Honor Society and recipient of the Senior Girl Award.

During her three years at OCE, Nancy has been a member of Staff and Key, and also a member of the OCE band. Last year Nancy had the privilege of attending the University of the Seven Seas for one semester.

Special interests to Nancy include sewing, traveling, and listening and playing music.

In high school Nancy was ASB secretary, a member of the drill team, member of

PRINCESS FOWLER

For their Homecoming Princess, the freshman class has elected Jeanne Fowler, a freshman from Portland. Jeanne graduated from Beaverton High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fowler. Jeanne is also an elementary education major.

Princess Jeanne was very active in her high school years. She was a representative to student council, member of Panomero Club, member of Phi Kappa Gamma, and president and secretary of her church youth group.

Of special interest to Jeanne are swimming and reading poetry. She also enjoys walking on the beach in the rain, talking to friends, and the first snow fall.

about twice a month, usually on Sunday evenings. One major activity a term is normally sponsored by the club; in the spring this usually consists of an outing at the beach. Deseret Club also works closely with other organizations in the L.D.S. Church.

The purpose of the Deseret Club, according to its constitution is "to contribute toward the fuller realization of one or more of the following ideals: religion, intellectuality, culture, fellowship, and leadership." The Deseret Club program is designed to correlate with the other college functions so as to enrich rather than to compete or detract from them.

PRINCESS LONGACRE

The Sophomore class has chosen as its princess, Marianne Longacre, a sophomore from Brookings. Marianne graduated from Brookings Harbor High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Longacre.

Marianne is majoring in elementary education here at OCE. During her two years here, she has been a member of the choir, Staff and Key member, IDC member, and is presently serving as President of Todd Hall.

In high school, Marianne was FTA president, G.A.A. member, Honor Society member, member of Tri-M, Student Body secretary and Outstanding Senior Girl.

Princess Marianne enjoys singing, painting, writing, hiking and sports, ville.

Deseret Club

The Deseret Club consists of members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and those students who have a desire to study Latter-Day Saint principles and doctrine. The club meets every Thursday from 7-9 p.m. in student center rooms B and C.

A course of study is selected each year by the instructor and the club members. Those who enroll in the course of study receive 2 credit hours a semester at Brigham Young University. This fulfills the requirements for courses in religion for those students who may transfer to Brigham Young.

Your Highness

OCE's 1964 Homecoming Queen will be selected from these four girls Friday night at the Student Talent Show.

PRINCESS SCOTT

Representing the Senior class will be Marilyn Scott, a senior from St. Helens, majoring in elementary education. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Scott also of St. Helens.

Marilyn is a graduate of St. Helens High School. While in high school, Marilyn was a member of J.V. Rally, Varsity Rally, Honor Society, Queen of Hearts, member of Forensic Club, member of Jr. Class Play, and Secretary of Teenage Club.

During her four years at OCE, Marilyn has been on Varsity Rally, Vice President of Arby, Winter Carnival Princess, Wolf Calls editor, a member of Staff and Key, cast in the Spring term play her freshman year, a scholarship recipient and is presently serving as Second Vice President of ASOCE.

Marilyn is interested in all sports and recreational activities, especially hiking and women's field hockey. She is also in the process of learning to knit. Marilyn also had this to say: "What I enjoy most is being with and around people."

PRINCESS GOOD

The Junior class princess is Nancy Good, a junior from McMinnville, majoring in elementary education. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Good also of McMinnville.

WELCOME ASOCE

On behalf of the Associated Students I should like to welcome the returning alums and friends of Oregon College of Education to the 1964 Homecoming Ceremonies. Upon your return to the campus you will probably find a physical appearance somewhat altered from that which it was when you graduated. However, there is one important factor which has and shall continue to remain constant — a highly academic atmosphere surrounded by the most friendly of social environments. This tradition of Oregon College of Education is never-ending. I should hope that you shall enjoy your visit to the campus this year and pay a return visit whenever possible.

