for convenience of the groups in organization. The officers of the groups are: Jean Bailey, Mary Lou Kistler, Laura Ruggles and Mrs. Hannah Smith, who are torch bearers, the highest rank in Camp Fire, and who automatically act as presidents of each of the groups. Vice-presidents are: Mary Lewis, Peggy MacRae, Helen Harris, Margaret Kellogg; secretary-treasurers are, Anna Jane Jacobson, Grace Condit, Eleanor Donofrio, Margaret Willis; scribes, Nancy Hudson, Elizabeth Baker, Kathleen Holmes, La Velle Worthington; song leaders, Muriel Jerstedt, Virginia Leitch, Mary Romiti, Dorothy Grutze; pianists, Vivian Cartier and Beatrice Simons.

The girls receive instruction in first aid, symbolism and stenciling, bead work, outdoor cooking, nature craft, Camp Fire songs and conduction of ceremonial meetings of Camp Fire.

Upon finishing the work the girls receive a national Camp Fire certificate which entitles them to act as leaders of groups in communities, churches and schools.

Art Structure II Class Holds Exhibit in Library

An interesting exhibit of pottery was held in the library on Wednesday, January 17. The exhibit was given by Mrs. Heath's art structure II class, which is studying pottery craft as its unit of work this term. It consisted of about 30 pieces, representing the entire class.

The making of these various pieces of pottery is an interesting work, and their firing is quite difficult. After the dish is completed it is fired in a kiln for 20 hours, then it is glazed, and re-fired for another 15 to 20 hours.

The class is indebted to Miss Marie Ring of Lake Grove, for assisting Mrs. Heath in the firing of these pieces. Miss Ring has taken her master's degree at the UoO in this kind of work.

While this type of craft is distinctly college work, the student can apply his knowledge of simpler problems for use in the public school. He may make Indian pottery, which is painted instead of glazed and fired.

Lettermen Club Plan For Dance

Plans Drawn For Annual Barn Dance To Be Held Early In February

The Lettermen's club held their first meeting of the term last week for the purpose of drawing up plans for their annual barn dance that will take place some time early next month in the gymnasium. The exact date will be announced in the near future.

Lloyd Gustafson, president of the group, took charge at the meeting and appointed several committees to start immediate preparations for the affair. The decoration committee consists of "Putz" Arens, Tom Preece, Ted Cottingham, Chet Olcott, Paul Franzen, and Ken McKenzie. The advertising committee consists of Orville Johnson, and Don Deming, while Jimmy Clark and Johnny Murdock will be in charge of the music for the evening.

The dance is to be a date affair, with straw hats, overalls and gingham dresses in order. A small admission of 25 cents a couple will be charged, or if you wish to come stag, the admission will be 20 cents a person. We hope that everyone in school will plan to attend, and also, invite your friends if you wish, as the dance is open to everybody.

Number of Students On Sick List During Past Week

The Infirmary has had quite a few guests during the past week. Some of these were transients, stopping just for overnight; others stayed for a longer time.

The majority of the guests were afflicted with colds and the flu, although Florence Brown was down there convalescing after an appendicitis operation.

The rest of the students there included Ken Bowers, Max Allen, Gilbert Mack, Herb Ystad, Crystal Gresham, Beverly Isom and Beulah Miles. Eloise Dorner, Kay Hauptert and Betty Conn are in the infirmary at the present time.

JOURNAL OF A JUNIOR

Dear Ma:

My, oh, my! Such things as have been happening lately!

I went to another of those games where the boys don't hardly wear much, and throw the ball around. Somebody told me it was bucket-ball or something like that. We played this game over at Independence and we lost, but then we almost won. Talk about thrilling games! I yelled all the time, even when I didn't know what it was all about.

Eugene Meyers and Andy Crabtree are the most devoted boys I ever saw. To their girls, I mean. Some great big bullies tried to make them move away and sit on the other side of the gym, but they were staunch and true like Galahad or Lancelot or somebody, even when the other boys called them names. Nelson and Peterson and those other mean fellows called them fussers, but that was silly, because they were doing all the fussing themselves.

We went over to the game on the bus, and coming home I was really and truly disgusted. That Thaddeus Scott (isn't that a darling name?) and the Luckey girl may be madly in love, but they don't need to flaunt their passion under everybody's noses like they did, or whatever you call it.

