Ball Team Has Fine Outlook For Season

All Positions Well Taken Care Of, Says Cox

By Bill Marshall, Sports Editor

Although losing seven lettermen from last season's ball club, Coach Al Cox is anything but downcast as he goes about the task of whipping the ball tossers into shape for the current season. The most difficult task confronting Coach Cox is in molding together a formidable pitching staff. If the Wolves get any kind of pitching at all, they expect to go places.

At present, six hurlers are working out daily in anticipation of winning starting positions. Those appearing most likely to old top positions are Ed Demorest, holdover from last season, and Earl Younce, former Roosevelt high of Portland star. Bothered all last year by a sore arm, Demorest has been working slowly and carefully and figures to be in shape by the time the season opens. Younce put in two seasons of mound work for Roosevelt high, winning All-City recognition his last year and should bolster the mound corps. Other aspirants who may come through are Clifford La-Mear, Bill Marshall, Les Woodcock and Cecil Brown.

Two experienced catchers, Lloyd Turk, one year letterman, and Bob Houck, former Willamette star, are battling for the receiving berth. Turk appears to have regained most of the snap in his arm. Houck is a smart receiver but is handicapped by a bad knee.

The infield seems to be the strong point of the team, although first base gave Coach Cox plenty of trouble during the first week. Jack Butterworth, basketball star, showed signs of developing into a capable performer but gave up the diamond sport in favor of tennis. However the gap was filled by shifting Grover Kelsay to the initial sack. Kelsay, one year letterman at third base, has almost definitely solved

Staff And Key Elects New Members for Spring Term

The first meeting of the spring term for Staff and Key, women's honorary society, was held Wednesday evening, April 3. The officers are: Helen Harris, president; Lucille Berney, vice-president; Helen Shreeve, secretary; Velma Nelson, treasurer.

The important business of the meeting was the election of the following new members: Ruth McCullough, Claudine Klum, Frances Greenley, Margaret Turnbull and Elizabeth Chisholm. An informal initiation was held Tuesday, April 9. This will be followed by the formal ceremony Sunday evening, April 14.

The organization with its present membership of 26 girls has planned an active program for the term.

Inland Empire Ed. Meeting Is Successful

Churchill And Dewey Make Spokane Trip

"The largest in years," reported President Churchill on his return Friday afternoon from a three-day convention of the Inland Empire Educational association at Spokane. "A number of distinguished persons gave addresses that were highly influential and stimulating. The conference was a success in every way."

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Dewey and son Delmar, also attended the convention, driving up by automobile and returning during the week end. The Inland Empire Educational association, largest organization of its kind in the northwest, was founded in 1908 by Mr. Landers, then principal of the Pendleton high school, and a colleague.

First meetings were held at Pendleton and Walla Walla, but for many years Spokane has been the seat of the annual conferences. States represented are Oregon, Idaho, Washington and Montana.

Lettermen To Initiate Ten New Members

Football And Basketball Men On Trial

Old lettermen are plotting trials and tribulations for the new lettermen who will be publicly initiated April 12 and 13. The neophytes, who are football and basketball lettermen, will report to the Wolf Shack five times Friday and sign their names each time. There will be a suitable punishment for each minute overtime. The neophytes will also provide paddles and costumes suitable to the occasion.

Saturday night the social hour will be in charge of the lettermen's club with the new members doing their part for the evening's entertainment.

New football lettermen to be initiated are: Vander Zanden, D. Mahan, Younce, L. Carroll, G. Carroll, Wedin, Markin, Nelson, Tinker and Borden, who also made a basketball letter. Other new basketball lettermen are Butterworth and Osborne.

Caldwell Represents Normals At Conference

Dr. Caldwell, representing the three normal schools of the state, attended a meeting last Friday of the inter-institutional committee cooperating with the Oregon High School Principal's association in working out a program of vocational and educational guidance for Oregon.

This much-needed and forward-looking program will probably be fully laid out as a result of conferences already held in Albany, Oregon City, Astoria and Marshfield, and others to be held in Eugene, Ashland, LaGrande and possibly Bend.

Chairman of the committee is Dr. Howard R. Taylor, acting head of the UofO department of psychology. Other members are Dr. Caldwell, of ONS; and Dr. Florence Blazier, head of the department of home economics at OSC. High school principals, counselors and others interested in vocational guidance cooperate.