Sincerely,
JACK STROPE, President, ASOCE

Coming Home Homecoming Come Homeing

OCE's 1964 Homecoming activities will be under way this coming weekend, October 30 and 31. OCE will be happy to play host to all alumni, their families and friends. Several new features have been added to this year's weekend activities.

Co-chairmen this year are Emily Bump and Kerry Koopman. The theme for the 1964 Homecoming activities is "For Everything There Is a Season."

The weekend festivities will begin Friday evening at 5:15 with the judging of the dorm homecoming signs.

The Student Talent Show will follow at 8:00 with entertainment being provided by groups from Maaske, Todd, Arnold Arms, The Cottage, The Village and Arbuthnot. Chairman Carol Mason stated that the program would be for dorm participation and that Lono Waiwale will be the master of ceremonies. An admission of thirty cents for students, and fifty cents for adults will be charged, with tickets available at the door. Children under ten will be admitted free of charge. The talent show is to be held in the Student Center Commons.

Coronation of this year's Homecoming queen will also be made during the evening. Intercollegiate Knights will be in charge of the decorations for the coronation and a queen will be chosen from the following four girls, each representing her respective class: Senior, Marilyn Scott; Junior, Nancy Good; Sophomore, Marianne Longacre; and Freshman, Jeanne Fowler.

BONFIRE IS FEATURE

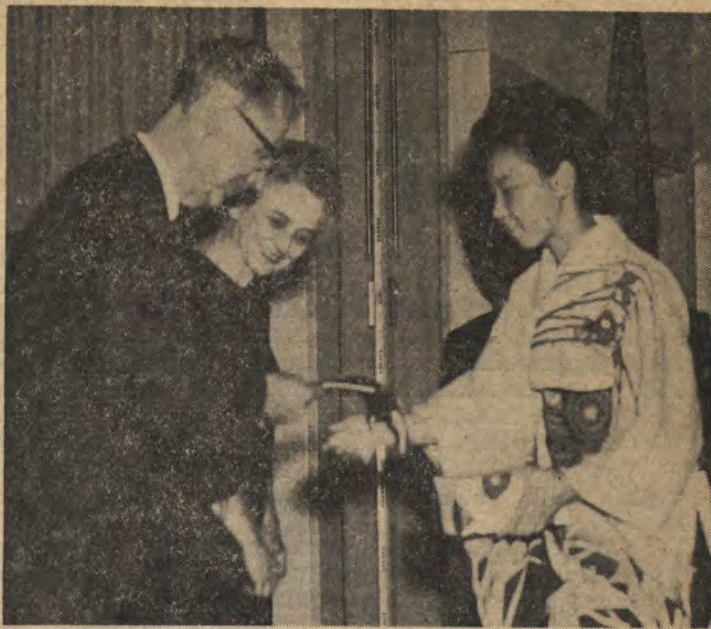

Following the talent show at 9:15 will be the bonfire followed by the noise parade. The bonfire is a feature returning to OCE's homecoming activities and it is sincerely hoped that this feature will be a success this year so that it can once again be an annual event of homecoming. The bonfire will be held in the area west of the Village. Rules for the bonfire are as follows: no paper shall be used; only discarded or otherwise unusable flammable materials (tires, cardboard, lumber, crates, wooden boxes) shall be used; the use of flammable liquids is prohibited; students must secure permission from appropriate persons as these materials are gathered; materials should not be gathered in advance of Oct. 30, but vehicles should be arranged for well in advance; the material brought to the bonfire area shall not arrive there prior to 1 p.m. on Friday; materials shall be brought to the bonfire area only via a designated route which is off Main Street and Monmouth Avenue (this route will go on Jackson to Stadium Drive then down Church Street); all materials must be placed within the given bonfire area; LEAVE EVERYONE ELSE'S MATERIALS ALONE; at the bonfire, students will stand only outside the designated circle.

BAND CONCERT

Preparation for its November 14 concert has kept the OCE Concert Band busy during the past few weeks. According to Dr. David Wallace, director, the Dad's Day music program will feature band numbers from several periods in music history, including various solos and ensembles by members of the band.

