Movement Made To Provide Field

Plan Advanced by Local Business Men

A movement to provide Oregon Normal school and Monmouth with a lighted football field and stadium has been started by a group of progressive business men of Monmouth. Plans for the complete project include a stadium facing the present Wolves' gridiron, but built on land lying west of the campus. The property is owned by the city. Two buildings to house county fair exhibits would be built on the city-owned plot, and the lower part of the stadium would be arranged to provide fair booths. Flood lights are planned for the field.

Although the plan is little more than a dream at present, a very determined organization of business men has been effected with L. B. Howard as chairman and P. M. Schweizer as secretary. At a recent meeting a finance committee headed by C. F. Gillette was appointed. Included on this committee are H. W. Hagmeier and H. W. Morlan.

Tentative plans call for a turf field just west of the present grid, to be used for games only. The present field would continue to be used for practice. The stadium would be still farther west. WPA labor is said to be available for the project.

The site on which the stadium and fair grounds will be built was once taken over by the Oregon Normal school Alumni association but has now reverted to the city. It was upon this land that the late Dean J. B. V. Butler once dreamed of planting a specimen of each variety of tree and shrub that grows in Oregon.

Council Makes Appointments

The student council held two very important meetings this term. At the first one, the editors and business managers were chosen. Bernard Grafton of Seaside, and Geoffrey Marsh, were chosen as editor and business manager of the Lamron. Esther Bracken, Monmouth and Jake Koenig, Beaverton, were selected as editor and business manager of the Norm.

At their second meeting Patricia Roy and Billie Muckler were elected yell leaders. Since Dorothy Brown has a leave of absence for this term, Lorena Burchfield will act as secretary of the Associated Student Body this term.

ONS Graduates Secure Schools

The appointment bureau has had a very successful year in placing graduates of the past year. Two hundred twenty-nine teachers have been placed out of 242 graduates. Three of this number are continuing their education at the University of Oregon. The 13 who have not been placed in teaching positions are engaged in other work.

Many Events Set For Homecoming

The big event to take place in the near future at ONS is Homecoming day, October 21 and 22. Various features are being planned with a special committee appointed to make it a big success.

A committee consisting of Rudolph Rada of Portland, as chairman; Harvey Williams, Parkdale; Charlotte Ellingsworth, Nehalem; Eva Davidson, Sutherlin; and Dexter McCarthy, Portland, has been appointed to supervise the arrangements.

Thursday night, October 20, the Junior bonfire will be the highlight. Friday, October 21, is the Homecoming football game, to be played this year in Dallas, and Saturday night, October 22, the Phi Beta Sigma is sponsoring a dance which will be held on our campus.

All O.N.S. alumni are invited to attend these events. Let's make this a real homecoming for them!

NYA Allotments Are Approved

Seventy students of the Oregon Normal school are receiving federal student aid under the National Youth Administration for the fall term, with assignments varying from $7.00 to $10.00 a month. The allotment for this school amounts to $615 a month for the year 1938-39, an increase of $75 a month over that of 1937-38. Determination of the allotments for the various educational institutions is based on their enrollments.

Work performed by students working under the National Youth Administration consists of clerical and stenographic work for members of the faculty, research and surveys, construction of equipment, assistance in laboratories, assisting in the library, supervision of playgrounds and assistance in the cafeteria in the training school, maintenance work about the grounds and buildings, as well as other tasks that could not be accomplished except through the federal student aid program.

Women Students Hold Meeting

The Associated Women Students' meeting was called to order by the president Bessie Christensen who then welcomed the new girls and invited all the girls to the style show on Thursday evening, October 6. Barbara Turnbull, president of the Staff and Key organization, also welcomed the new girls and invited them to the style show. Reports were given by members of the different clubs on what they represent and their requirements for membership. The president then called on Miss Helen Anderson, who welcomed the girls and told them of the regulations to be observed by the women on the Oregon Normal school campus. A committee was appointed for the candy sale. The meeting was adjourned.

Faculty Holds Weekly Forum

Dr. S. Smith To Be First Guest Speaker

On Wednesday, October 7, the faculty met in the administration building auditorium for the purpose of organizing The Forum, an entirely new organization at the Oregon Normal school, the aim of which is to enable the teaching staff to keep abreast of current social and political problems of national and international importance.