Quartet to Sing Monday At Assembly Period

We all can look forward to a very entertaining assembly program on Monday morning, April 15, when the Normal school quartet, composed of Frank Adams, Leonard Gustofson, Lewis Douglas and Robert Graham, will sing a group of songs. This quartet is a newly organized group, but is expected to be very active. They are scheduled to sing before the chapel at the state penitentiary in the near future.

THREE NOMINATED AS QUEENS

Maida Davis, Greta Thompson and Mildred McKnight were nominated for May Queen by the Oregon Normal student body in a general election last Friday. Eighteen names were presented to the voters with the successful three receiving the most votes. Final balloting will be held Thursday after Wednesday's assembly at which time the three girls will be presented to the student body.

Chorus And Choir Chosen For Term

Mrs. Hutchinson Directs Group Practices

The Oregon Normal School chorus and choir have been organized for another term under the efficient direction of Mrs. Hutchinson. Try-outs were completed last week, and many new names were added to the membership rolls. The choir is composed entirely of juniors this quarter, as the principal work will be practicing for the final graduation ceremonies which the choir takes an active part in. The women's chorus is planning to present an assembly program sometime near the end of the term.

Crimson 'O' To Give New Plays May 3

New Members' Initiation Slated For April 11

The Crimson O Players selected "Highness," a drama produced in 1934 by Ruth Giorloff; "Their Anniversary," a comedy by Alice C. D. Riley; and "The Devil Comes to Alcaroz," by William H. Fulham for their plays to be given on Friday, May 3.

These plays, Crimson O believes, offer the best variety of productions and the most attractive program that has been selected by the club for some time. They were chosen from a number of plays presented to the club at a meeting on Thursday, April 4, by a committee made up of Ruth Cherry, Claudia Alexander and Eleanor Henderson, chairman; and Miss Buck and Mrs. Thornton, faculty advisers.

Initiation for new members of the society will be held on Thursday, April 11. Rebecca Overstreet and Lucille Berney are the committee in charge of the initiation.

New members elected to the club are Lois Seeley, Allyce Hunt, Daniel Bliven, Frank Adams and Katherine Powers.

Men's Honorary Pledges Eleven Members

Friday morning, April 5, Theta Delta Phi's large host of initiates inaugurated their dawn to dusk voyages, deep freighted with heavy books of knowledge. If there are no catastrophes, these voyagers will be allowed to write theses. If their theses be acceptable and other events propitious, they will be presented for active membership into Theta Delta Phi. The initiates are: Paul Stewart, Ray Nolan, Jack Keeler, Bill Jordan, Dan Bliven, Dave Osborne, Ludvico Berardinelli, Ken Stuart, Herbert McBee, Bob Houck and Jack Butterworth.

THETA DELTA PHI CARAVAN ENJOYS SOUTHERN OREGON TRIP

Theta Delta Phi, national scholarship honorary society, held their national and district conventions Saturday, March 30, at Ashland, all chapters being represented. The Monmouth contingent arrived early Friday afternoon and received a hearty welcome from the Southern Oregon Normal chapter. Part of the visitors' afternoon was spent in Ashland's famous Lithia park, the rest in reviewing the Ashland chapter's new initiation ceremony. The Theta Delta Phi banquet was an event of the evening with President Adamson of the Alpha chapter, presiding. Dr. Caldwell, national president, J. F. Santee and President Bothwell, Beta chapter, and several others were speakers.

The national and district conventions convened Saturday morning. The district convention settled matters of business, elected officers for the year and approved of the Gamma chapter at La Grande, as convention hosts for 1936. The national convention, after appointing a national initiatory committee and adopting a submitted constitution, adjourned early in the afternoon.

Among those traveling from Monmouth to Ashland and back in the "Beta Caravan" were Dr. Caldwell, Mr. Christensen, Mr. Santee, Chapter President Bothwell, and fraternity members, Don Covey, Delbert Anderson, Thaddeus Scott, Lee Adams, Ralph Nelson, Paul Franzen, Bruce Graham, Richard Schoenburn, Carl Black, Alfred Wilson and Grover Kelsay.