Miss Scott and Dr. Smith of the OCE music department are shown being presented a memento of Aoyama Gakuin University by Mariko Akagi, representative of the symphony orchestra, at the close of the Monday, Oct. 26, concert which was presented at the student center by the orchestra. place immediately following the bonfire. Cars will not be arranged by dorms or classes as in previous years. Once in the parade, cars shall not leave the parade. There shall be nothing protruding from the cars. Littering is punishable by $100 fine (this includes water balloons and fire works of any kind). Everyone will follow the pre-scheduled route. Stay in line-do not try to move forward or backward in the line. If anything goes wrong, the police force will not allow any more noise parades. The parade will go from Monmouth to Independence and back.

SOCK HOP FOLLOWS

The final event of Friday's Homecoming activities will be a sock hop following the noise parade at approximately 10:30. This will take place in the student center coffee shop area and the dress will be grubby. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

Saturday's activities will begin at 10:00 with open house in the dormitories lasting till 12:00. During open house there will also be the judging of the individual door signs in the dorms. Alumni registration will take place in the Student Center from 10:00 to 12:00.

The alumni luncheon will be held in the Campus Elementary School cafeteria from 12:15 - 1:00. Prices are $1.50 adults, $.75 for children under 12.

The Homecoming game this year will be between the OCE Wolves and the SOC Raiders. Special half-time entertainment will be presented by the OCE band. The Queen and her court will also be presented at this time.

Immediately following the game will be the Alumni coffee hour held in the Student Center coffee shop area. The coffee hour will last approximately one hour.

At 7:30 members of the OCE faculty will provide entertainment at the Faculty Talent Show to be held in the Student Center Lounge area. This will be a good time to find out the secret talents of your professors. Announcement of "Who's Who" and winners of the individual door signs will be made at this time. Tickets will be sold at the door costing 30 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

HAVE A BALL

The highlight of the Homecoming activities will be the Homecoming Ball held from 9:00 - 12:00 Saturday evening in the Student Center Ball room. Music will be provided by the Arnie Manke band. The dance is semi-formal and no corsages are required, although mums may be worn. Tickets are available at the door costing $1.25 per couple. Alumni will be admitted free of charge.

Throughout the entire weekend, the dormitories will be judged on their cooperation, participation and hospitality. The announcement of the winning dorm will be made at the Homecoming Ball.

Let's everyone try to make this Homecoming one that will be remembered always by those who attend.

DEAN TO TALK

Monday evening Dr. Mary Champion, associate dean of students at OCE, will speak on how London sees the presidential candidates and the issues of the forthcoming elections. Dean Champion toured England this summer.

The International Relations Club will sponsor this discussion Monday evening, Nov. 2, from 7 to 9 p.m., in the student center conference room. Everyone is invited to participate in the discussion.

'Ods Bodkins

Like I mean that OCE may not have a huge concert hall but the student center commons does suffice somewhat.

About Aoyama Gakuin orchestra: there are some things that everyone should know — you DO NOT applaud between movements of a work — never, never, never.

And, it is considered in better taste to place the American (United States of, type 1, grade A, model six) flag on the left of the display.

Ain't culture grand?

Have you noticed that OCE is beginning to smell like Oregon State? It seems that the guilty odor is a turkey ranch behind the campus . . . Glad to hear that it is under investigation by student council, however.

Here at OCE we have a day that is designated "Last Day to Drop a Course Without Being Responsible for a Grade" day. Very impressive and all that. What is the dollar for?

By the Hoo. The Lamron wishes to officially jump on the Oregon Journalistic Bandwagon and also declare that we of the editorial board are AGAINST Barry Goldwater for the office of President of the United States. (Bold aren't we?)

If I had my way about it, it would either be Dan Gurney or Marvin Kitman (Gurney being too young) for President.

10/28 Noon Meal

Concerning the black hair I found in my potato salad, I realize that this must have been an honest attempt to improve the otherwise tasteless meal, I feel that there are more acceptable ways to reach this end, such as using a cook book or maybe even hiring a cook.