Last week we were again favored by one of those perfect serenades that are almost too good to be true. They almost had a regular orchestra this time. Or anyway, what with Houghton's clarinet and Cochran's guitar it certainly sounded gorgeous. The only trouble with the serenades around here is the distance between them and the way they don't last very long. I do hope the boys have turned over a new leaf this year.

WOLF SPORTS

Willamette Defeated By Wolves 32 to 24

Rough Contest Played In Salem, Easily Taken By Wolves

The Oregon Normal hoop quintet invaded the Capital City last week and handed the "Giant" hoopmen of Willamette university a 32 to 24 trimming in a game that was a mixture of football, soccer and basketball. Coach "Spec" Keene, experimenting with his lineup, started the game with an untried combination of giants, all of them exceedingly well over the six-foot mark, and towering over the rangy "Sippy" Averill, "Doc" Allen and Roy Benjamin, causing them to look like dwarfs. But the aggressive playing of the Wolves, and the "ball-hawking" of Herbie Ystad and "Doc" Allen gave the Wolves a sparkling victory despite the rough tactics used by the Bearcat "Giants."

The first five minutes of play was on even terms as the taller men from Willamette gained possession of the ball but could not work it into scoring position in spite of their superior height over the speedy and aggressive quintet of hoopsters from Oregon Normal school. Time after time "Squee" Kitchen and "Bobby" Ashby, the diminutive pair of guards for the Wolves, took the ball away from the Bearcat Giants and brought it down to scoring territory, and soon the offense of the Wolves began to click beautifully as they ran up a 17 to 6 lead at the rest period.

At the start of the second half, Coach Keene sent his "small" combination of bearcats into the game, who insisted upon turning the game into a contest of football, soccer and what-not, but the aggressiveness and accurate shooting and guarding of the Wolves earned them a decisive victory.

The Willamette team in the second half, however besides making it more of a football game, began to click for a while and at one time crept up within four points of the Wolves, but the accurate shooting of the Normal quintet proved too much for the Bearcat's sturdy defense.

There were 25 personal fouls called on both teams during the game, 14 being chalked up against Willamette and 11 against the Wolves. Max Allen of the Wolves and Kloostr, lanky Willamette center, having to retire with four personals against each of them.

The lineups:

Oregon Normal Hoopsters Take Pacific in Walkaway

Oregon Normal school's quintet easily captured a victory from Pacific college last week by a score of 39 to 24. Coach Wolfe started the game with his reserves, using them entirely through the first half, which furnished a nip and tuck contest, the half ending 12 to 8 for the Wolves. Pacific led in the scoring first, with a field goal by Putman and one by S. Sandoz. Then the Wolves took the lead that never was threatened.

At the beginning of the second half Coach Wolfe gave his first team a few minutes work-out, and with Benjamin, Averill, Phillips, Kitchen and Ashby checking beautifully, they soon ran the score up to a high margin. A combination of veterans and reserves carried on in the final quarter.

What a game! What a game! That's what everyone was saying as they left the Independence high school gymnasium after the Bearcats of Willamette university nosed out the Wolves of Oregon Normal 29-28. It was, without doubt, one of the most thrilling games that has ever been played on the Independence court, and one of the most spectacular games of basketball one could ever expect to witness. Of course the Wolves were badly handicapped by the absence of "Doc" Allen, and "Herbie" Ystad. These two men were the sparkplugs of the Wolves' attack in the game that was played in the Capitol City when the Wolves trimmed the Bearcats 35-24. Both Allen and Ystad had been confined in the infirmary since the first Willamette game, and although the latter played against the Bearcats in Independence, he was far from his best form, as he was terribly weakened by a flu attack. Of course, we do not want this for an alibi, but there is a good possibility of there being a third and deciding game with the Bearcats as soon as the Wolves return from their eastern invasion, it will undoubtedly strengthen the Wolves considerably to have these two men back. If Willamette plays the kind of ball she did in Independence last week, what a game it should be!!!

When the Union Oil hoop quintet of Portland comes down to Monmouth to play the Oregon Normal Wolves, some time next month, you are going to have an opportunity of seeing perhaps the greatest basketball club in the northwest as well as one of the greatest on the Pacific Coast, in action. The Oilers have a group of stars representing four large schools of the northwest, headed by lanky Ed Lewis, All-American center of the Pacific Coast Champion Oregon State Beavers for last year. Jerry Thomas and Buck Grayson, the latter being one of the cleverest ball-handlers in basketball, also are ex-Oregon State hoopers. University of Oregon has donated "Vince" Dolp and "Hank" Levoff, a pair of ex-Webfoot stars who are two of the finest shots in the game. These

Girls Chosen To Represent Classes On Maple Court

Last week Miss Kirk with the aid of a competent group of basketball authorities, selected from the ranks of the W.A.A., submitted the long anticipated list of girls chosen for the various basketball teams.

