The OCE Lamron takes this opportunity to welcome returning students in hopes that they had an enjoyable holiday season. The staff of this paper also wishes to welcome any new students to OCE in hopes that they will find what they are looking for in classrooms or other places around this campus.

CONCERNING NEW YEAR’S RESOLUTIONS
A good New Year’s resolution for many of us might be the one about holding our gripes when it comes to having to pay for things around this campus. The student money card is just as valuable as it ever was, despite the difference in opinion which many students may have. The only difficulty is that the student has to get around with the card in this year and it is up to us to start paying the debt, so naturally with the decrease in the green goodling stuff, comes a big increase in yak-yak about having to pay. Since when did people start to get something for nothing?

If the people around here think that this place is rough on the pocketbook, just start looking around for a place that will cost as little. During the past vacation, the editorial writer did some checking with students from numerous other schools around this area and found that in comparison, students at OCE don’t have such a bad luck.

So, if you seem to be having trouble accepting the idea of having to pay for dances, movies, etc., at OCE, don’t gripe, Mac, TRANSFER!!!

Veterans’ Adviser at OCE Requests Your Cooperation on Questionnaire

Matthew R. Thompson, veterans’ adviser, has expressed the idea that if a record could be kept of the OCE students who are called into the armed service it would prove of value to the student body in the future.

Therefore it is requested that all male students and male faculty members cooperate by filling out the form before as accurately as possible. Any women students or faculty members who are connected with the armed services are asked to do the same. If you know of anyone who was called here during the fall term and has been called or has enlisted, you are asked to fill in as much of the information as possible.

Please place these questionnaires in a box which will be placed in the student post office. Thank you.

Basketball Loop Opened Last Friday
Friday night’s encounter between the Oregon College of Education Women’s basketball unit, led by Coach Robert Knox, and the Vancouver Utes, under the tutelage of Coach Arks Agee, marked the opening of the 1950-51 basketball schedule drawn up by the newly formed Oregon Collegiate Conference.

This conference, composed of the Eastern Oregon College of Education, Western Oregon Technical Institute, Pac- Monmouth College, and Eastern Oregon College, recently completed a six-game football slate. The winter double calls for a 12-game basketball schedule with each squad meeting each of the other conference members four times on a home and hometown basis, similar to the Pacific Conference.

On the basis of pre-season performance no one team can clearly be chosen as potential champion. Their records to date are extremely similar, which seems to indicate that the pennant race will not be decided until the final week of play.

One Point Drops Game for Wolves

The OCE Wolves dropped a heartbreaker on the home floor Friday evening as they took on Thibodeaux, running up 25 points to lead all scorers. Artie Hamilton, ex-University of Oregon guard, went in the last half. Hamilton tallied 25 points to lead all scorers. He was closely followed by Adrian 9, C. 11 Moorhead, a senior for the visitors, who played for the visitors, and Zane Phoenix, a sophomore from Cottage Grove.

This term saw two freshmen on the OCE junior varsity basketball team. They are Ralph Thompson, who played for Monmouth high school last year, and Zane Phoenix, who played at Monmouth. They are both looking good at forward positions and should see occasional action. Jim Dyal, a sophomore from Bend, is holding down the center slot while the probable starting guards are Whitey Palmquist, a junior from Portland, and Dick Balsh, a sophomore from Cottage Grove.

Wildcats Claw OCE Five 83-62

Coach Bob Kline's OCE crew dropped an 83-62 decision to the linfield college Wildcats in a high-scoring basketball game on December 10 in McMinnville. The Wildcats, considered to be the leading contender for the Northwest Conference title, grabbed a 43-31 halftime lead and went on to win in convincing fashion.

Harold Williams, the OCE Wolves' coach, shared scoring honors with Anderson of Linfield, each clubbing 18 points, and Roberts of OCE with 16. Among the other major point-makers.

Wolves Drop One To Lebanon Elks

Lebanon's AAI Elks earned their count with the OCE hoop quintet in a scrimmage on the Lebanon court on Friday, December 26, by a 65-58 margin. The Wolves took the first half in a 25-25 battle at halftime. But succumbed to the shooting of Lynn Hamilton, forward for Oregon ace, in the last half. Hamilton tallied 25 points to lead all scorers. Artie Hamilton led the way by at least 10 points all through the contest. The Wolves dominated play most of the game, holding a 60-38 halftime lead and stretching it into a 54-65 lead midway through the second half. At this point the Portlanders began to rally by knocking in their shots and the Wolves managed to get down to a 59-67 lead with four minutes remaining.

OCE came back on some brilliant shooting by diminutive Larry Coleman and some outstanding head work by Hal Fletcher, forward, but were unable to stop the final Viking flurry.