I would appreciate your consideration of this matter.

Excuse me while I go barf.

Gives you the old hoo-ha to know people are well-fed. Forsooth, gadzooks and all that — a hair no less. Found a penny in the jello once and didn't gripe.

I have written a tremendous expose' about the publishing racket in this area but I can't find anyone to print it.

Have a happy Halloween and this time take your masks off on November thirty-second instead of wearing them all year.

PREXY POINTS

By JACK STROPE

I would like to discuss with you this week the OFCL—Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders. The OFCL is a loosely knit organization composed of fifteen colleges and universities within this state. Membership is of private state and community colleges. Each fall there is a general convention held at one of the member schools and, then during the remainder of the year there are business meetings held at various schools throughout the state.

The annual fall general meeting was held at Portland State College this past Friday and Saturday. Our college was represented by a delegation of five: Junior Class Commissioner; Freshman Class Commissioner; Men's Athletic Commissioner; Publicity Commissioner and Student Body President. The winter business meeting is scheduled for Willamette University in Salem and the Spring meeting is to be held at OTI in Klamath Falls.

For the past several years there has been growing debate as to the worthwhileness of membership to the organization as far as OCE is concerned. At this time it costs ASOCE about one hundred dollars per year for membership dues and travel and accommodation expenses. The question is: "Is OFCL worth the price?"

The main problem with OFCL is indicated by the word Federation contained within its title. The delegates at the conventions usually represent their respective schools first and OFCL second. This leads to intra-member harassment and the accomplishment of little or no business. Usually the lines of controversy are drawn between large and small colleges or private and state institutions. If objectives could be developed which would be of benefit to member schools of all categories the federation would be of a much more functional nature than it now is.

At the recent business meeting an attempt was made by the University of Oregon delegation to have a resolution passed which would have extended the interests of the Federation into the realm of state politics. After considerable discussion the resolution was defeated because 46.1% of the Federations Membership is made up of private schools. Probably the most important topic given consideration was the possibility of establishing a general expense fund for the

A flash from Mr. A (for Amerman) - through the ever-busy grape vine. The Student Center coffee shop is NOW OPEN from 7:15 to 9:45 p.m. on Friday and from 9:00 to 4:00 Saturday. If you want the coffee shop to remain open at these times, you should use it.

The general "stink" or the malodorous turkey farm behind Vet's Village may soon be a thing of the past. Inter-dorm Council and Keith Kearsley from Student Council are going to investigate this smelly matter in hopes of removing it. So if someone asks you if you want to buy a turkey . . . watch out, it might be hot!

Mr. Norman from the speech department came to Student Council and requested that the council consider the idea of having a faculty play to replace the Spring Term student play. The proceeds from this play would go to the Scholarship fund. Council gave an affirmative vote to this idea.

Council has just established a committee to survey the pay scale for on-campus jobs. The chairman, Dan Van Otten, will appoint his own committee which will include people who hold jobs on the campus.

Last weekend five Student Council members represented OCE at the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders Conference at Portland State, the host school. Both the public and private schools in Oregon belong to this Federation. The purpose is to bring all Oregon Colleges together to discuss and attempt to solve common problems. At the meeting officers for the coming year were elected and several recommendations and committees were established. Curiously enough, Portland State, the host school, was the only school in the Federation which didn't send a delegation.

Homecoming is now here. Support our team!

procurement of nationally recognized speakers and entertainers. Each member school would contribute a defined amount per student to this fund. In time a pre-arranged circuit with a guaranteed income would be used as a price bargaining factor.

If goals and objectives such as these could be developed and followed through by OFCL there would be a definite advantage for continued membership by this institution. Only time shall tell.

To The Editor

To the Editor,

As the last edition of the Lamron came out, I think many OCE students, along with some concerned faculty and administration personnel were anxiously waiting to see what "The Melting Pot" would contain. Needless to say, Mr. Waiwaiole's column turned out to be a superficial crow-eating session.

