Conference Calls Dean of Women
Miss Joan Swain, dean of women at the Oregon College of Education, left Sunday, March 29, for Chiloquin. Miss Swain is attending the national convention of the National Council of Teachers of Education in Portland.

Miss Swain of ORE and Mrs. Golda Winkham of the University of Oregon, who are attending the deans of women at Oregon of the two national groups,

HEINTZELMAN TO SPEAK
Mr. Oliver Heintzelman, OCE geography instructor, will speak on the subject “The Geocompany of Asia.” These lectures are attended by the Oregon geography teachers and will be moved to Portland for the convention on Thursday, April 1. In Portland, Grasse is the per tune center of Southern France.

Students Enjoy Negro Quintet
The program of the “Musical Vivace,” Negro quintet which was preased at the assembly last Wednesday, was received with enthusiasm by a large audience.

Not only were the arrangements of the Negro quintet, but the quartet-ent also sang four songs of the negro tradition, and a last one of the group, “Serenade Their Song,” ing June 14. Dr. Rex Putnam, superintendent of public instruction, other members of the OCE summer school, and a number of leading educators and administrators from Oregon public schools will be instructors on the OCE faculty according to an an-mouncement by Dr. Louis Kap-las, chairman of the education department and director of the summer session.

Many new courses will be offered during the 1948 summer session at OCE. Leading educators and psychologists, visiting instructors, and members of the regular staff will teach courses in the regular school terms or in previously unoffered courses.

A course in Child Development will be given by Mr. Allan Eber, sor of the Carlsbad faculty, and psychiatrist for Woodland.

Mr. Charles Williams, professor of the University of Oregon Medic School, will also be in attendance.

Dance Welcomes Back Students

Jack Graham's Moonlight Serenade assembly new and old students at Staff and Key's Hello Dance last Thursday evening, March 18, in the Recreation Hall. Perhaps it was the music, or just the thought of spring, anyway the crowd which turned out received an all-time high. An added attraction was the newly installed Stephephone. Everyone danced until the very last minute before closing time at the dormitory.

Refreshments were served as far as they went, but the punch soon disappeared. Perhaps Jack's orchestra will revolve the beating spirits of the OCE students who are weary of dancing to jive box music.

News From the Dean's Office

The education and psychology library of Dr. V. V. Caldwell, who was professor of psychology at OCE before his death, will be formally presented to the college tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Campbell hall auditorium. Mrs. Caldwell will be present at the ceremony, and it is hoped that a large attendance will express the gratitude the students feel at receiving a gift of this nature.

Besides the presentation ceremony there will be members by the girls' sextet and a solo "On the Road to Mandalay" by George Hadden.

Professor P. E. Dustoor, professor of English literature at the University of Allahabad in India, is including OCE in his lecture tour of the western states and will speak in a special assembly here on April 7 at 11 a.m. in the Campbell hall auditorium. Professor Dustoor, who has studied many of the problems of present-day India, is sponsored by the East and West Association of which Pearl S. Buck is the president.

The story of "Little Red Riding Hood" will be dramatized with puppets on Monday, April 5, at 3 o'clock in the auditorium. Miss Chappell's puppetry students, who created the four puppet characters appearing in the story, will present the show.

Students Wed During Vacation

Before the candlelight affair of the First Presbyterian church in Independence, Adalaa McKinney became the bride of Lyle Whiger on Thursday March 18, at 7 p.m. with Reverend John W. Holt officiating.

The bride wore a blue suit dress with white accessories and carried a white Bible with carnations. Rosemarie Floyd, maid of honor, wore a navy blue and pink street dress with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and daffodils. Candle lighters were Marjorie Renhard and Janell Devine who wore light blue street dresses. Art Dickey, and Dick Lewis were ushers.

The couple, both students at OCE, are now living on northeast Knox street in Monmouth.

Wednesday Night Movies Scheduled

Every other week during the term, a free movie will be presented in the Campbell hall auditorium. Students will be admitted upon showing student body cards. One guest will also be admitted without an additional charge.