The organization elected no officers; however, Dr. J. N. Carls was appointed forum chairman and a program committee headed by Dr. E. F. Barrows, chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Barnum, Miss Emma Henkle and Miss Lucille Wall was chosen to aid in the selection of subjects to be discussed at the regular meetings. Some of the subjects suggested included Cooperatives, the Oriental Situation, United States and Mexican Relations and False Advertising. Other subjects will be suggested by the members from time to time.

On October 10, an enthusiastic group gathered for the first discussion—a program dealing with the current labor problems confronting the country at the present time. Miss Cornelia Clausen and Dr. J. F. Santee spoke on "The Historical Background of the Present Labor Problems"; A. C. Stanbrough explained the "Organization and Purpose of the C.I.O."; and Miss Lucille Wall, who spent the summer doing graduate work at the University of Minnesota, gave her impression of the "Labor Situation in Minnesota." After these talks, the attending members were given an opportunity for group discussions.

At the next meeting, which will be held on October 17, the forum will have as their guest speaker, Dr. S. Stephenson Smith, from the University of Oregon, who will also discuss some phase of the labor problem.

Theta Delta Phi Initiates Eleven

The big black books of Theta Delta Phi are out again. This time these evidences of scholarly achievement are in the possession of Lowell Chase, James Ellingsworth, Jake Koenig, Elbert Brock and Leroy Ingram.

Should any one observe any of these lads and his insignia or erudition going some particular place in a particular hurry, he is not to imagine that the boy with the book is bent on the pursuit of some elusive bit of knowledge. Oh, no, he's probably just in pursuit of some signature badly needed at the moment.

Graduated students who earned membership in Theta Delta Phi during the summer are: Joe Davis, Dallas; Lucius Forbes, Eugene; Edward Sehorn, Vernonia; Charles Pullum, Portland; Lewis Woods, Dallas; and Arthur Myers, Salem.

Majority Buy Student Tickets

The latest check-up on Student Body membership reveals that 351 Student Body Tickets have been purchased this term, making 79.7% of the total school enrollment Student Body members. This percentage is around the usual figure; and leaves about 89 students without Student Body Tickets. These students are urged to buy tickets if it is at all possible.

Possession of a Student Body Ticket entitles one to admission to athletic events, social hours, formal dances, and renders one eligible for membership in societies, positions on teams, or holding class offices.

Join the Student Body. You need it, and it needs your support!

Former Teachers Continue Studies

Richard Averill who taught here in the psychology and history departments during the winter and summer terms of 1937, recently accepted a position as head of the psychology department and as the Assistant Dean of Men at the Albion State Normal at Albion, Idaho.

M. E. Erickson, former instructor in English here at the Oregon Normal school, is now working for his doctor's degree in romance languages at the University of Washington where he has a teaching fellowship. This will be of special interest to the students of the Oregon Normal since he is the husband of our Mrs. Marie Erickson of the art department.

Lloyd D. Black, former teacher of geography at Oregon Normal school taught this summer at the Marysville State Teachers' College in Marysville, Missouri. He returned this fall to continue his studies at the University of Michigan, where he holds a teaching fellowship and is working for his doctor's degree in geography.

Hawaiians Hear Popular Senior

Dorothy Brown Joins All-Girl Orchestra

Miss Dorothy Brown, attractive O. N.S. coed, and secretary of the Associated Student Body, sailed from Los Angeles Friday, September 30, for the Hawaiian Islands where she will remain for three months as a member of Vivian Lewis's Girl Orchestra.

Miss Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. V. J. Brown of Portland, has been exceptionally active in campus affairs, having been elected president of Jessica Todd Hall for the 1937-38 fall and winter term and a member of Staff and Key, women's honorary society.

The opportunity for the experience came as a pleasant surprise to Miss Brown, who has played the saxophone in the Lewis orchestra for the past year. Although this is the second trip for several members of the eight-piece "swing band," it is the first time that Miss Brown has traveled with them. They arrived in Honolulu October 5 to begin an engagement at one of the famous beach hotels.

The orchestra expects to continue their tour in other parts of the globe, but Miss Brown will return to school before the winter term to continue her studies.

New Bureau Established

In an effort to acquaint high school graduates with the life and activities at Oregon Normal school, the administration, with the aid of the student body, has created a publicity service bureau.

Harley Morris of Sherwood has been placed in charge of the bureau. The purpose of the publicity service is to provide newspapers throughout the state with information concerning the achievements of students at the institution. News stories cover a wide range of activities including athletics, dramatics and student body affairs.