The high qualifications required for these positions warrant their evident desirability among the players. One of the important considerations is scholastic rating, another is perfect attendance at practices and tryouts. Sportsmanship is a deciding factor, and last, but not least, the ability to play the position sought.

First from each class was chosen a first team, the members are:

Seniors: Forwards, Riley, Tufts; guards, Throop, Garriott; side center, Holmes; center, Berney; subs., Valplan and Goodnecht.

Juniors: Forwards, Darling, M. Smith; guards, Grunner, Crowley; side center, Snodgrass; center, Baker; subs, H. Smith, Cronin.

Those girls making the second teams are: Seniors, E. Smith, Buell, Crowe, Monroe, Peary, Lingman, with Speasl for substitution; juniors, Anderson, Behrens, Nelson, Burguard, Hutton, Overstreet, with Austin and Cooper for substitutions.

The third teams are composed of: Seniors, Michels, Hiteman, Parrish, Speasl, Fair and Crowe; juniors, Esh, Bennett, Ebell, Wheeler, Seely, Stafford, with Belard and Belknap for substitutions.

Each of these girls will receive a number of points toward her letter for her contribution to these teams.

A tournament is being run off among these teams in which keen competition is being enjoyed between the senior first, the junior first and the junior second teams. The finals in this tournament will be the termination of the basketball season.

(Notice:—Watch the bulletin board for the volleyball schedule, girls, and let's make this a big season.)

boys shoot them from any place, and how they sink them! Hal Inman and Ralph Cairney hail from the University of Washington, and the latter has all-coast honors to his credit, as well as being perhaps one of the greatest guards that has ever donned basketball togs. From Gonzaga university in Spokane comes Bill Murphey, a rough and tough Irishman, who is right at home on the maple court, and who completes the Oilers' roster. It will be a real treat to see this club in action in Monmouth or Independence, so bear this game in mind as one that you will, under no circumstances, miss!

Perhaps some of us are not acquainted with a gentleman around the campus who is rather pugilistically inclined. (Continued on Page Four)

O. N. S. Hoopsters Off On Road Trip

Wolves To Meet C. of I., E. O. N. S. and Multnomah On Trip This Week

Coach Larry Wolfe and nine of his ONS hoopsters left yesterday afternoon for Caldwell, Idaho, where tonight they are to face the first game of their trip, meeting the strong hoop quintet from College of Idaho.

The traveling squad that will represent the Crimson and Gray of Oregon Normal school upon their invasion of eastern Oregon and Idaho include the following players: Roy Benjamin, Jim Burrell and Chet Phillips, forwards; "Sippy" Averill and "Doc" Allen, centers; and Bob Ashby, "Squee" Kitchen, Herb Ystad and Jimmy Mackey, guards.

After meeting the College of Idaho in Caldwell tonight, the Wolves return to La Grande where they will meet Eastern Oregon Normal school on Thursday and Friday nights, winding up the trip by returning to Portland where they will face Multnomah club Saturday night.

The Wolves, who have chalked up five victories and have suffered but one defeat so far this season when Willamette nosed them out by one point in an overtime period at Independence last week, are strengthened considerably by the return of "Doc" Allen and "Herb" Ystad, who have been laid up in the infirmary with the flu the past week, and the Wolves are certain to be in the best possible form upon their eastern jaunt.

TRAINING SCHOOLS

MONMOUTH

The training school is fully organized with 195 students doing practice teaching. Of the 195 students 18 per cent are men. The distribution of the practice teachers to the various training schools is such that each student carries his maximum load in the training school. Miss Trotter states that the regularly scheduled demonstration lessons for students now doing practice teaching will begin the last week in January. The supervising teachers say that classes this term have been swinging off unusually smooth.

The M.T.S. has organized its orchestra again this term under the leadership of Mildred Lee. Several new instruments have been added as well as several new members. The two new members are Beverly Morlan, E flat horn, 6th grade, and Rayburn Frint, cornet, 8th grade. Also several new instruction classes have been organized to meet at 12:30 p.m. Miss Richards is teaching cornet. A new violin class has likewise been organized. The orchestra progressed so rapidly last term under the directorship of Mr. Loner that it now plays the marches for assembly.