I have always considered our Assemblies Commissioner to be a level-headed individual who never spouted off without a damn good reason. Furthermore, I've never known Lono to be the type of individual to turn 180 degrees from what he believes to be the truth. So, I ask you Lono, just why did you back down this time, or should I ask, just who is killing the "Self-Appointed Judge?"

The last dance I attended on the OCE campus contained the usual number of inebriated students, two of which are on the starting line-up of "our" football team. These two varsity lettermen were engaged in making a big stink about the October 16 "Melting Pot". I must publicly congratulate these (May I Lon?) "wayward warriors" for living proof of the "non-canteen crew" (they're not old enough yet). Good show guys—you are doing your duty of perpetuating the OCE breed of Saturday Gladiator.

As for you Lono, in my opinion, you now fall into the category of non-realistic clods on this campus. I have lost all my faith in you, and your "killers," whoever they may be. Your overcautious attitude and "big big ifs" are simply not potent enough to move 60% of the student body or "our" winless football team to victory. My sympathy to you, for you and your killers have, indeed, killed you.

One last thing—our illustrious, bearded, member of the Galley crew, sports car enthusiast, and what-have-you, editor of the Lamron has requested that all letters to the editor be signed. I prefer not to sign my name to this bit of who-dun-it, for a very simple reason: I do not care to be subject to the punishment which can be inflicted by Lono's killers. Furthermore, salt and newspaper isn't included in my current diet.

The Melting Pot

By LONO K. WAIWAIOLÉ

It seems fashionable to welcome all the aged intruders romping about the campus, so I think I'll join in on the chorus. Welcome. All seriousness aside, I am sincerely happy to see you here. Drop by Saturday's football game and perhaps the team will treat you to the greatest upset of the year. It's blowing in the wind.

I think our campus political clubs deserve some recognition. There has been a flock of office-seekers on campus in the past few weeks, and I think this is a valuable service. By co-ordinating these visits, the clubs are able to grind two axes on one stone: they provide a platform from which the candidates can speak, and they bring the issues and people of the campaign to the voting students. The Young Republicans and Young Democrats have done a fine job.

I notice that good ol' Dickey Nixon was in the state this week. There has been some complaint around the campus about the never-ending criticism of Barry Goldwater to be found in the Lamron. As a solution I suggest the politically-minded hacks devote some of their ire to Nixon, who has been a note-worthy whipping boy for some time now. It would be, however, somewhat like beating a dead elephant.

There are some interesting ballot measures this year, one of the most fascinating being the provision for eliminating the death penalty. I think everything that can be said for and against capital punishment has been said many times. It happened to occur to me, however, that I could live quite comfortably without it.

(That is the rankest pun I have come up with this year. Hallelujahhooray, I'm back in the groove.)

I would like to direct the attention of this column's readers to a letter printed under the ITCHIN' POST head on Page 2. The letter is signed simply, "Me," and it deals with the contents of THE MELTING POT for the past two weeks. You may be interested in what it has to say.

The Word is coming.

Wake Up Fair Damsels

By VICKI SLATER

I am quite sure that most of you girls remember last week's Intercollegiate Knight's Initiation when seven initiates came around and sang, told jokes and fairy tales on our behalf. Wasn't it lovely? You say that during the course of the week you graduated from bags under your eyes to dark circles? Well, how about those weary worn initiates?

They had to get up at 4:30 every morning from Monday through Friday and put on (over their clothes) their "armor" consisting of cardboard boxes covered with tin foil. Then they marched with their pledgemaster (an established member of IK) to all of the girls' living quarters entertaining us fair damsels.

However, things were not always peaches and cream for the initiates. One dark, cold morning about a dozen young ladies from Todd arose from their sweet slumber and set up an attack strategy to spring on the IK initiates. They crouched behind bushes waiting... an hour later the boys came up to the dorm and got ready to sing their usual "get up, get up fair damsels." All of a sudden old sprang the Todd girls who doused and squirted the boys with water from a hose and wastebaskets. The girls struck, and made a hasty retreat.