"ROOMIE" COMPLAINS THADDEUS CHEATED IN COURT DEAL

I'm indignant, I am! I have a roommate who likes to play tennis. Thaddeus loves to play tennis. He'd rather bat the silly ball than visit Arnold Arms even, or eat (my cooking.) It is only just that this new partner of mine should have an equal opportunity with others to frisk and gambol on the courts if he so desires. And so he has — if he gets there first. But he rarely does. Here's an example:

Yesterday was the kind of balmy spring weather that brings the daisies to the wayside, the lambs to the meadows, and Thaddeus to the courts. And to the courts Thaddeus came.

Courts Nos. 1 and 2 were held by high school lassies, sweet things too. One just couldn't put them off, and who would want to? The other courts were likewise filled with racketeers, I imagine they're called. But all my borrowed bitterness is directed against the couple who called themselves endearing terms across the net for exactly 18 games by my colleague's actual count. And my colleague is good at counting, too, having counted here, there, and elsewhere for a good many years.

An hour and a half these 18 games—and the counting—took, at the end of which time the courts were graciously relinquished. (The regular tournament players were seen approaching the spot to claim their superior rights.)

Why not a posted list of court rules making it a misdemeanor for any set of players to hold a court for more than a certain time limit or number of games when that particular piece of concrete is in demand?

For the greater good of tennis-loving lads and lassies there order be a law—or something. Thaddeus says so.

The graduation of Miss Phyllis Pollock, editor of the Lamron for the past six months, has deprived Oregon Normal school of one of its finest characters. Quiet, unostentatious, and withal a genuinely friendly person, she will be remembered especially by those who served under her on the Lamron for her readiness to help them in their problems.

The student body is now engaged in the difficult task of selecting their candidate for May Queen. Some tall, gracious member of the fair sex will be the winner. To her is to be given the responsibility of impressing our guests with the dignity and splendor of the occasion. She is the keynote of Oregon Normal's justly famous May Day. Let us hope we, as students may choose wisely and well.

One of the first things a new student at Oregon Normal notices is the cordial and friendly spirit of everyone connected with the school. At the University of Oregon they call it the "Hello" spirit, though at that institution the theory is more actual than the practice. In Monmouth, a smaller student body and smaller town bring people closer together.

The spring months should have the effect of increasing the "Hello" feeling. Outdoor sports, picnics and the general effect of sunny weather on dispositions are favorable factors in forging the bonds of a genuine friendliness. Make it your privilege to say "Hello" to other students and the faculty. School associations, brief as they the, will be remembered all through life as happy days or dull ones, just as we choose to make them.

WOLF SPORTS

BY BILL MARSHALL

By the time this issue goes to press Oregon Normal baseball fans will have had their first taste of the diamond sport. Weather permitting, the Wolves were scheduled to meet Pacific college of Newberg Tuesday.

Your correspondent believes that students will be pleased with this year's ball club. The team has lots of pepper and plenty of fielding and hitting strength. True, the pitching staff might be classed as somewhat of a question mark, but there are plenty of aspiring moundsmen with enough ability to develop into first class performers.

Two games are scheduled for this week end. This afternoon the Wolves meet Anse Cornell's Pacific university ball tossers on Butler field, and tomorrow they renew hostilities with the Badgers at Forest Grove. Next week Linfield college will provide the opposition with contests at McMinnville on Thursday, and here Friday.

Four former Oregon Normal ball players bid fair to gain recognition as members of Billy Reinhart's University of Oregon diamond crew this spring. Comprising this group are Ray Koch, sensational shortstop of the 1933 squad; "Bun" Kelsay, slugging first baseman of the past two seasons; Herb Foulk, fireball artist of last year's nine; Ralph Amato, dashing outfielder of last season's ball club. All four saw action in Saturday's double-header with Linfield. Amato garnered two of Oregon's seven hits in the first contest.

After a lay-off of one season, track again returns as a major spring sport. Ross Hart, who is acting in the capacity of player-coach, is optimistic concerning the chances for a successful season. Hart will be remembered as one of the most outstanding tracksters ever a don the Normal school togs.

Tid-bits of happenings from the sport world gleaned from various sources around the campus. Jack Butterworth wields a mean tennis racquet and will give all the lads a battle for that number one position. Grover Kelsay looks very good in his new venture at first base. The inner line of defense on this year's ball club is plenty strong. Kelsay, Coleman, Johnson and Bridge form a quartet second to none in small college baseball. Elmore Borden looks like a classy hurdler. "Dutch" Lefors covers plenty of territory in the outfield. Lloyd Turk's arm is much better than it was last season.

