Four-Day Vacation Scheduled for OCE

The thought uppermost in the minds of OCE students at the present time is going home for Thanksgiving vacation. Thanksgiving will begin leaving the campus to go in all four directions toward their respective homes on Wednesday, November 27. Classes are officially over at 5 p.m. and will be resumed Monday morning, December 2. The girls will not be required to sign out with the dean of women, but they are expected to sign the register at the dormitory.

The two-week ends following Thanksgiving; December 16 and December 17, and will be closed, and during the two-week no organization will be held to sponsor social events with the exception of the special Christmas program.

Monday, December 16, classwork for the fall term comes to an end. The final examinations are scheduled to begin Monday January 2, 1947, is the date set for winter term registration.

Leave Bonds To Apply on NSL!

Veterans who wish to assign their insurance to the OCE campus, points out.

Veterans Administration as payment on their National Service or U.S. Government life insurance may now get the necessary instruments forms at any VA office. M. R. Thompson, veterans advisor on the OCE campus, points out.

Terminal leave bonds have been accepted, but the insurance, a payment in insurance premiums for several weeks, and even though this assignment forms had not been received from Washington, D.C.

The bonds may be used as fol-

ows:

1. To pay premiums on insurance already in force.

2. To pay premiums in advance.

3. To pay the amount required when converting term insurance to permanent forms.

4. To repay policy loans made prior to July 31, 1944.

When a bond is used for insurance premiums, it must be assigned, in its entirety. In Mr. Thompson's words, said. Any balance above the property room open during the date

be required to sign out with the dean of women, but they are expected to sign the register at the dormitory.

OREGON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1946

NUMBER 7

Chancellor Guest At Staff Dinner

Dr. Paul C. Parker, our new Chancellor, came to the OCE campus on Friday evening, November 15, at which time he and Mr. Parker were guests of honor at a banquet given by the faculty at Jesse Todd Hall. President C. A. Howard, President G. A. Howard, and Mrs. Dean Walker, and Miss Eleanor Stephens, Head Librarian. The function was attended by Mr. Howard, who then read a short speech during which he mentioned of his philosophy of education.

Chancellor Parker holds degrees from the University of Iowa, the University of Michigan, and Columbia University. During World War II he obtained a leave of absence from his duties as dean of the School of Education in order to engage in directing educational work among our overseas forces.

While occupied with these activities, he served as the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

In 1932 all five of Oregon's public colleges of higher learning were placed under the authority of a single executive, termed a "chancellor." This gave us our "unified system," with one state board of higher education instead of five separate boards of "regents.

Dr. Parker is our third chancellor, the first having been Dr. William Jackson King, who had long held the presidency of Oregeon State College. The retiring chancellor, Dr. Frederick Maurice Hunter, came to us from the University of Denver, and had previously served as principal of the school systems of Lincoln, Nebraska, and of Oakland, California.

Panel Discusses Race Prejudices

Tuesday, November 26, the Interfraternity Council held up to its name in the presentation at assembly of a panel discussion on "Race Prejudices.

In the round-table discussion, the panel members were asked and answered in regard to the prejudices.

During the assembly period, Staff and Key, with the assistance of Fraternity members, and also present in the audience answered in regard to the prejudices.

Announcement has been made that the school of education at the OCE campus has made arrangements to keep the property room open during Thanksgiving vacation and Sunday, 1-3 p.m.; and Friday, 2-4 p.m.

All students who borrowed others' books foraki night are asked to return them during these hours.

Theta Delta Phi met Tuesday evening, November 26, at which time the report of the committee headed by Calvin Martin. No regular meeting was held but it was decided to study the report until the next meeting at which time this report will be taken.

THANKSGIVING—1946

This week will be one of celebration again in which we give thanks for everything God has given us. Perhaps the spirit of this festival has never been expressed more eloquently than in George Washington's Thanksgiving Proclamation in 1783, as quoted below:

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to oblige his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humble and to implore his protection and favor; and whereas our union, and the corporate union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed; we, therefore, as representing the legislature of the United States, do recommend and赋e of a public Thanksgiving and Prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceable to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness."