To facilitate the work of the bureau, club secretaries are asked to leave news items concerning their organizations in the box provided for that purpose in the office.

Juniors Elect Slate of Officers

The Junior class, totaling 200 students, have elected the following officers for the forthcoming year: Howard Withrow of Florence, president; Mary Parks, Portland, vice-president; Jean Applebury, Tigard, secretary; Peggy Johnston, Monmouth, treasurer; and Jean Irvine, Independence; Lenora Jensen, Monmouth; Jerome Hanlon, Newport and Stephen Schmid, Monmouth, council members.

The class is planning to entertain the students with an assembly program in the near future.

LET'S MAKE IT PAY ITS WAY!

We of the business staff in close cooperation with the Student Council have decided that the student body fund shall not be the principal source of revenue for this publication as it has been in the past. It is our belief that the Lamron can be put on a paying basis. To do this, however, student patronage of those who advertise in the Lamron is a vital necessity, for it is these merchants and business houses who, if our goal is to be attained, make possible the financing of our publication. Bear in mind that each time the Lamron is published "out of the red" the student body receives direct benefit in the form of finances which can be applied to other worthy school activities. Help those who would help you!

—GEOFFREY MARSH, Business Manager, Lamron.

BONFIRE OFFERS JUNIORS' TEST

The Junior class is taking hold of each new activity as it comes along, and is willing to do their part to keep the ole "Wolf" in good spirits. If any of the Juniors have any weighty problems or difficulties facing them, there are many Seniors around the campus who make it a specialty of solving problems for the underclassmen. The big test facing you, Mister and Miss Junior, is the huge bonfire that you will find needs to be constructed out on the football field before the big Homecoming game. Your spirit at the games is to be complimented, too, Juniors. Keep up the good work!

COOPERATE WITH ADVERTISERS

It is hoped that all of our readers will read the advertisements very carefully and will patronize those merchants who advertise in this issue. After all, students, it is the cooperation of the merchants that aids us in publishing our paper. If the merchants are convinced that their ads are being read and they in turn receive some profit on their investment, they will feel that the students are interested in them and "bigger and better ads" will result. Larger ads will mean more financial backing for the paper, and better financial backing will mean a larger and better paper. There will be some comments on the size of this issue as it is smaller than the paper of last year. If you students like a larger issue PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS, and the staff of the paper will do its best to provide the larger issue.

Physical Education Teacher Reached Oregon By Way of Iowa and Washington

By Zola Kirkpatrick

We are welcoming to the Oregon Normal school this term Miss Helen Fabricius, instructor in the physical education department. We sincerely hope that she will like her new home and enjoy being a member of our faculty.

Miss Fabricius was graduated from the University of Iowa, where she majored in physical education. After she had received her bachelor of science degree she traveled "out to Oregon" and enrolled in the department of physical education at the University of Oregon, where she received her masters degree from that department. She then became a member of the teaching staff of the Walla Walla high school in Walla Walla, Washington and spent two years there. In the spring of 1938, Miss Fabricius went to Mills college where she attended the progressive education workshop for six weeks preparatory to taking up her duties at the Oregon Normal school. In describing her summer work Miss Fabricius states, "It was a most stimulating educational experience."

A very charming person is Miss Fabricius, who confidentially informed us that she preferred the Willamette valley to eastern Oregon or Washington and "is glad to get back in the rain." This young lady also confesses to some definite likes and dislikes which we feel it would be well to disclose at this time.

She likes Cocker spaniels, horses, Buick convertibles, Seattle and Edna St. Vincent Millay. She does not like cold weather, "jitter bugs", Hitler and continued stories.

Again we would like to say "welcome to Oregon Normal school, Miss Fabricius!"

We wonder why blinking lights have such an attraction for Lew Mason, Son Jesse and Tige McGinn? — Ask em!

They tell us there's a black sheep loose in town — Is that right, Arnold Arms?

Who has the largest appetite in school? and why have you, Hankel?

YE DIARY

Monday morning: Awake betimes and glancing at the alarm clock, arose with a shriek of anguish upon discovering that I had very cunningly quieted ye Tocsin alarm in my sleep and thus missed another 8 o'clock — and so to a second period class, grumbling the while and again resolving to retire at a decent hour. A pox, say I, on such undependable inventions as alarm clocks.

