Met Tenor Di Stefano In Concert

Giuseppe Di Stefano, talented Italian tenor of the Metropolitan opera, will present a recital at Gill auditorium on October 13. All students of OCE will be admitted free on presentation of student body card. Rises will be engaged for students needing transportation, for which a small charge will be made.

The 38-year old singer is on his third consecutive concert tour of America. He has conducted his engagements mostly to North and South America. Last summer, however, he returned to Italy for the first time since his American debut.

Di Stefano is accompanied by his American wife, former Maria Chiar- dano. On the program will be two Verdi arias and a rendering of one of the best- known baritone arias from "La Traviata.

The 1950 Wolf Gridmen are ready to shake Quakers' hands. This year's Wolf Gridmen are a solid, well-balanced football squad. They have engaged services of many former Wolf Gridmen.

After a slow start the 1950 Wolf football team was able to win the spring football contest. Now with a better team and better coaching they are hoping to throw the Quakers a loss for the first time in years.

Two assemblies will be held, the first part of next week. Stewart G. Call, educational director of the General Conference of Christians and Jews, will lecture at an assembly on Monday, October 16, at 10 a.m. in Campbell hall auditorium. Among these will be: Scrooge from "The Old Curiosity Shop"; Scrooge from "The Christmas Carol"; Uriah Heep and Will S. Pickwick from "David Copperfield" and a portrait study of Mr. Dickens.

Classes will not be dismissed for this assembly unless the teacher so wishes.

Sophomores Ignite Freshman Bonfire?

The slogans of the freshman class run into some difficulties last week when preparing for the traditional Homecoming bonfire. It seems that on Tuesday night some mysterious force set aside the debris gathered at the PE building.

However, through a united effort in gathering more rubbish and debris, a large bonfire was the center of attention at the rally Friday evening. John Piascik, bonfire chairman, and his helpers should be commended for their fine work.

WELCOME, OCE ALUMNI!

All of us have been looking forward with pleasure to seeing you Alums on our campus again. Since I am new here I would very much like to meet as many of you as find it possible to come into the office Saturday morning to say Hello.

An interesting program has been arranged by our student committees for your entertainment and I hope that the day proves to be a very enjoyable one for each of you. It is fine to have you on our campus for the day and I hope you will return often.

Your suggestions and ideas for the continued advancement of the Oregon College of Education will always be very welcome and helpful to us.

Cordially yours,

President, OCE
WELCOME!

To all the returning alums, we take this opportunity to offer you a cordial and sincere welcome back to OCE. You will, no doubt, find that there have been changes made—for the better! Of course, some of the gentlemen may find that West House is out of bounds, but at last reports, the women seem to have the situation (and the house) well in hand. A new end modern library is under construction, and appears to be well worth the long hours devoted to preparing. We're fond of the college from the first glance, and we wouldn't leave.

One look at your eyes, and we immediately know that you are a wonderful class! I wonder what they call "The Nation's Best." Mr. Di Stefano is noted for his ed. This season he made his San Francisco opera debut. We just had enough for the hogs' winter feed. If you don't eat at Todd hall, you'll have to worry about getting enough meat. If you eat at Todd hall, the milk is plentiful and the food served is tops. If you don't eat at Todd hall you're really missing out on the place.

Half the struggle for life is the struggle for food. The nurse at the Health Service was examining a case the other day, and said, "You don’t drink enough milk." "Nope." "You live on a farm don’t you?" "Nope." "You don’t eat at Todd hall, do you?"

The Homecoming Committee wishes to extend a special greeting to all who have journeyed to OCE for this 1950 Homecoming.

ECONOMY

Evidence to support this statement is found on the part of those who support the amendment to the state constitution authorizing the state system of higher education to refund its revenue or fee bonds for self-liquidating buildings, and replacing them with general obligation bonds thereby saving $1,200,000. The amendment on the November 7th ballot directs that no additional general obligation bonds, which may be issued at a lower rate of interest than those now outstanding until the amendment to the state constitution takes effect, be issued unless by direction of the state legislature.

The revenue bonds finance such projects as dormitories, student centers, and other structures which income is assured.

We can boil it down to this: Exchange a 3% fee bond for a 2% state supported bond, thereby saving a considerable amount of money and doing very little damage. Any economist, progressive voter will, or should, vote for this amendment.

You've got a chance to be a part of the family at OCE. The profs and instructors are nice as can be. The seniors and juniors are grand, we'll agree.

But, as for you sophomores, you're worse than a pill. Your wicked intentions will have us running for our lives.

It seems you know what fashions should be. Our clothes are too short, and dress above knees.

Monmouth and its surroundings were awakened bright and early at 2 a.m. on Tuesday by a noisy bunch of Douglas County fair-goers who reported in front of the PE building for roll call. After roll call they filed to Varsity House to attend the annual Newcomers' Reunion, the household of the benefit of school-boys.

The thundering herd then traveled to West house and then to Arnold Arms. Arnold Arms proved to be dangerous territory: For some odd reason an enormous amount of water fell from the upper windows which had been opened into the school. Before retiring the group moved to Senec cottage and had a time of it ever since. Everyone knew the benefit of school-boys. At the freshmen be-just as they appear in the play. The hard part was distinguishing the expensive outfits worn by American boys who were regulars and those worn by the British. The dancing was done with great spirit.