"Now therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 28th day of November, near at hand, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the Beneficient Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto him our sincere and humble thanks for his kind care and protection of the people of this country, previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies, in which he has been pleased to insert them since their separation; and particularly for the great degree of temporal prosperity, with which the Good Providence has been pleased to favor them for the year past. We therefore, with one heart and voice do ascribe to the Most High all the honor and glory for these unlooked for blessings; and do, as we suppose, properly belong to his wisdom, power and goodness.

Having earlier life that she might enjoy her achievements in the field of science were first unformed. Upon graduation from high school she reached a level of scholarship that enabled her to enter the university.

Her navy career was terminated at San Diego where she receives a discharge paper. A native of Colorado, Joyce came to Oregon about two years ago and has made her home in Tigard. Although she finds Oregon a beautiful state she still likes Colorado better. Her preference is due to the fact that she is very fond of mountain scenery. Joyce finds Colorado mountains and climate more suitable to this elevation.

After graduation from high school and previous to her enlistment in the Navy, Joyce devoted two years as a telephone operator. Because she is planning to be a laboratory technician, her major subject of study was biology and she plans to transfer to another college where she will be able to take a course in this field.

Joyce's interests in the field of sciences were first aroused in high school where she took all the science courses. After graduation from high school she received a medal for her accomplishments in the field of science.

News of Alumni
By S. W. Waldon
If any of you know the whereabouts of any OCE graduates, stop the alumni editor, Wendell Waldon, and he will give you the low-down on the facts pertaining to those persons. Your assistance is needed and appreciated.

Charles Holden teaching at Pennwood school in Portland.

Gordon Earle, '36, is principal at Whistleaker, in Multnomah county. He served as teacher in several classes, including the principalship of the Wilkes school in the same county, which he relinquished this year to return to Whistleaker. His wife, Jean Appleby, '50, is busy helping with their young son.

Jocel Boyce, '46, is spending her second year at Lincoln annex in Eugene, where she is teaching the first grade.

Alvin Wood, '22, who has spent most of his life in the Willamette valley, is teaching at the same location at Waldport where he graduated high school.

Edna Bloom, '46, is teaching English and home economics in the Klamath Falls junior high school.

Hope Sampson, '46, has been awarded the second grade principal in Klamath Falls.

Elaine Stratton, '46, is teaching at Riker this year.

Dr. J. Newbold, '23, is a former geography instructor on the campus, and better known here as Doc Carlisle in Washington, D.C., where he is connected with the census bureau of the U. & P. Department of Commerce. Dr. Carlisle writes that he is busy counting people and things in his new position. He was recently discharged from the navy as a lieutenant commander and is now leading a lovely life from Virginia.

Joe Hall, '31, is now assistant professor of education at the University of California. He spent almost half his time on the campus and the other half traveling throughout California giving supervising extension work and education workshops. Mrs. Hall, (Margaret Greune, '41), is teaching in their home town of Orange, Maine.

Dan Bliss, '33, was on the OCE campus last Monday to discuss the use of the school gymnasia for a high school basketball jamboree of all teams of the Willamette valley and coastal area to be held the week-end of December 14. Dan is principal of the Willamina high school. He states that his coach at the present time is Pete Greich, who finished third in the state.

Marv Kaster, '29, is teaching in the Cottage Grove, Oregon, high school.

Harvey Harris, '27, is still principal of the Willamina grade school, and is doing a splendid job teaching in the Willamina school also.

Another of our former faculty members is Ollie Lindig, who is now located at Chico, California, where he is connected with Chico State college. He teaches music, which includes band, orchestra, and piano as well as regular music classes.

Special Meeting Held by AMS
A special meeting of the associated men students was held Tuesday evening in room 13 of Campbell hall. The meeting consisted of a discussion of a skit to be given at the Christmas ball. Several of the men were discussed and it was decided to have the president name a committee to choose the best arrangements for the skit. Ray Smith was named as chairman with Gail Davis, Hal Lobbeck and Bill Davis, assistants.

Faculty News
Thursday afternoon, November 21, our librarian, Mrs. Dessa Hof­ siler, talked to the Monmouth Social Hour club about recent books. The club met at the home of Mrs. Fieldcup which is in Mrs. Deardorn and Mrs. O. C. Chris­ tensen's modern home.