Girls "O" Group Takes Five New Members

Girls Order of the "O" initiated five new members recently at a party in the Winegar apartments. The group is composed of girls who have won letter awards for women's athletics.

The new members are Ethel Ebell, Naomi Cronin, Sybil Behrens, Marjorie Smith, Edith Hutton, Roberta Burrell, Blanche Wheeler, Lorene Kelland, Louise Beauregard.

FINE BALL OUTLOOK

the problem. He has a marvelous reach for his height and is a sure judge of a ground ball.

Around the keystone sack, two scintillating youngsters, Jack Coleman at second, and Bob Johnson at short, are cavorting around in great style. Both are good hitters and strong defensively. Coleman, a left-handed batsman, hits the ball on a line. Other infield prospects are Pat Cody, a hustling shortstop who shows promise of breaking into the lineup, and Shattuck, second baseman, from Hillsboro.

Dave Bridge, veteran transfer from Oregon State, has performed in great style around third base. He looks to be one of the best ball players to come to Oregon Normal for many moons. He is a sure-fielder and has a rifle arm.

A number of outfield aspirants have shown enough ability to predict that the outer garden will be well taken care of. Those expected to win starting positions are Chet Huston, "Dutch" Lefors, and Howard Parks. All hit the ball well and look good chasing high fly balls. Other outfield candidates are Lloyd Schnell, Ken McKenzie, one year stripe wearer, Joe Davis and Ray Malone.

TRACK TEAM ORGANIZED FOR SEASON

Hart, Nucleus Of Good Squad Turnout

The team will be built around Ross Hart, a track letterman and holder of four school records.

Standing records, many of which will be broken this season are:

Archery Club Chooses Whitmore And Hayes

At the regular business meeting of the term, Monday April 1, the Oregon Normal Archery club unanimously reelected Bond Whitmore and Betty Hayes as president and vice-president respectively. Mr. A. C. Stanbrough was elected, also unanimously, honorary president. The club adopted new features to add interest to their regular Monday afternoon meetings from 4:30 to 6 o'clock which all those who are eligible are urged to attend.

Floyd Tufts, ONS students, recently returned from a 3,000 mile walking tour of Mexico, left suddenly for Anchorage, Alaska, where he will be employed during the spring and summer. It is possible that Floyd will return to Monmouth next fall.

W A A POINTS QUESTION IS OUTLINED

Women's Sport Awards For Varied Activities

By Louise Meyers

What is the W.A.A.? Many people ask. This organization is for the women who are interested in sports and good sportsmanship. One W. and two A's. of red felt on a gray background is the insignia for this group.

A girl is eligible for membership if she has earned 50 points toward a sweater or letter. Also a grade average of three is necessary for interhouse and interclass competition.

The interhouse and interclass series are held each year in most of the authorized sports. The requirements for both are practically the same. However, an average of three and a membership in an organized house are necessary for interclass competition.

The awards are very much worthwhile making an effort to win. The highest award is a white sweater with a large crimson "O" on a gray mounting. The eligibility for this award is the earning of at least 500 points. The first award, a small "O", is to be worn only on the pocket. A girl must earn 250 points the first six terms to win this letter. The point system is well organized so as to give enough credit when it has been earned. The points from other schools are transferable in proportion to the number of years of attendance there.

Following is a point list to show how many points may be won in the various games. Points are also received for places on the sub teams:

1. Basketball:
1st class team	100
2nd class team	75
3rd class team	60
Interhouse team	50
2. Baseball:
1st class team	100
2nd class team	75
3rd class team	60
Interhouse team	50
3. Volleyball: The points that may be won are the same as the preceding ones.
4. Tennis: A girl is eligible for tennis teams only after participation in the varsity tournament. The teams must play three matches before points may be counted.
Varsity	500
1st class team	100
2nd class team	75
5. Swimming: Red Cross life saving test	100
Swimming efficiency test	75

6. Hiking: Fifty miles is the limit for one year. No less than 50 miles may be hiked in one term. One point is given for every mile.

7. Educational dancing: Presentation of six dances under auspices of the physical education dept. 75
La Danza membership (a year) .. 25
Folk dancing: Performance of a required list of dances 50 |

Above is just an outline of the many interesting activities to be found in this well-organized association. It offers many worthwhile pastimes and the exercise is the best in the world for the waistline. By the way, it is very imperative that a hopeful candidate for any team attend at least five practices.