Vet's was more gracious in receiving the initiates. They threw pleasantries such as bubble gum, perfumed flowers and cereal boxes. As for Arby, well, they were gentle, except for one irate young woman throwing some dead flowers at them, missing, naturally, but nothing embarrassing happened. Arby girls even laughed (after a fashion) at the sweet "fairy tale" the boys told them.

After this round of initiation, the IK men still weren't done. They had to wear their armor from 8 a.m. till 5 p.m. on campus. Have you ever tried sitting down with one of those outfits on? It was almost an embarrassing thing to have to do, wearing that get-up when people looked at you with an expression on their face that says, "what are you, some kind of a NUT?" Gib Jones who has a class behind the Ad building says that the children on the elementary playground get a charge out of seeing him with his "armor", also.

There's more to come for these fellows. All this week they have to do whatever the established IK members tell them. Anything from washing a car to cleaning a bedroom.

These men have been extended the honor of being initiated into Intercollegiate Knights. In order to become a member of the organization one must receive a letter from the IK president asking him to join. If he wants to be a member of the organization he must write back, accepting. Then there is a meeting and initiation ritual is explained. Intercollegiate Knights is a national men's service organization of limited membership. "The purpose of the club is to keep alive the traditions of the campus and to encourage student leadership and participation in campus activities. Members are selected on the basis of loyalty, character, and willingness to work." Obviously this is a club worth all the discomforts of initiation. Look at it this way girls... we were harassed by the pick of the crop. If you recognize one of these new IK members, run up to him, shake his hand and say, "Congratulations, you

OCE Gains

By James Farley

This summer my parents casually mentioned to me that the new chairman of OCE Humanities Department had rented the large house across the street from us.

"Well," I said, "I will be able to get in good with this new prof." As it turned out, anyone who meets Dr. Alva can not help but feel as though he has become one of Dr. Alva's personal friends. I have never seen him without a smile on his face. His students may feel differently but as a neighbor he is as friendly as anyone could ask for.

Dr. Alva has replaced Dr. Jane Dale, who had been head of the Humanities Department since 1954. She stepped down from this position so as to be able to devote more time to teaching.

Dr. Alva was on the staff of Stanford University from 1959 to 1961. It was there that he received his Fulbright Scholarship, sponsored by the Fulbright Act and Cornell University. This Scholarship brought him a teaching job at an English Language School in Rome, Italy. The next year was appointed Director of the school and remained in this position until 1964.

Before 1959 he was an English Teacher and head of the English Department at Capuchino High School in San Bruno, California. He also taught English and Spanish in several other California schools.

Dr. Alva obtained his Doctorate of Arts degree from Stanford University. His Doctoral thesis dealt with structural grammar in public schools in California. His major fields of graduate study were English and Education.

When you get to know Dr. Alva I am sure you will agree with me when I say "California's loss is OCE's gain."

Pajama Attire

"Bed Time Story," complete with a double bed, was the theme of the Pajama Dance held Sat., Oct. 24, in the Coffee Shop.

Except for a few shy-souls, attending students came attired in the dress of the evening—pajamas. A few couples even wore matching night shirts. The most different and noticeable PJ's of all were frilly pink shorties worn with lavender leotards. When given the chance, you'd be surprised what people can come up with!

The dance was sponsored by the Jr.-Sr. Prom committee. Sue Patterson served as chairman, and Dave Bauer was D. J. The money earned, $45, will help finance this year's Prom.

To Play, Or To Mate

By DENNY O'BRIEN

(ACP)—Seventeen students from Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio, silently marched in front of the city's new Playboy Club for two hours, carrying signs with such slogans as "Hide From Reality Here" and "Do You Want Your Daughter to be a Playmate?"

The leader of the group, Thomas Conway, a sophomore from Cleveland, said the demonstrators objected to the presence of the key club because of its connection with Playboy magazine, which he described as "pornographic trash."