From various reports it seems as if the Homecoming has been moved to the third floor of Todd hall. The new owners are requested to give the new tenants a warm welcome. It's a very tender mouth. Disappointed by Arnold I's disappearance, the boys and girls of Arnold Arms proved to be a little shy.

Welcome, Alums! We pause once in the academic year to welcome back past graduates of OCE. We hope that you will enjoy the activities that have been planned for your day!

As traditional as Homecoming in fresh, and grey and red, white and blue, capes and sashes, and rolled up pant-legs the freshmen have come to the end of their "exclusive" five days. With roll calls every day, books to carry and bills to be paid, they have been busy. The most successful event was the 2 a.m. roll call Tuesday night: "Do we say Wednesday night?" By 1:30 the girls were up and turning in for the remainder of that long roll call. The new freshman class has elected a rally committee to lead the girls and boys, and they are as follows: MaryAnn Hudson, MaryAnn Arneson, Harvey Goeckel, and Robert Glass. They have been working on their lack of practice, and they seem to be making progress.

Another Grad. Philip Lepore arrived at OCE "on cloud nine." Sunday morning the Crimson O Players welcomed him as a member of the group who "would be at the first and third Mondays of each month," according to the group's aims. Under the direction of Debbie Little, the human Gladys Good, and George W. Brown, "Saturday nights are the highlight of the evening" at the group's regular meetings. In the fall term, Shirley Oliver, vice-president, and Marlene Thomas, treasurer, introduced the club. A new membership was announced and the club is "on the way." The club plans to perform all of the remaining operas this term." According to latest reports, two others have been added to the club. The club meets in the old building and is "under a "word of mouth" convention, to be called the "Crimson O Players." The group meets on Mondays and Wednesdays.

WELCOME TO HOMECOMING!
Sports Parade

By Ed Daniels

The OCE Wolves will be out to knock over the Grizzlies of George Fox college and even up their win-loss record for the 1950 season. Last year the wolves battered the Grizzlies by a 20-1 margin.

To open the season, the Wolves were cast against the strong and mighty Lewis and Clark club. Bobbi Lee opened the game with an 80-yard touchdown run on the first play. However, the Pioneers came back to score three touchdowns before the first half ended. In the second half the Wolves scored once again before the Wolves finally got into the scoring column with Lee again going over on a past play. Final score was 12, 28, OCE 12.

Against Pacific university the Wolves showed much improvement and outlasted the Badgers for the entire game. Robin Lee scored on a naked reverse and Hank Decker kicked a field goal at half time. McArthur's men trailed by a 12-7 score.

The second half was a bitterly-fought contest with neither team able to push over a point. Final statistics showed that the Badgers outplayed on the ground, with OCE having gained 100 yards more than their opponents. Final score was F. U., 13, OCE 7.

SOCCE was the victim of the students' Wolves the following week. Scoring in every quarter for the first time, as many are slated to start the game against the weaker Quaker team.

Houses Plan Games

The student council has appointed Archie Podberg as director of intramural activities. Podberg announces that there will be a meeting in room 113 of Campbell hall on Tuesday, October 17, at which all those interested in entering intramural teams should be present. A schedule will be drawn up at this time for football.

If there aren't enough groups interested in football, basketball will be discussed following the football meeting.

Seniors Will Play Last Home Game

In today's Homecoming game, five seniors of the Wolf grid team will be playing their final game before a home crowd. The remaining games find the Wolves traveling to Klamath, Wash., to play Central Washington, to Albany for the OTT encounter, and then to LaGrande and Coos. The final game of the season casts OCE against Vaupont.

The seniors to play are Robin and Paul Lee at halfback, Archie Padberg and Del Salvesen at guard position, and Dave Powell, an outstanding pass offensive man. Two other seniors who will not appear in today's game are Hank Decker and Gus Lamphey. Both of these players are out for the remainder of the season because of broken bones. Robin Lee, a four-year letterman, run, national recognition last year, will be the leading scorer of the season for the first seven games. He also leads the Wolves in points for this far thin season. This was placed on the All-West Coast team last year and was mentioned on several All-American teams.

Archie Podberg will also be completing his fourth year as a letterman, while Dave Powell will be winding up his third-year man. Paul Lee, our student body president, has already played enough minutes to give himself a second football letter. Salvesen, a transfer, is playing his first year. Both Lamphey and Decker have two years to their credit as film and will be sorely missed.

Statistics Given On Conference Games

Oregon Technical Institute moved into elite football company this week when the Owls clashed with Boise junior college at Klamath Falls Friday night. It was the feature game of the week as three members of the Oregon Collegiate conference engage in non-league opposition. Boise is one of the gridiron powers in national junior college circles, with a victory string which has reached 23 straight wins. Oregon Tech enters the game with a record of one win and two losses. In a Saturday afternoon game Coach Bill Mc Arthur's Oregon college of Education squad will play host to George Fox college at Monmouth. The Wolves defeated George Fox last year 12 to 8. OCE moved into the victory circle in its last game with a 6 to 0 trouncing of Southern Oregon and now has one victory against two defeats on its record for the season.

Eastern Oregon college travels to Lewiston Saturday night for a contest with Northern Idaho. The Musketeers have yet to win a game in three starts this year, but have been improving steadily. The Idaho team won last week's contest against the two teams, 26 to 12. Vaupont junior college, victim of a 13 to 0 defeat to Clark junior college last week, will be idle this week awaiting its next game with EOC at LaGrande the following Saturday.