The schedule for this quarter includes: "Chinatown," to be shown on March 21; "Captain Fury," April 15; "Dragoon Valley," April 26; "Keys of the Kingdom," May 15; and "Wimmin," May 26.

Continuation of these movies will depend upon the number of students attending them.

Pianists' Styles Show Variation

There are several concert pianists today and equally so many styles of playing. Schnabel seems always at ease when before the instrument. Horowitz doesn't want to appear complacent when playing unless accompanied by a surfeit of pseudo prodigies of the freckle era and at least half a dozen up-to-date Gibson Girls. Rubinstein becomes hysteric by the black and white pattern confronting him, especially with fires, orgies, and rituals somewhere in the embryonic stage of development. Horowitz conquers the piano.

To be played for Tuesday evening's Music Hour are several examples of Horowitz's universality. Music of Mendelssohn, Chopin, and Liszt will be offered. Almost every expression is represented from the somnolent and pacifying Chopin's Nocturne in F to the ravenous rumblings and crackling dynamics of Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 6. Almost unbelievable is the performance of Liszt's piano transcription of Mendelssohn's "E minor Symphonia" (subtitled by the composer the "Pathetique") and the Concerto in B-flat minor for Piano and Orchestra should offer contrast to the program. Horowitz will be featured as solio in the concerto.

Portland Teacher, Author of Book Was First Editor of OCE Lamron
A recent Sunday Oregonian had a write-up of one of the city school teachers, Miss Isabel McLelland, who recently had a book published. It is a child's book entitled "Ten Beaver Roads." Miss McLelland's parents left Scotland when she was three years old and came to Oregon, settling on the northeast Pacific coast. The theme of the book is based on this experience.

The book is published by the Henry Holt company. It was Miss McLelland's first attempt at book production and she was surprised to have it accepted and used where first offered. The book had a favorable review in the New York Times and seems headed toward a successful future.

Interesting to OCEans is the fact that Miss McLelland went to this institution and was the first editor of the Lamron, student publication of the Oregon Normal school. The paper had been started earlier under the name of the "ONS Breeze" originated by students of the school's commercial department.

In 1924 the paper was taken over as a student body activity. A price of $1.00 was offered for new names for the paper and "Lamron" (spelled backward) was the winning entrant. Miss McLelland was selected as the first editor and the first issue under the new name and student sponsorship was March 31, 1924. It appeared as Volume 1, Number 15, previous numbers having been issued as the ONS Breeze.

 Forgotten Inventor

Varsity O to Sponsor Trophy

Variety O has voted to purchase a trophy to be given each year to the outstanding OCE athlete as selected by a committee to be comprised of the two coaches, the women's athletic director, the athletic commissioner, the sports editor of the Lamron and the president and vice-president of Variety O.

The club was also instrumental in starting a plaque for the most valuable player in each sport. The plaque will have space for four names each year. Each name will be decided upon by a vote of the players on the individual football, basketball, baseball, and track squads. As yet the plaque has not been named.

CASAHRooN Planning Meeting
Representatives from Oregon and Washington attended a classroom planning conference in the OCE campus on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 16 and 17. The conference, sponsored by the state department of education and OCE, was presided over by President Henry M. Gunn. Dr. Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction, spoke at all the meetings.

Utah speaker for the conference was Dr. Harold B. Exton, consulting educationalist of Austin, Texas.

Part-time students, on-the-job trainees and others will not be entitled to the increases, the VA ruling held. The bill S. 1394, signed into law, amends the Service-man's Readjustment Act (GI Bill) and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) for the disabled.

The new payments will be at the monthly rate of $75 for a veteran without dependents, $105 for a veteran with one dependent, and $125 for a veteran with more than one dependent.

The higher rates are applicable to periods of training on or after April 1. However, since subsistence allowance checks are not due until the end of the month in which the veteran is in training, most of the eligible veteran-students will receive their first checks at the higher rates on or shortly after May 1.