WEEK-END SLANTS

"Monmouth! Monmouth! Thy glory hath departed!" And on the whole a very mournful week end was spent by the unfortunates stranded here with but one "Gym Jam" attempted in the direction of merriment. By Social Hour Saturday night coeds had given up the battle and the few who attended the "Wurlitzering" found the absence of a coffin the only thing lacking to complete the atmosphere of mourning for the absent football Romeos.

ADVICE TO THE LOVE-LORN

1. Do not take this advice. We give you this warning in complete confidence that it will be followed.
2. Gentlemen and Football Players: Do you find but one girls more interesting than the rest, and have you been so selfish as to be seen upon three consecutive dates with her? If so, public opinion has decreed you to be going "steady." Then, lest chaos of reputation result, beware lest, by overt acts, you incur the disapproval of her girl friends. Do not underestimate the effectiveness of the highly developed school underground whispering service. Ironshod alibis accompanied by at least three dependable witnesses should be available at all times, lest your dances be numbered at the festive social hours.
3. Coeds: When did coeds admit they needed advice?

It has been said that the fall term here at ONS begins Homecoming week end, and, verily, that is no understatement. Previous to this festivity the Junior class is but loosely organized, little incentive for enthusiasm is expressed by our numerous social activities groups, and the general school spirit is lax and uninspiring. However, during Homecoming week end a new high in school spirit is reached which seems by force of its own momentum to supply all that is lacking and carry us successfully through the fall and winter terms. So take your red pencils and mark a circle around the week end of October 21, 22 and 23. You'll enjoy every minute of it!

Orchids of the most expensive variety to the newly appointed editor and business manager of this year's Norm. Although appointed only last week they have already started work to guarantee a bigger and better yearbook this year. Last year the decision to put out a Norm was not made until the last part of winter term with the result that last year's staff was handicapped with a rush of last-minute work.

Don't forget to send for that absentee ballot so that your vote as a thinking citizen will do its part toward better government.

And so a new column is finished by your correspondent, who sincerely believes that Oregonians in general and ONS students in particular are prone to take the little things of everyday life entirely too seriously.

This is a scoop! The student prexy is pulling a Popeye on us. We saw him at the local cinema with the "Jeep." Get it, Vernonia?

Siss — Boom! Siss — Boom! Siss — Boom, Bah! Oregon Normal Rah, Rah, Rah!!

And here's to start other O.N.S. Wolves howling — Did anybody ever see T. A. without LOWELL? Guess maybe it could be done! — but not lately. Ever hear of PAUL WHORLEY? For information on the subject don't bother the librarian, just ask QUIG — Once upon a time, there was a new guy on the campus. Along came an attractive ONS belle and now all the other gals are out of the picture for HANK POMERENE. Smooth sailing, BARBARA T.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder. So fonder in fact that all of a sudden up popped two guys from near Marshfield. Yes, gang, MILDRED OSTLAND'S and BESSIE CHRISTENSEN'S bells dinged superbly. — Gee, LORENA, which one is it? "Desert DANCE" RICKEY or "MAN MOUNTAIN" SOCKO? — My, how our newcomers break into the news! (1) MR. MEEKER finds a petite brown haired damsel, and (2) GRACIE T. is getting along OK with one of the better known blond campus Apollos. Oh, well, out with the old, and in with the new! Here's another one — VIRGINIA D. and DEB T. Betcha they have a yellin' good time. Anyway they are both swell Juniors with vim and vigor — Girls, what's the matter with you? With eligible bachelors on the boat, no one need to worry. How's about H. SALISBERRY, M. KERR, and, fer gosh sakes! the two WOJONS — Wedding Bells may soon peal over two of our girls, MARGARET AR-CASSA and SYBIL PETTYS both are wearing diamond rings. — Did everybody know VAL VIOLETTE persuaded BOB K. to come here to school? Well, she did, and now everything is running smoothly. — Twinkle toes KOENIG calls every evening for AMY JANE. Isn't that nice? — The D. SMITH'S and S. SCHMIDT'S seem to be getting together once in a while, too. Dreamy deal! — Eugene is swell place to visit often, isn't it, ARLENE and BANCE? — Nomination for Jitter Bugs, "CONNY" and IRVING at social hour about two weeks ago. — The calm after the storm. RUDY and VERA get round again. When new girls come in the fall, just watch the lettermen topple over — eh, PETE? — Guess BORDEN surely found welcome on the door when he returned. — Any more romance that can stand a whole summer must be pretty good. More power to you LEONARD and JUNE! — What is the talk of the campus? — BILLIE MUCKLER, of course. — Let's go, gang — with Flying colors!