The Monmouth P.T.A. holds its meetings on the evenings of the last Tuesday of each month. The next meeting will use as its theme the founding of the P.T.A. which was February 1st. All student teachers are cordially invited to attend the meetings, especially the Monmouth student teachers.

The 7th grade civics class has been studying thrift in connection with Benjamin Franklin. His sayings, taken from Poor Richard's Almanac, have been an interesting sub-topic. Franklin's birthday, the 17th of January, will be celebrated in Friday's assembly with a program given by the 7th grade using them any interesting facts they have learned about Franklin.

The 6th grade composition class, under Mr. Chapman and Miss Trenary, are working on a project, "Advertise Oregon." They are attempting to inform those within the state as well as those outside, of our many scenic spots, products and advantages. The class intends to write letters to other schools outside the state describing to them our beautiful scenery. Copies of these letters will be kept to combine into a booklet to show to the other grades of the M. T. S.

On Friday, January 12, Miss Ida Mae Smith spoke at a luncheon which was held at the Sign of the Rose tearoom in Portland. She spoke before an educational group committee which is planning to open a nursery school for children of working mothers.

WHO'S WHO

We nominate for our hall of fame today, Evelyn Smith.

She is the girl you see every Saturday night social hour—an important part of the orchestra—the pianist. Her musical talents are varied, for she also plays the violin in the school orchestra. She is a recently pledged member of Staff and Key, and is president of the dormitory second floor organization. She belongs to Phi Beta Sigma, and is treasurer of the International club. She snatches a few minutes from the rest of her activities to practice teach at Rickreall, and to write for the Lamron.

Roy Benjamin—"Benjy" to you—is amply fitted to rate our Who's Who for this week. He is one of our bigger and better basketball stars—having played on the team ever since he transferred to Oregon Normal from Willamette. He also plays football, and distinguished himself equally as well on the gridiron. He is a member of the lettermen's club.

Does that sound interesting, girls? Well, we're sorry, to disappoint you, but he's being very well taken care of at the present time.

ALUMNI NEWS

In an Anthology of Recent Oregon Verse, compiled by the New University Press, are found the works of the following Oregon Normal school alumni and faculty: Helen Linneberg, '33; John Lehman, '31; Lee J. Barnum, '29; and Mrs. Mona D. Sheldon, who is the 7th grade critic at Independence.

Bertram Shienke was seen around school the first part of this week.

Ruth Naef, Eunice Maulding and Bob Keebler were at social hour Saturday night.

Carl Steelhammer, who is teaching in Clatsop county, was around at the first of the term visiting the training schools and teachers to take back some ideas which he could use in his school.

Bill Baker, formerly of this institution, who is now enrolled at OSC, with some of his friends were guests at social hour Saturday night.

Mac McKenzie who is teaching at Oswego came to show us his unforgettable smile and to dance a few times at social hour. He knows now that we have crept out of our depression period—the new coat-rack in our gym.

clined. If not, we should be. This certain young man is none other than Andy Crabtree. Andy is training every night in the gymnasium, and does most of his fighting in Portland at the St. Johns arena, under the name of Tommy Ross. Andy, up to date, has had 30 fights; he has won 23, lost four and has fought three draws, which is a very good record. Aside from becoming a school teacher, Andy should have a very bright future in the boxing field, because he has exceptional ability and plenty of what it takes to become a good fighter. Keep it up, Andy, we're with you.

Another Oregon Normal athlete who has been confined in the infirmary for the last week is Ken Bowers, stocky guard of the varsity football team last fall. Ken is recovering from a bad attack of influenza which came very close to developing into pneumonia. Ken is up and around again, now and we are mighty glad to see his bright and shining face.

WILLAMETTE TRIMS WOLVES

Benjamin and Pettys each dropped in goals to tie the game up again, but Pettys again dropped in two buckets and it looked like the ball game was over. With but less than a minute to play Kitchen and Burrell each looped field goals hastily and the game was again tied up as the final whistle blew.

In the overtime period of five minutes, Pettys scored the first field goal for the Bearcats. Then Benjamin dropped in a free throw. Burdette then sank a "cripple." Kitchen took the ball on the next tip-off and dribbled the length of the floor and potted one just as the game ended.

In a preliminary game the Oregon Normal Wolves defeated the Independence all-stars 20-16.