THE XAVIER NEWS, campus newspaper, said one of the students distributed a mimeographed sheet which read as follows:

"In picketing the Playboy Club, we as university students wish to point out that the entire Playboy philosophy not only opposes the basic Judeo-Christian principle of our society but openly advocates their overthrow. We decry Hugh Hefner's 'new morality'. It is nothing but plain old immorality."

"It has been stated that the presence of a Playboy Club will bring more business to Cincinnati. What kind of business? Have we reached such a ridiculous impasse that the development of downtown Cincinnati depends on overgrown 'boys' ogling 'bunnies'?"

"Mr. Hugh Hefner is the publisher of Playboy magazine, famous for its daring pictures. A Playboy Club in Cincinnati cannot but help promote the Playboy magazine. Pornography, no matter how sophisticated it claims to be, is nothing more than filth—a filth whose stench is repulsive and whose advocates are corrupters."

Off-Campus Policies

By Gayle Ahrens

Just as Dave Brenneman interviewed President Rice for the Lamron, I too was assigned to make an interview with one of the personnel of OCE. I was to ask Dr. Champion, Dean of Women, questions on the policies of off-campus living.

When I asked her this question she answered that they were being revised because they were out of date. She did say though, that anyone may live off campus providing they live respectively at they do in their homes. The age limit is anyone who is over twenty-one or under, and in college. If a student is under 21 the parents must give their consent.

Off-campus living seems to be very popular with students at OCE for there are approximately 300 students. Of the 300, Dr. Champion said that there are 135 women and 165 men.

When asked if there was any specific time that an off-campus student had to be in, such as in the dormitories, her answer was no. The students are on their own.

Concerning the liquor problem, I asked her for her comment and she said that all the colleges in the state of Oregon have a rule on this, but that there is not a state rule. If you are over 21 you may drink off-campus. It states in the off-campus regulations pamphlet that drinking or the possession of alcoholic beverages in off-campus residence violates campus regulations and institutional policy, but this rule may be revised as it is under the list of rules that are being worked over.

This concludes my interview with Dr. Champion. It was truly a great experience meeting with her.

OCE TO TACKLE RED RAIDERS

Jim Dent, OCE linebacker, to meet . . .

Cross Country Meet Slated

The OCE cross-country team takes to the road again this week as they travel to Portland for a big six-way meet. The Wolves run today at 4:00 p.m. at Portland University against Lewis & Clark, Willamette, Portland State, Lower Columbia J.C., and the host Portland University team. The meet, the Wolves' last before the all-important conference meet November 7 at Klamath Falls, should be an important race for the young harriers in preparation for the conference run. Today's contest in Portland will find the Northwest Conference's top two teams, Willamette and Lewis & Clark, meeting for the first time. It is expected these two teams will provide the Wolves with their strongest competition of the day. OCE lost to Willamette in a dual meet and also lost to Lewis & Clark, this one coming in an eight-way meet at Lewis & Clark. The improved OCE runners should offer stiffer competition today than they did in the earlier meets.

Last Friday in a four-way home meet on the Monmouth course, OCE defeated their three other rivals. The final score was OCE 21, Linfield 60, Clatsop J.C. 70, and Cascade 89. The individual winner was Jim Musgrave of OCE. Jim toured the 4.25-mile course in a time of 23:28 minutes for his first win of the season. Other placers for OCE were Don Berry, third; Ron Williamson, fourth; John Bond, sixth; and John Gillespie, seventh. The other four hill-and-dale runners toiling for the Wolves were Kevin Braker, ninth; Doug Orton, tenth; Jerry Bailey, twenty-fourth; and Dave Bauer, twenty-fifth.

The Wolves of Oregon College will knock pads with the Southern Oregon Red Raiders Saturday, Oct. 31, in Monmouth at 1:30 p.m. The contest will be the Wolfpack's Homecoming game, and the Bill McArthur-coached squad is tuning up for what the coaching staff hopes will be the team's best showing this year.