Wolves Lose to Bellingham, 13-0

By Harley Morris, Sports Editor
The Oregon Normal school Wolves bowed to their second defeat in three starts Saturday, October 8, when they lost to Western Washington College of Education at Bellingham, 13 to 0.

The dopesters were nearer right than the final score showed when they rated the Vikings as six points better than the Wolves. On the basis of performance on the playing field, they were that and no more. Again it was an aerial bombardment that won the game, and big Bob Tisdale was head bomber. A 30-yard pass in the first quarter laid the ground work for the first touchdown, with Munkers carrying the ball through the line for the pay off. It was "even-Stephen" from then on to the end of the quarter. The Vikings put up a strong defence, but so did the Oregonians. Sullens, Ellingsworth and Miller were outstanding in their line defence. Most of the ball-carrying in the rest of the quarter was done by the officials. The Vikings were penalized a total of 75 yards and the Wolves 45.

With the opening of the second quarter, it looked as if the Wolves could not be denied. In a sensational play Borden returned a punt to the Viking 39. Jesse and McGlinn led a determined drive down the field, with Lloyd Lewis and Riney doing some spectacular blocking. Lewis did some exceptionally fine work. But the Viking defense stiffened on their own 11-yard line, and Lewis called for a pass that was intercepted and the Wolf rally was over for the moment.

Jesse and McGlinn opened another offensive in the third period that reached the Viking 12, but lost the ball on downs after being trapped back on the 19 for a seven-yard loss.

In the final quarter, an Oregon fumble on their own 31, gave the ball to the Vikings. Three tries at the line failed to advance the ball, but Tisdale, aiming at the coffin corner, kicked the ball out of bounds on the four-yard stripe. In a last minute effort to tie the score, the Wolves unleashed a passing attack that came to an abrupt end when Blanchard intercepted Jesse's pass. A few seconds later Tisdale rifled one through Jake Miller's arms to Vanderboom, standing on the goal line. Reischmann booted the extra point.

An official ruling throwing Mason and Jones out of the game for slugging in the opening minutes was unpopular with the crowd. Mason was going great guns at the moment and Jones was one of the Viking's top backfield men. Jones had hit him, Mason says, but denies he struck back.

The Wolves made 10 first downs to the Vikings' nine. The Vikings, on the other hand, completed four out of 12 passes for a total of 50 yards to the Wolves' two out of 10 for a total of 15 yards.

By Ervin Mead

As this goes to press we find the Wolves on the wrong end of a 2 to 1 record. We were about to let that get us down until we remembered our woods lore. . . . From the time the first man trod the snowy Siberian steppes to this very day the wolf has struck fear to the hearts of all living creatures—but only in the winter! That's the moral of our little story; the warm summer sun, the soft caressing breezes, and mothers' cooking have gentled our Wolves. Now the scene is changing—the first chill winds are but beyond yon hill, the sun creeps southward day by day, empty jars line the kitchen shelves and with the first frosts our wolf pack will hit the trail with a new glint in their eyes, and the age-old hunting spirit will carry them on to victory—We Hope!

We hear that back east they have to import comedians, chorus girls, and swing bands to pep up practice sessions. . . . We'll wager that they'd never need to go to that trouble if they had a couple of guys around like our own Chet Hogan and Charley Meyer. Plus that, the team has a couple of feminine fans who haven't missed a practice session yet, and are really worth putting a show on for.

Are we burning? A wise guy came along the first day of practice, after the Pacific Lutheran game, and said "Boy! Al Cox is sure mad; he's going to change practice fields, too." We dropped our guard, led with our chin, and asked what field he was moving the team to. The wise guy says: "From Cupid's Knoll to Butler field." We ARE burning!

We understand the Jaross boys have decided to go on the stage with a Female Impersonation act. Their debut was a howling success.

This guy Mason is driving us nuts. Think of it, a big, tough, plenty good lineman, with the name Mason—and no Dixon to go with him. "The Mason-Dixon Line" would be a natural, but we can't find a single Dixon—not even a girl!

Truly we pity E.O.N.S. when they meet the Wolves tomorrow night. That game will undoubtedly be the only chance George Sullens' folks will ever have to see him play college football. In case you don't get the idea—George Harold Jr., has sworn a mighty oath that Mr. and Mrs. George Harold Sr., will see their son play a real game. — A nice gesture would be to elect G. H. Jr. as captain for that game.

