Election Fills Council Posts

Election polls were open May 22 and 23 to elect commissioners for the educational council and the athletic council. Under the authority of the student council, the posts open for public application were commissioner, athletic commissioner, student commissioner, assembly commissioner and assembly councilman. Under the athletic council, students open for public application were commissioner-in-charge and intramural commissioner.

Ray Scottfield, Rear Flecketer, and Fioh Warren were running for public official. Ray Scottfield is the new commissioner. Rearl Warren was the elected social commissioner. Others nominated for this position were Joao Bleveder and Peggy George. Verne Kinler is the new councilman. Margot Burridge and Melba McKenzie also ran for this position. For assembly commissioners, Norman Baracum was elected. Wilma Crotty was the other candidate for this office.

Public commissioner for the educational council is Mrs. Pearl B. Heath. She has been on the council previously, and her election is approved by the students.

Chilliwack Designs Jewels

Creative designs in jewelry done by Mrs. Pearl B. Heath, head of the OCE jewelry department, are winning approval of discriminating clients of an exclusive Portland jeweler.

Heath’s designs—"clothes pin" or "mobile" shoulder designs—"mobile" shoulder designs—"mobile" shoulder designs—"mobile" shoulder designs—"mobile" shoulder designs—for dresses and suits—are hand constructed, made from silver wire, with inset stones of unpolished and unfinished natural red jasper, rhodonite, amethyst and other western minerals.

The M-Day of library is afternon of June 1.

Put on a pair of old jeans and roll up things as far as possible. "M" day (moving day) for the library will be the afternoon of June 1 or the morning of June 2, a chance for the librarians to prove that they can help set up the new library by use of student help.

The next announcement that will be dis- missed after the move is com- man. Students wishing to volunteer to help carry books should report to the old library office at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, June 1, or at 8:00 a.m. on Saturday, June 2. Anyone who has been asked to help with the moving, also other announcements as to the exact date and time will be an- nounced at the Awards assembly on Friday, June 1.

There will be a "loader" standing by the book shelves in each of the following areas:

2. Reference books (begin with "I", "J", "K", "L", "M").

Each area will turn to the "leaders" (probably faculty men) who will give the carriers about nine books (depending on size), bag of the colored paper above that stuff and give the colored paper to the student carriers. The carriers then will carry the books and slip from place to place following the student carriers will form lines to fill the new building. Here Mrs. Pearl B. Heath as "color director" will look over each new carrier to the proper area.

The class decided to have a picnic May 25, and will appear at Wald- er, Peggy is a freshman from War- ren and Gale, a sophomore, is from Balcer.

Dick Vandervanden and Loraine Carlson Win

All major student officers have been elected at OCE with the com- pletion of the Associated Men and Associated Women organization elections run off May 29 through May 29. What You Remember" Column Reveals Interesting Answers Among Graduates

As the time nears for the gradu- ation members of the junior and senior classes to leave the campus, they begin to think about the things they have done during their college careers that they will always rem- ember. Many different feelings were expressed by these students leaving the campus when polled on the question they would remember the most.

Many of the outstanding indi- viduals who earned their degrees:

* the friendly attitudes on cam- pus. (This person gave what he thought was a reason for this.) "One can meet a student on campus for the first time and talk with him. This is perhaps because they have something in common, due to the fact that they are both striving toward a common goal.)

* the concern that both stu- dents and faculty, in how you are progressing in your undertakings.

* the breath-taking excitement at the big football game of the year— the high leaping bliss of the homecoming victory, accord- (Continued on Page Four)

The PARTING OF THE WAYS

As seniors prepare to leave our college behind us, we must once again formulate new goals and ideas toward which to strive. Some four years ago we stepped on this campus, the first steps in a four-year process of preparing for entrance into the truly Similar to the college years, we shall forever be students in the ceremonies on Wednesday, June 6.

This past year has seen many activities which have enabled the students to enjoy the time spent at college. There have been troubles as well, but taking everything into consideration, much progress and enjoyment has been achieved this year toward the absorption (we hope) of some of the learning broadcast freely elsewhere. For all of us, regardless of our immediate plans, the next few years will be somewhat crucial.

The situation in the world today does not make for feelings of security. Each one of us will undoubtedly feel the effects of this instability. It is up to us to face these times with steadfastness and determination to assure in the future some type of stability of life, both personally and collectively.

Our faith and determination as individuals may well determine our success in achieving these hopes, ideas, and aspirations.

In Salt Lake City, Utah, there is always a friendly gathering of University of Utah students in the Annex Cafeteria. And, as an university everywhere, ice-cold Coca-Cola helps makes these get-togethers something to remember. As a pause from the study grind, or on a Saturday night date—Coke belongs.

Ask for it either way ... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

The Oregon College Wolves closed their baseball season in sensational fashion as they routed the Clark Junior College Pilots by a 24-2 count in a contest on Tuesday, May 28, played on the Monmouth diamond.

The locals collected 22 base hits and scored two Clark pitchers. Holdeker and Good, and probably the advantage of eight Penguin errors for their team's total. The Wolves did the job by finding them as they scored five runs in the third, nine more in the fourth and six in the sixth.

Bob Punk tucked up the win for OCE, his second of the season. Holdeker took the loss for Clark.

Coach Hunsche and John Robinson provided the history support for the Wolves, tracking out four each.

Letters Recommended For Baseball Players

Two members of this year's varsity baseball club were recommended for letters by Coach Bob Knox. Those were: Jim Bowman, Run Camp; Ralph Corn, John Davis, Darryl Davis, Bob Punk, Chuck Hunsche, Bill Palmquist, Bill Peters, John Robinson, Bob Wilson, and Arnold Stenersen.
