Ducks Smear Beavers to Tie Up Race
By W. B. Stanley, Sports Editor M. THOMAS COURTV, Eugene.
March 8 - Oregon's rode-cares Ducks dropped the Oregon State Beavers into a tie with the Uni­ versity of Washington for the first half. Cliff Crandall, a senior, scored a basket, after which his team was carried from the floor. The Ducks caught fire and ran up a 27-17 advantage at halftime. Peppe, Wills, and William played shots from all over the court in the second half and the Beavers could never catch up or keep within 15 points of the fired-up Ducks.

Oregon's defense kept the Beavers from the basket nearly all evening and the Beavers could get away very few good shots at the hoop. Robert Wills, giant Oregon center, slipped by the OSC defen­ sive setup time after time to hit nine field goals. He added four free throws for 22 points. Lute Blum bracketed seven of his points and his fellow-guard, Peppe, came into his own. Norm Cornell, Oregon's star center had a bad day.

Question: "Do you think that we need a student coop store here?"

Oscar Christiansen, freshman: "I think it would be a big help for the students and a better way to run things. By having a student coop we would have to be in charge of everything all the time.

Harold (Murph) Critchlow, junor, Monmouth: "I think it's a good idea—particularly for those who aren't veterans. I think there are enough students here to make it pay."

Lily Lu Bterford, junior, Eugene: "Definitely yes. The need is great in a small town because recreational facilities are prac­ tically nil.

Leslie Agee, sophomore, Villis­ Village: "I think it would be a good idea. Anything students are willing to do around the school building will have to cooperate. Now it costs too much to buy books and use them only one or two terms."

George McCormick, sophomore, Alhambra: "We need it but the school isn't big enough to support one. I think students are needed to the Landers' Loan Library, such as a greater number of volumes. It's a lot easier than saving money doesn't appeal to him."

Warren Bruce Hamlin, sopho­ more, Salem: "Yes, I think every school needs one. Do the men­ men. Everyone would have to coop­ erate. Now it costs too much to buy books and use them only one or two terms."

Oscar Christiansen, freshman: "I think it would be a big help and advantageous for the or­ ganization. A short business meeting was held Tuesday night to discuss plans for the remainder of the winter term, and also ideas for spring term work.

A dance is being planned for the new Crimson shortly after spring term begins. The date will be announced later.

Chili Feed Tonight
If you can't eat, can't play, and can't sing, you won't enjoy yourself at the chili supper which is being held tonight. If you can do any of the aforementioned things, you are bound to have a grand time, because we plan to eat a lot, play a lot, and sing a lot.

IVCF invites everyone to come to the physical education building at 5:30 p.m. The program for the evening is as follows: 5:30 to 6:00, games; 6:00, chili (all you can eat); and 6:15 to 7:15, sing-spiration.

Several Bible college students from Eugene will be present. They are Everett Fulton, Glenn Hancock, and a few of their friends. They will lead the singing and will bring instrumental numbers.

Evelyn Fulton is a concert pianist much in demand on the west coast.

Everyone who attends is assured of a good time.

VA Gives Warning

planned recently by Mr. Wayne Smith, VA training officer in this area.

Although supplemental certificates of eligibility are essential, several hundred students have moved to different Oregon schools this term without them, Mr. Smith said. All of those had to be interrupted on VA payrolls, and a large number are running into difficulty qualifying for clearance.

Best pass to a new certificate is a statement from the first school attesting to the veteran's "satisfactory progress." If an ex-Off completes one course and wants to enroll in another, the school's report of completion clears the way with the VA.

"A veteran who is flunking out in his studies and wants to transfer has a harder row to hoe," Mr. Smith explained. "If he feels that a change of course at another school will help him, he must talk it over with the VA's advancement service before he can be cleared for the supplemental certificate.

"If he has flunked out and wants to attend another school which has a lower scholastic floor, he must do so without VA assistance. This rule is aimed at the 'campus flincher,' and it may be set aside where illness or other hardships have caused a veteran's failure, or later, after a notable comeback:

"Easiest way to clear the decks for a transfer is before leaving the present school," Mr. Smith advised. "All transfers go through several separate actions in the VA's regional office, and the only way that delays in payments can be avoided is to notify the agency well in advance that a change is planned.

Some Oregon schools have been accepting transfers without asking for supplemental certificates, but unfortunately this makes no difference, the training officer warned.

If a veteran who intends to transfer can't get a statement of progress from the first school, he would be wise to talk it over at the VA office in Portland or Salem before he makes the change.

Coach Knox has issued a call for all prospective baseballers to report for the initial work-out this afternoon. The men slated to report include: Jerry Jones, Ray Smith, Mary Hiebert, out-fielders; Al Petersdorf, first base; Stan Randal, second base; "Muss" Harris, third; John Nasman and Leland Hufford, catchers; Hamilton, Hamer, and Buckley, pitchers.

Big John Nasman led the hitters last spring and fared to be struck out. The burly catcher keeps his eye sharpened by performing for Scalpoe during the summer.

Another heavy slinger is Claude Buckley who hit an even .400 in the season of 1946. Buckley was an all-around handyman that you. He played third, first, third, pitched in three games and took a turn in the outer pasture. Buckley hurled several contests with a service team in Japan last season. The writer recalls that in the third round championship was another game where the two teams were even for the first half of the game until when Buckley beat Multnomah college by striking out 10 men.

Arnold Arms for the Vets, erased AA's chances in a play-off March 2 for the outer pasture. Buckley hurled several contests with a service team in Japan last season. V.V. II BEATS A.A. 7-3-42

Veterans' Village II came from behind in the waiting minutes of their game Monday right to edge Arnold Arms 7-3-42. This victory for the Vets erased AA's chances for the intramural pennant. If it now leaves the two Village teams to oppose each other for the second round championship.

This was another game where the Vets were in doubt until the last minute. The writer notes that the Vets used their fast pitcher, Alton Buckley, to handle the first half of the game. Buckly beat Multnomah college by striking out 10 men.

Marles Harris is captain of the V.V. II team. He is a gradu­ate of Portland high school of the class of 1946. He is also a member of the intramural pennant of football and is a guard in intramural competition. McDonald is a graduate of Reed high school, class of 1944. He is a member of the intramural basketball team. He is probably a high point man for the Vets this year. Tomay Jones is a member of the intramural football team. He is probably the best player for the team as a second baseman, back of the court, and a good hitter. Joe Kaup is a member of the intramural football team. He is a good hitter and catcher.

With apologies to the many fans around this area, your correspondent will endeavor to select the outstanding players of last year's Moles.