Some of the boys who have been outstanding in the various games thus far are: Backfield, McGlinn, Jesse, Borden, Lewis; line, Sullens, Meyer, Mason, Peterson; matrimonial field, Dick Lewis.

While walking down the street the other day we encountered a poor fellow wearing two sweat shirts, a sweater, and a mackinaw and who, believe it or not, was still freezing. It was none other than Charles (Dutch) Meyer. He was so cold that he couldn't say no, so we proceeded to drag a bit of information from between his chattering teeth. It seems that Dutch had ventured into the open spaces in this scanty garb in a vain attempt to acclimate himself to our weather, after two years in the Hawaiian Islands. No, Dutch isn't one of those kinky-haired lads who wear nothing but bathing trunks and kick footballs with their bare feet for the photographers. He's a genuine webfoot, born in Portland 22 years ago. Dutch started his football career at Commerce high school where he played three years and also held down the job of student body president his senior year. Following his graduation, Dutch played a lot of backfield with the University of Portland for a season. After that he did a hitch in the Army and "carried the mail" for two years in Hawaii. This season is Dutch's first attempt in the line, but, if we're any judge, he looks like the answer to a coach's prayer when he gets into that guard position.

To Meet EON

A number of unknown factors will figure in the game when the Wolves face Eastern Oregon Normal school on the gridiron at LeGrande next Saturday. The teams have not met in the last two years and very little is known of the LaGrande squad. Weather is bound to be a factor. The dry cold east of the mountains will be quite a change from the damp, almost summer days of the last week. Everything considered, however, the Wolves still have the inside chance to win.

It will be a tough pack of Wolves that take the trail toward the rising sun. The last two games have been just what they needed to take the kinks out of their legs and to smooth up their attack. In the game against Bellingham Saturday, the line and backfield clicked like a machine.

SUPERIOR ROOTING SECTION

Harley Morris, publicity manager of ONS, who accompanied the team on their Bellingham trip, reports a very superior type of rooting section developed at that school. It seems that tradition decrees the Frosh organize themselves in all the fine points of cheering and formation rooting which made a very impressive spectacle at the Bellingham game. This, by way of a suggestion, to our up-and-coming Junior class.

Big Squad Out For Football

Thirty-eight men answered Coach Al Cox's call for gridders this fall. Practice began September 15, and although there has been several changes in personnel, there are still more than three complete teams competing for the honor of playing for the Wolves.

Eight lettermen were back in uniform and have provided the framework for what should be a strong team. George Sullens, tackle; Glenn Peterson, end; Jim Ellingsworth, guard; and Jason Miller, center, were back in the line. In the backfield Lloyd Lewis, who played halfback last year, was shifted to quarter; Anthol Riney and Dave Howard are veterans at the halfback position and Floyd McGlinn, who packed the ball for plenty of yards last year, is back on the fullback berth. To this strong squad Coach Cox has added Charles Meyers who transferred here from Albany college last spring. Meyers went in at guard. In at right tackle went Joe Jaross and next to him at end, his brother Ted.

The rest of the squad with the positions they play follows: Hal Hankle, Harold Crook, Myron Vleck, Leroy Mason, Leonard Wirhrdt and Dick Lewis, tackles; Jim O'Connor, Adrian Dickson, Walter Joslin and Ray Housley, ends; Harvey Williams, Mervin Liedtke, Gilbert Fessler, Homer Hines, Bill Stryker and Fred Henderson, guards; Kenneth Bach, center; Jim Davies, Ted Green, Ben Braddon, Stanley Borden, Louis Graven and Everett Meeker, halfbacks; George Jesse, fullback.

W.A.A. Grows

With Mrs. Hazel Blackerby and Miss Helen Fabricius at the helm of the Women's Athletic Association, the organization has grown in every sports activity.

Hiking has taken an interesting sport-light lately, according to Georgia Post of Portland, the hike leader. A number of hikes have already been enjoyed by a large group of the girls. This, of course, means more points added towards the goal of 500.

Friday evening, October 7, the W.A.A. sponsored a gym jam, under the supervision of Mrs. Blackerby and the vice-president Jean De Lurme. The evening was spent in games and relays and, for the final event, three groups of volleyball were played. This was enjoyed by a large group of enthusiastic students who hope that the gym jam will be repeated.