Miss Ruth Delaney attended a meeting of the Public Nursing, Oregon State Board of Health in Eugene, November 20. The meeting was discussed was routine. Maynard Shiffer, M.D., Di­ rector of the Division of Medial­ and Child Health, Oregon State Board of Health, was the main speaker.

Dr. O. A. Howard and Mr. John Barlow will attend the meeting of the Northwest Association of Sec­ ondary and Higher Education in Eugene, December 5, 6, and 7.

Dr. O. A. Howard will recom­ mend the appointment of Mr. Roy Eleyan Linnell as registrar at OCE at the next meeting of the board of higher education.

Miss Linnell, graduated from Pacific university, cum laude, and completed his graduate work at the University of Oregon. He re­ ceived his commission in the navy in 1945 and attended the radar school at the Coast Guard station in Honolulu. He saw service in the Pacific area. Miss Linnell comes to OCE from Pilot Rock where he was on the high school staff.

IVCF Retreats

The cedar boughs which decor­ ated the walls of the lodge and the crackling fire lent a cheerful note to the informal discussions. An afternoon hike gave a great­ er appreciation of the beauty of the surrounding country. While some enjoyed the long swing and other games on the outdoor equipment, others preferred quieter in­ door games around the fireplace.

Following Sunday's early morn­ ing community service, held at the Willamette church, all gathered at the lodge for breakfast where the rest of the morning's meetings took place.

The people of the Community Church invited the young people to a pot-luck dinner at the church and the afternoon service where reports were given of activities of the Inter-Varsity groups on the different campuses.

Sailor stories, the group again boarded the truck this time minus the guitar. Although it was raining, it did not dampen their spirits. The singing on the way home was an indication of the good time had by all. It is hoped that next time more will take ad­ vantage of the week-end retreat.

Rambling Remarks

Ina Off to McNeilly's
Efficient service and friendly smiles always greet the customers at McNeilly's store. This pleasant atmosphere helps to make the store a favorite of OCEHRs. By the way, have you noticed their beautiful Christmas array?

White Gilere
No more skit practices! That sounds like music to the ears after a week of hustle and worry in preparation for the night event. The talents shown by our eager students amaze us.

Mistaken Identity
The speaker had just finished his greatest climate saying on the immortal words of Daniel Webster, who wrote the dic­ tionary, 'Give me liberty or give me death!' A friend sitting near by pulled at his coat tails and whispered, "Daniel Webster did not write the dictionary—that was Noah!"

"Noah! Nothing of the kind," replied the speaker, "Noah built the ark." I'm sure his voice won't echo through those onlookers' ears.

Wrong Person
It seems that Viola Robbins has changed her name to Miss Josiea Todd Hill! A new member of the football team, he won his flier this season. He also plays on the West house basketball team. This campus individual is a fashion plate of comfort in his past employment.

Interview
Prospective teacher students for next term will be interviewed by Mr. Barlow each week.

Brave Volunteers
One of the English examination questions read as follows: "Correct this sentence: 'Before any damage could be done, the fire was put out by the volunteer fire department.' Hill wrote in answer: 'The fire was put out before any damage could be done by the volunteer fire department.'

Catholic Club
The Newman club for Catholic students has been reorganized on the campus. You don't need a special invitation to attend the club meetings, all are welcome to all!

Modern English
The body was looking for deli­ cateness, "Is that the head cheese over there, dear?" "It looks like a man," replied the clerk, "The nose isn't in."
The Real Thing

by W. B. Stanley, Sports Editor

Fans were given a preview of the OCE hoop squad Monday night when the Wolves met Arnett’s independent five from Albany. Coach Knox used practically all his team to give them needed experience. Bob Abrahamson and Rollie Hamer were probably the outstanding players on the college quint. Abrahamson received an ankle injury early in the second half and was forced to withdraw from the game. The injury, however, is not serious enough to keep him out of action for the big games ahead.

Will this year’s five be able to match the offensive power of last year’s team? No one will know until the Wolves play a few more games. However, your correspondent predicts a marked improvement as the season progresses.

“Curly” Mattison, freshman from Woodburn, showed the fans that he can play a lot of basketball. He played a fine defensive game and scored seven points in his first college contest. Tom Nash showed the fans that he can play a lot of basketball."