The Pack has a big job cut out for it. The visiting Ashlanders sport a pair of nationally-ranked pass-catchers in Spike Gordon and Jim Calhoun, plus one of the nation's leading passers in Dan Miles. McArthur has stacked his "Whoa" team with pass defenders, as he will go with a four-man line, three linebackers, and four deep men. All-Conference linebacker Jim Dent is a questionable starter. He may be sidelined with an arm injury for the entire contest, in which case the linebacker slots will be filled by Gary Pappenfus, Earl Lang and Jerry Remick. These three are small (Pappenfus is the heaviest at 185 pounds), but quick and strong. Lang, the lightest of the three at 150 pounds, was recognized as Player of the Week for the Pack's first conference game, which illustrates that McArthur is not giving away a thing by going with this trio of hardnosed, pile-driving tacklers.

The four deep men who will attempt to flag down aerials intended for Gordon and Calhoun will be Kit Eaton, Dennis Tipton, Steve Jackson, and Dave Laney. Eaton was Player of the Week last week, and has been effective pass defender all year. The other three are in the passing business on offense, and are the best bet for the Wolves to stop the SOC passing machine.

The line will be comprised of Vince Peetz, Tim Haralson, Ray Herzberg and Rod Brown. This is the hard-charging quartet that should apply the pressure needed to stymie the Ashland throwers.

The offensive unit, McArthur's "Go" team, will be at full strength. OCE's pass attack, which has shown considerable improvement in the last few weeks, will be directed by Dave Laney and Ray Halter, with Laney scheduled to start. Tipton and Jackson will be at the end positions, flanking Herzberg and Sandy Swanson at tackle and Pappenfus and Larry Sydow at guard. Peetz will open at center.

The backfield will be rounded out by Bob Vanderford and Eaton at halfback and Gerry Decker at fullback. All three have been effective in spots, and if they are "on" at the same time, the Raiders will have more rushing power than they can handle.

Wolves Lose To PSC '11'

The Oregon College Wolves lost their third straight conference game Saturday evening in Portland, falling prey to the Vikings of Portland State, 27-12. Although winless in league action the Wolves showed signs of improvement. The most optimistic sign was the unveiling of a lethal passing attack, something the Wolfpack has not had until now. Dave Laney and Ray Halter combined for 10 completions in 26 attempts, almost double the Pack's total for the first two conference games.

Halter was the good news for the Wolves. Head Coach Bill McArthur put the sophomore transfer from Mt. Angel in charge of his "Go" team for the first time, and he responded with 9 completions in 25 attempts for a 36.0 completion percentage. Ray also collected the Pack's first conference touchdown pass. The ball-carriers on the "Go" team, however, found the Viking defensive line more than their match. Portland State held the Wolves to a meager 41 yards on the ground.

For the third straight game, OCE's Player of the Week was a member of McArthur's "Whoa" team. Defensive back Kit Eaton got the nod from the Pack coaching staff as the squad's outstanding player. Eaton, a freshman from Beaverton, was credited with 15 tackles while on defense. He also played in crucial spots on the "Go" team, carrying the ball four times for an average of 4.5 yards per jaunt and pulling down a 17-yard Halter aerial. Kit is the second freshman to win the award in three weeks. Also standouts on McArthur's defensive unit were Jim Dent, OCE's All-Conference linebacker, cornerbacks Jerry Remick and Dave Laney, and Captain Ray Herzberg at defensive tackle. Dent, last week's outstanding player, managed to cut down eight ground assaults and pounce on a PSC fumble before he had to leave the game with a twisted ankle.

Both OCE touchdowns were turned in by freshmen end Dennis Tipton. The Stayton rookie collared a 15-yard strike from Halter for six points near the end of the first half, and ran a poor punt down the sidelines for 35 yards and another tally after Portland State's first series in the second half. Tipton emerged from the game as the only Wolf to score in conference action this year.

McArthur will lead his Pack into OCE's homecoming fray against Southern Oregon Saturday, Oct. 31. It will be a tough game for the Wolves, but the team has started to jell and may be ready to surprise the Red Raiders when the highly touted Ashlanders hit the Wolfpack turf at 1:30 p.m.
