1-27-1856

Letter to John Butler from William Butler

William Butler

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.wou.edu/butlertranscripts

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.wou.edu/butlertranscripts/69

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Butler Family Letters at Digital Commons@WOU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Butler Family Letters (Transcripts) by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@WOU. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@wou.edu.
Warren City, Ky. Jan. 29th 1856

Dear Brother John,

When I wrote to you last I expected to have been there before. This time I also expected to receive articles from you before now but in both I have been disappointed but as I have been somewhat accustomed to disappointments it probably does not go so hard with me as it would with some others. The extreme cold weather is because of my detention so I expect to start just as soon as the river opens so that boats can run which I hope will not be long. The river is now rising and I think will probably burst up the ice so that boats can run though the weather is turning colder now and it may not break up for some time yet.

If you have not written to me yet be sure to write as soon as you get this and it may be that I may be here until your letter will get here.

This leaves all in good health once more.

Yours affectionately,

W.C. Butler
Warren Cty Ky. Jan. 27th 1856

Dear Brother John,

When I wrote to you last I expected to have been there before this time I also expected to receive a letter from you before now but in both I have been disappointed but as I have been somewhat accustomed to disappointments it probably does not go so hard with me as it would with some others the extreme cold weather is the cause of my detention so I expect to start just as soon as the river opens so that boats can run which I hope will not be long the river is now rising and I think will probably burst up the ice so that boats can run though the weather is turning colder now and it may not break up for some time yet. if you have not written to me yet be sure to write as soon as you get this and it may be that I may be here untill your letter will get here

This leavs all in good health once more

Yours affectionately

W.C. Butler